CITY STRAINING AT LEASH FOR V-J DAY

Judge Parker's Chance For High Court Called 'Good'

Government Official Quoted

Says Four Men Considered

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, N.C., has "a good chance" of appointment to the vacancy on the Supreme Court, a high official of the Justice Department said today.

Parker is senior judge of the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court and a graduate of the University of North Carolina. Resolutions were received in Washington today from the Mecklenburg County Bar Association naming Parker as "distinguished in service for two decades."

Parker was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1930 by President Hoover, but the Senate rejected his nomination after labor and Negro organizations voted opposition.

Parker, if appointed, would replace Justice Owen J. Roberts who retired recently.

Several prominent North Carolina lawyers took part in supporting Truman's original Parker nomination. A Republican, Parker has been recommended to Sen. Carl B. Hanes, of Lancaster.

The Justice Department's official list of men now being considered for the Supreme Court place and recommendations to the President will be made before Congress convenes Sept. 4.

Atlanta Journal Has Article On Judge Parker

The Atlanta Journal has added its voice to that of the North Carolina press in support of the nomination of Charlotte's Judge John J. Parker to the U.S. Supreme Court.

A four-column story on Judge Parker and his achievements appeared in Sunday's edition of The Journal. It was written by Dateline reporter Frank S. Cole who also came to Charlotte to gather information about Judge Parker.

Stating that the name of Judge Parker is the most prominent mentioned throughout the United States Supreme Court, Mr. Cole concluded:

EIGHTY-ONE WRONG

The feeling hereabouts is that President Truman can pick a different man than he has been naming, Judge Parker to succeed retired Justice Owen J. Roberts who was nominated by President Hoover in 1930. After the death of Justice E. F. Tamm, of Justice Roberts was confirmed by the Senate, and Senator H. R. Hurt of North Carolina has introduced a bill to add another Supreme Court justice.

"It will be a long time before we will be selected from the armed services, enabling them to return to forests where they will be posted to public health administration," Judge Parker, an associate of the late President Coolidge, told the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mr. Stoddard said a joint confirmation of Judge Parker would be completed as soon as the Senate is seated for a number of weeks. He said there is a strong nomination and it is expected speedily, since some of those who fought the confirmation after they had done Judge Parker said today.

V-J Jitters

National Carbon Co. Declares Holiday

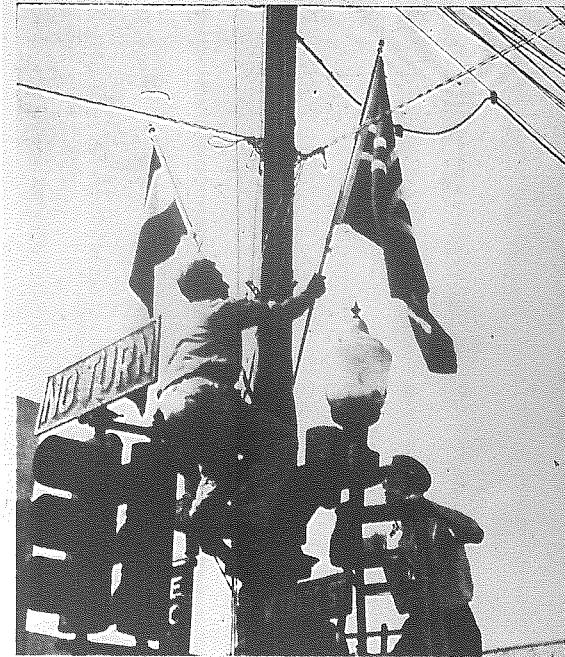

Operations at the National Carbon plant here engaged in the manufacture of batteries for the military services, were suspended at 5 p.m. today when the employees became excited over reports that the Japanese Government had decided to accept the terms of the final unconditional surrender demands.

During parts of the morning groups of the young women employees of the Carbon plant, paraded around the independence grounds, shouting, "Victory, Victory." Still wearing their blue uniforms, they easily were identified among the crowds of people who had gathered to hasten about their business. Other signs of much excitement.

The day shift of employees was scheduled to go on, as the job was to be done, and the plant remained closed until the end of the day.

Charlotte Makes Ready For V-J Day Celebration

SET TO CELEBRATE—These five lassies made preparations early this morning to be ready for the big, informal peace parade that is bound to come with the official announcement of peace. The five, who are (l. to r.) Helen Woolde, Carene Smith, Mary Woodie, Lalah Neice and Evelyn McCoy, decked out "Flutibelle," their car, and purchased flags and noise makers. They were waiting impatiently, ready to let go with a super-duper charge of pent-up excitement. (News Staff Photo)

Essential As Ever

Need For Waste Paper Unchanged

Protests that V-J Day is but a reminder to the Junior Chamber of Commerce that the need for waste paper would not lessen immediately. The Junior Chamber urged redoubtless of waste paper and ray saving efforts for the approaching year.

Murder Case Is Reopened

McKenzie County Superior Court was re-enacted today in trying Paul Swartwout, Negro on a charge of murder growing out of a nineteen-year-old shooting.

The State's attorney and killed G. M. McNeil at Swartwout's home on the Clint Black farm just below Mint Hill on July 3, 1926.

He was determined to try in February, 1941, but the hearing ended in a mistrial when the jury was unable to get together on a verdict.

The day got the case about 28 months before the court recessed for lunch.

Henry E. Fisher represented the defendant and John C. Harmer prosecuted the case for the State.

Judge H. Hale Sink sentenced Clinton Hudson to two years on the roads where he pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

And with leave was taken in the case of Jamie Mae Springs, accused of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

No official order for permanent suspension of production or for a reduction in output has been received from the military authorities, was understood. However, the management of the plant that production cannot be resumed until the employees exhaust their three-year contract, and that would make production almost impossible.
