HORROR OF BATTLE

Today, more than a week after the capitulation at Berlin, I was able to see something of the horror of the greatest street-to-street and house-to-house battle since Stalingrad.

The Tirogarte in Berlin's Central Park was held through days of desperate fighting by SS troops. Before 1941, I used to stroll through it on Summer evenings. It was probably one of the most beautiful parks in any capital city in the world. Today, the look of the Argonne or Belleau Wood or Pashendale, its fine trees have been swept bare of leaves, by a two-long tornado of shellfire, and broken branches litter the ground everywhere. The ground is smoke-blackened and torn by deep trenches and anti-tank ditches.

Councilmen Have Party

It was a catfish stew and everybody — Incoming Councilmen, outgoing Councilmen, municipal department heads and a few other invited guests — had a swell time at the Red Fish Club, on the Annapolis River last night.

Credit also will be given for the following naval decorations to Army personnel: Navy Cross, Legion of Merit, Silver Star Medal, Distinguished Service Medal, Distinguished Flying Cross, Navy and Marine Medal, Purple Heart Medal, Air Medal and Bronze Star Medal.

The Department said the method for releasing officers will be "tougher than the plan for enlisted personnel primarily because officers have heavier responsibilities and have developed special skills and leadership capacity."
Therefore, the Department said, enlisted personnel will be released on the basis of a single factor which will be secondary to the prime requirement of military necessity.

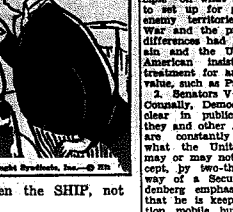

The Department said enlisted men with the highest point totals will become eligible for release first. It will accept where considerations of military necessity make it impossible to let them go. This exception applies particularly to the war against Japan and to men in units that will have to operate in the Pacific to avert that opportunity is provided for replacing men with high scores as they reach the new theater.

Because of the special requirements of the war against Japan the strength of the Army service forces and air forces will be reduced much less than the strength of ground forces.
"As a result," the initial rate of release will be more rapid among ground forces than among service forces," the Department said.

"However, through transfers of some low-score forces and new trainees, a proportionate share of them will be released. However, three forces as rapidly as practicable."
TO RECEPTION STATIONS
When soldiers who are surplus overseas arrive in this country they will proceed from ports to one of the 22 reception stations. At these reception stations soldiers having the required scores will be treated once more to determine whether they are essential.
Those found non-essential will be transferred immediately to a processing center for processing prior to release.
This processing will take only about 48 hours, after which the soldier will be on his way home as a civilian.
The Department said its demobilization plan will not affect the continued release of enlisted men over 42 years of age, which was started recently. Honorary members of the medal of honor also are eligible for release upon request.

Chinch Bug Powder Comes
Twenty-five tons of dinitro, a powder used in combating the chinch bug, have arrived here about half the amount will be distributed in this area and the remainder sent on to other sections suffering from infestation.

This was disclosed today by W. D. Reynolds, Mecklenburg County farm agent.
Chinch bug infestation has made serious inroads into the grain crop in the county this season. Generally, the insect continues his activity so long as agricultural experts say that this year it has been trying its best on wheat and other small grains.

The dinitro is furnished by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.
