We feel strongly that Tom Devey of the is to make a real bible of the pressive campaign; constant attack is indicated. Mr. Devey of pened in that fashion last night, but we have a hunch that he did himself little good in his manner of all Republic speeches that he did himself little good in his manner of attack. He was not content to repeat the familiar theme of all Republic speeches that he did himself little good in his manner of as a matter of fart, Louis Bromfield was using almost the same words at the name time in Louisville*. He gave way to the tampitation to attempt to create wide disastisfaction in the Army.

It was in the campaign of the condition of this war, lest it reveal its indequacies to deal with the namisfering feared that Mr. Roosevelt as head of this war, lest it reveal its indequacies to deal with the namisfering feared the must dequacies to deal with the namisfering feared the must deput the same to deal with the namisfering feared the must deput the same porty timed, commissing manager and record that was poorly timed, commiss as it did not the head of this war, lest it reveal its indeputes to deal with the namisfering feared that Mr. Roosevelt was afraid to must deput the same of plants of the proposed of this war, lest it reveal its indeputes to deal with the namisfering feared that Mr. Roosevelt was afraid to must deput the proposed of this war, lest it reveal its indeputes to deal with the namisfering manager and the proposed of the proposed of the must deput the proposed of the pro

Republican persuasion — and would fisht on the heaches, in a causing anxiety among many others.

At any rate, this charge was poorly timed, coming as as a subject on the heals of the announced plan of demonbilization which will go into effect with the defeat of Germany. In the derivation of the partial peal of the first head of that it must sensible plan for return to partial peal for ferum to partial peal for ferum to partial peaching the economy. Mr. Dewy's charge seems pretty foolish. And the arthory of the speech, wheever he arthor of the speech, wheever he might be, left room for the suspicion that Republicans are putting their politics ahead of the winning of this war.

Mr. Dewy's general criticism of the Roosevelt Administration, of course, has some basis, and will find wide acceptance. But Its manner, we believe, reflects no greater political wisdom than some unfortunate Republican utterance of the past, We had expected more of Mr. Dewy and the trian knowing that the end in light, and the proposed of the country will have no different in the capture of the leaves of the past, we had the proposed of the country will have no difficulty in recognizing the fact.

Mr. Dewey spoke too often in light passion, and too little in large and the proposed of the country will have no difficulty in recognizing the fact.

Mr. Dewey spoke too often in the first beacon of coming observed the proposed of the country will have no difficulty in recognizing the fact.

Mr. Dewey, spoke too often in the first beacon of coming observed the proposed of the country will have no difficulty in recognizing the fact.

Mr. Dewey, and the proposed of the country will have no difficulty in recognizing the fact.

Mr. Dewey, and the passion when the same of the passion will be proposed the country will be proposed to the country will be proposed to the cou Mr. Dewey spoke too often in high passion, and too little in terms of his earnest hopes for the future.
