SECRETARIAL

The demand for private secretaries is far greater than the supply, and we have difficulty in filling the requests which we receive for graduates of our Secretarial Course. Business, industry, and Government need capable handling of correspondence in order to play their part in the war effort, Here is where high school graduates, college women, former office employees, married women, and young men not as yet called up for military service, can serve best during this national emergency.

ACCOUNTING and FINANCE

Accounting is undoubtedly the most rapidly growing profession in the business field. Students trained here in Accounting and Finance usually start as bookkeepers, assistants to executives and soon are on their way to assuming the respon-sible, yet pleasant, duties of office manager, purchasing agents, credit managers, sales managers, auditors, and other top executive posts in the higher-pay brackets.
