

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

And Evening Chronicle... Associated Press and AP Features... Subscription Rates...

No Crusade

Governing Italy Is Not A Tea Party... American criticism of the Allied policy in Italy, bitter during the first months of occupation...

Small Fry

Little Nations Must Expect No Major Role... At the moment Secretary Hull was inviting representatives of China, Russia and Britain to meet with Americans for the purpose of building a powerful post-war world order...

As has been said often before, these little nations must expect to take their places at the conference table. They must also expect to bear their share of the burdens of the world...

New Goal

Custodial Care Isn't Enough For Hospitals... Maryland's Dr. George Preston, director of the Charlotte Mental Hygiene Society, indirectly and perhaps inadvertently condemned North Carolina's system of hospitals for the mentally ill...

John's Plea

Dewey's Silence Is Getting His Nerves... John Bricker, who speaks as an innocent bystander, has raised complaints against Tom Dewey's blockade of the United States...

Price Control Old Stuff

and what he could charge for feeding the horse... If that wasn't price control, you'd say it is. This license was issued the sixth of March, 1933...

Pray And Duck, Too

Editors, The News: A lot of people are condemning the Roosevelt Administration for controlling prices, and act as if they thought the war was the first time in history that prices had been controlled...

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dynamic, popular Eric Johnston, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, has been writing the Dewey letter back in his home state of Washington...

Huey Long Bridge American doughboys were coming up to the front in Italy. It was tough going. An artillery barrage was hitting all around them...

Suddenly, according to Sgt. A. A. Edgemoose of No. 4, the company came to a bridge constructed a few days before, by U. S. Engineers. On it was a freshly painted sign...

They attribute this to the almost-forgotten fact that Johnson did run for the Senate in the Republican primaries in 1940 and was snubbed under...

Democratic candidate for Bone's place will be go-getting young Representative Warren Magnuson of Seattle, who will be hard to beat...

Every day the State Department condenses foreign news developments for its officials both at home and abroad. It is one of the fairest and most dependable news commentaries in the world...

On March 16, Senator McKellar told the Senate that George Norris of Nebraska, father of TVA, had favored A. E. Morgan as head of TVA...

At the Governors conference, at Hershey, Pa., Ralph C. Huddleston, director of Pennsylvania's Council of Defense, was assigned to hand down Governor Bricker's Ohio to serve as his aide...

Both President Roosevelt and Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, recently suggested that citizens go to their homes or churches for prayers when the Hitler prayer day is held...

His humor deserted him and he bit down with pen and paper. Those Englishmen who are against Franco, it was almost as if they had been hit by a bolt of lightning...

There is no absolute guarantee that if we do organize an international government we will not have another war, but we shall certainly have an effective way of dealing with war...

There are no people in the world who are posing for this long-drawn-out time exposure in the which he is so busy...

It was as if a brave and stubborn man, declining to be surprised by the military reasons for such relations would exist...

Perhaps Mr. Churchill, with his great persistence in putting on a show, felt that the language of English conciliation of Franco for time in speech in which he reflects his dreadful meanness...

He dealt them the blows he met from the hands of Franco, as if to prove there was vigor in the heavy old arm yet, regardless of what hand his own had recently clasped...

Yet the accommodations with Franco remains ignoble, and Mr. Churchill cannot give it grandeur by adding an irrelevant passion to it, like a second story.

It will reward and punishments, summoning justice, like anger, to his resolute hand, will be the only way of imposing democracy on

Among Her Souvenirs

The Great Suspense

WASHINGTON (AP)—In Europe will be over at the year's end. In any effort at appraisal of the American situation, the eye, you have to take two things into account...

It's crucial to say it but there is apparently no substitute for bombs in Britain during the "phony war" from September of 1939 to May of 1940, people were complacent...

White the surface seems the same down below there are tensions. So many families have relatives or close friends in the war...

Here in Washington, it has been a strange Spring, with the Summer heat and the great Summer business coming on early...

You have the feeling from time to time of suspended animation—of people posing for a photograph in a most unbecoming way...

These people have the idea in their minds that they are not anything but a part of the scene. They want to get back home and get ready John in a stable composure...

With the workers who have been leaving wild West Coast was plans to go back home, the case is somewhat different. War Manpower Commissioner Paul W. McCurt's regional directors were in the other day to report on the seriousness of this situation...

Admiral Ernest J. King, Chief of Naval Operations, in a talk the other day, warned against wishful thinking and any optimism. Above all, he wanted to say that the invasion of Europe would not be, as some people seem to be assuming, a matter of pushing the ball over the goal line from the two-way line...

Editors, The News: A lot of people are condemning the Roosevelt Administration for controlling prices, and act as if they thought the war was the first time in history that prices had been controlled...

Everyday Counselor

BASEBALL Will Face to Pray On Invasion, headlines in an Associated Press dispatch from New York. Major League Baseball will be kept open on D-Day but International League plants will be closed for the day...

Both President Roosevelt and Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, recently suggested that citizens go to their homes or churches for prayers when the Hitler prayer day is held...

His humor deserted him and he bit down with pen and paper. Those Englishmen who are against Franco, it was almost as if they had been hit by a bolt of lightning...

There is no absolute guarantee that if we do organize an international government we will not have another war, but we shall certainly have an effective way of dealing with war...

There are no people in the world who are posing for this long-drawn-out time exposure in the which he is so busy...

It was as if a brave and stubborn man, declining to be surprised by the military reasons for such relations would exist...

Perhaps Mr. Churchill, with his great persistence in putting on a show, felt that the language of English conciliation of Franco for time in speech in which he reflects his dreadful meanness...

He dealt them the blows he met from the hands of Franco, as if to prove there was vigor in the heavy old arm yet, regardless of what hand his own had recently clasped...

Yet the accommodations with Franco remains ignoble, and Mr. Churchill cannot give it grandeur by adding an irrelevant passion to it, like a second story.

It will reward and punishments, summoning justice, like anger, to his resolute hand, will be the only way of imposing democracy on

Editors, The News: A lot of people are condemning the Roosevelt Administration for controlling prices, and act as if they thought the war was the first time in history that prices had been controlled...

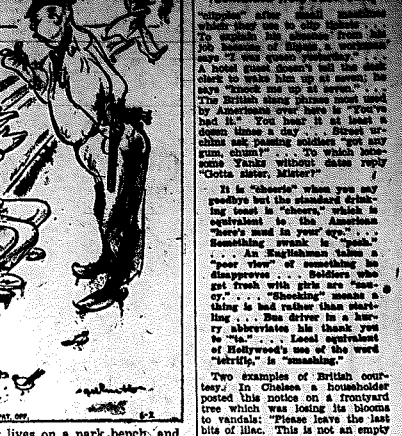

Admiral Ernest J. King, Chief of Naval Operations, in a talk the other day, warned against wishful thinking and any optimism. Above all, he wanted to say that the invasion of Europe would not be, as some people seem to be assuming, a matter of pushing the ball over the goal line from the two-way line...

With the workers who have been leaving wild West Coast was plans to go back home, the case is somewhat different. War Manpower Commissioner Paul W. McCurt's regional directors were in the other day to report on the seriousness of this situation...

Admiral Ernest J. King, Chief of Naval Operations, in a talk the other day, warned against wishful thinking and any optimism. Above all, he wanted to say that the invasion of Europe would not be, as some people seem to be assuming, a matter of pushing the ball over the goal line from the two-way line...

With the workers who have been leaving wild West Coast was plans to go back home, the case is somewhat different. War Manpower Commissioner Paul W. McCurt's regional directors were in the other day to report on the seriousness of this situation...

Admiral Ernest J. King, Chief of Naval Operations, in a talk the other day, warned against wishful thinking and any optimism. Above all, he wanted to say that the invasion of Europe would not be, as some people seem to be assuming, a matter of pushing the ball over the goal line from the two-way line...

"Barney Baruch practically lives on a park bench; and you won't let us sit on one for five minutes!"

Hull Hands Not Free

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Hull will go into further negotiations with other countries with clear notification that he will undertake with representatives of Great Britain, Russia, China and other United Nations, he had not committed himself to any security plan...

La Follette said a reporter that while he had no objections to the informal talks which Hull has said he will undertake with representatives of Great Britain, Russia, China and other United Nations, he had not committed himself to any security plan...

There is no absolute guarantee that if we do organize an international government we will not have another war, but we shall certainly have an effective way of dealing with war...

There are no people in the world who are posing for this long-drawn-out time exposure in the which he is so busy...

It was as if a brave and stubborn man, declining to be surprised by the military reasons for such relations would exist...

Perhaps Mr. Churchill, with his great persistence in putting on a show, felt that the language of English conciliation of Franco for time in speech in which he reflects his dreadful meanness...

He dealt them the blows he met from the hands of Franco, as if to prove there was vigor in the heavy old arm yet, regardless of what hand his own had recently clasped...

Yet the accommodations with Franco remains ignoble, and Mr. Churchill cannot give it grandeur by adding an irrelevant passion to it, like a second story.

It will reward and punishments, summoning justice, like anger, to his resolute hand, will be the only way of imposing democracy on

Editors, The News: A lot of people are condemning the Roosevelt Administration for controlling prices, and act as if they thought the war was the first time in history that prices had been controlled...

Admiral Ernest J. King, Chief of Naval Operations, in a talk the other day, warned against wishful thinking and any optimism. Above all, he wanted to say that the invasion of Europe would not be, as some people seem to be assuming, a matter of pushing the ball over the goal line from the two-way line...

With the workers who have been leaving wild West Coast was plans to go back home, the case is somewhat different. War Manpower Commissioner Paul W. McCurt's regional directors were in the other day to report on the seriousness of this situation...

Admiral Ernest J. King, Chief of Naval Operations, in a talk the other day, warned against wishful thinking and any optimism. Above all, he wanted to say that the invasion of Europe would not be, as some people seem to be assuming, a matter of pushing the ball over the goal line from the two-way line...

With the workers who have been leaving wild West Coast was plans to go back home, the case is somewhat different. War Manpower Commissioner Paul W. McCurt's regional directors were in the other day to report on the seriousness of this situation...

Admiral Ernest J. King, Chief of Naval Operations, in a talk the other day, warned against wishful thinking and any optimism. Above all, he wanted to say that the invasion of Europe would not be, as some people seem to be assuming, a matter of pushing the ball over the goal line from the two-way line...

With the workers who have been leaving wild West Coast was plans to go back home, the case is somewhat different. War Manpower Commissioner Paul W. McCurt's regional directors were in the other day to report on the seriousness of this situation...

Admiral Ernest J. King, Chief of Naval Operations, in a talk the other day, warned against wishful thinking and any optimism. Above all, he wanted to say that the invasion of Europe would not be, as some people seem to be assuming, a matter of pushing the ball over the goal line from the two-way line...

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By Lichty

"Well, they're your relatives and you asked for it—all spring you've been talking about invasion, invasion!"