The House
Democrats Want To Sell You A Bill

It is far from our thoughts to try and keep American politics clean; we held a deep and abiding respect for our national institutions that we'd like, more than anything, to put them on a sensible plane.

A Herring?
Report of Jap Revolt Sounds Like a Phony

Look sharp, now. There is every sign of another Japanese amphibious move. There is no need to fear that the enemy fleet will fall upon ours, unsuspecting and far from its bases.

The Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON
INSIDE fact is that the President's "merry-go-round" has been going on since the labor draft proposal.

"I would be the first to know about it," he said. Next day, without a word to McNutt, the President urged Congress to pass a national service act.

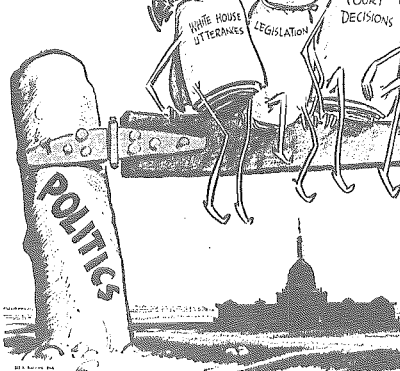

Labor's Record

Before registering a protest at the White House, Murray wrote a letter to Gen. Marshall, saying that he had heard the Army was dissatisfied with labor.

Agency Chiefs Oppose

How sharply the Roosevelt Administration is split regarding labor draft is indicated by a series of backstage meetings held by agency chiefs.
