THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1946

Give Thanks Unto The Lord

WE BELIVE," says The Stenly Ness We Pries, "that if an actual study were made of the American people it would be found that the great majority of them are not in a thankful frame of mind." A text, surely, for Thanksgiring in the year of Our Lord, 1948.

We pitch our thankfulness always on comparative level. They had a hard Window of the American people it would be spring and the state of the American people it would be spring and the spring more than a fine that if the season pout the colony thankfulness and the weather was kind, but the memory of starvation was still fresh and urgent when they came to end of that first great harvest season. "Although it be not always so plentiful," one of the Pilgrims wrote back to England, "yet by the goodnesse of God we are so farre from want that we often wish you partakers of our plenty."

the goodnesse of God we are so farre from want that we often wish you partakers of our plenty.

We carry on the tradition, but, as The Nesse & Press notes, the thankfulness, and the note of generosity, are somehow missing. Yet we too have come through a perilous time and arrived in the midst of

The High Cost Of Politicking

The High Cost Of Politicking

EVEN though (315) Council has finally arrived, by its own peculiar methods, at what it fondly believes to be a "final" decision on the location of the propose cross-town boulevard there is no reason to believe that the matter is closed. The two agencies that thrist offer the boulevard there is no reason to believe that the matter is closed. The two agencies that thrist offer the boulevard there is no reason to believe that the matter is closed. The two agencies that thrist offer the boulevard there is no reason to believe that the matter is closed. The two agencies that thrist offer the boulevard there is no reason to believe that the matter is closed. The two agencies that the motal time the properties of the council in a travel ed cross-the map Tuesday afternoon can hardly be talled reasonable under any definition.

The very process by which the Council arrived at its decision is the route's own worst re c o m m e n d a tion. After protest against the original proposal began to take shape, the Fathers — with the notable exception of Councilman John P. White who alone stuck with the experts until the bitter end — began a hasty retreat. But each alternate proposal also argued coposaltion, and the retreat became a rout. When the Council finally reached a compromise it had turned its back on every sound engineering consideration, had moved the boulevard completely across town and changed to direction. After the council finally reached a compromise it had turned its back on every sound engineering consideration, had moved the boulevard owner of the council finally reached a compromise it had turned its back on every sound engineering consideration, had moved the boulevard completely across town and changed to direction of the council finally reached a compromise it had turned its back on the council finally reached a compromise it had turned its back on the council finally reached a compromise it had turned its back of the council finally reached a compromise it had turned its back of

Virginia's Flexible Statutes

IN a sort of footnote to the Federal Court action against John L. Lewis, the Commonwealth of Virginia has dispatched a process-error of its own to hamm the Lewis residence in Aiexandria, Specifically, Virginia is charging the great John L. with violation of its "blue sales" securities law, interpreting the "selling of memberships in the United Mine workers" as the selling of securities.

in the United Mine Workers" as the seuing of securities.

In support of this action, brought by the Corporation Commission, Governor Tuck has thundered: "Virginia will support any civil or criminal action designed to curistiff the power of John L. Levis." This, doubtless, drew load applause from the citizens of the Commonwealth, but, in view of the nature of this action, it strikes us a highly unbecoming statement to come from any Governor more responsible than, say. Eugen Talmadge.

rom any Governor more responsible than, say, Eugene Talmadge.

For it is obvious at a glance that the legal action being brought against Lewis is a trumped-up charge. Every Eik, Mason, and Legionnaire in Virginia, as well as un-offending labor union officials, would be subject to prosecution if membership in an organization were legally defined as a share of stdck.

Another Voice

This is not the first time an impetuous administration in Virginia has sought to bend an existing statute into prettel shape in order to take legal action against a labor union. In a recent power strike there was serious talk of employing the State militia act to call all the strikers into military service and order them back to their posts.

their posts.

The necessity for curbing John L. Lewbi's power is obvious, certainly. If present laws are not adequate to protect the public interest, then new laws should be passed. But it seress no good purpose to make a traveity of the whole judicial system in an effort to vern a towering official rage against the great John L. Virginia, of all states, should be old enough to know better.

New Low In Press Agentry

NEOTAR as the matter is regulated by statute, it seems to be entirely lawful for anybody who has a wetath to summon photographers and lay the wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery. The matter of motive is not, ordinatily, subject to question, the natural assumption being that the procedure artses symbolized by the drawful to the thing symbolized by the drawful to the thing symbolized by the drawful of the procedure artses symbolized by the drawful or the thing pens svery day in the year, but on Armittee Day the President of the United States, on behalf of all the people lays the wreath.

and Navy Union" is and what it has, or may have, to do with the treatment of a fearful disease, if anything, is not clear. It is even dublous.

His even dublous.

What does appear to be clear however, manifering subject to further than the commentary. The matter of motive is not, marring, subject to depetion, the natural matter and the procedure arises and the subject that the procedure arises and the subject that the procedure arises are the subject to the further than the procedure arises are the subject to the further arises are the further than the further arises are th

Editors, THE NEWS

Co-Eds At WCUNC?

Dreams

Marquis Childs

Those Plymouth Reds

VIOU will find this hand to be live but to content and retend much live but communium raised its usty head even in the Fyrmouth settlement, bed in 1623. The settlement is also in 1624. The settlement is about it in that remarkable hund; as the Fall were of its stream of comment which is the listery of the settlement is about it in that remarkable hundred and comment which is the listery of the settlement in the stern New England shore.

It was naturally not an ideologity of survival in an alien land. The stern New England shore.

But that did not work very well, and the settlement is the families.

But that did not work very well, and the stern New England shore was the settlement in the families.

But that did not work very well, and the settlement is the stern live in fact, no general want the settlement of the settlement is the settlement of the settlement in the settlement is the settlement of t

Samuel Grafton

Labor Fundamentals

Drew Pearson's: Truman Eats Boston Bird; Drew Eats Crow Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON
THE President's Thanksgiving dinner will have Dries accent as far as the main course is covered. The White House turkey is a present from Wilton E. Hall, Anderons, S. C., publisher, who served as 1948 short-term colleague of Harry Truman in the Senate.
The turkey is a 35-pound bronze, broad-breasted gobbler rained for the Presidential table on Hall's farm near Andertain, have it all over corn and other turkey feeds an aniatial, have it all over corn and other turkey feeds.
The presentation was made to Truman a day or two before Thanksgiving by Senator Olin Johnston of South Carolina and his secretaries, Roy A. Powell and Baxter Punderburk. But the festive bird, already dressed and packed in dry loe, preceded them to the While House.
"We couldn't wast to great the second of the control of the present the grained Truman." We couldn't wast to generally a seen it, "grained Truman." We couldn't sistant to take the turkey down to the whole storage room.

"And be sure to handle that bird carefully," he cautioned, as an afterthought.

(Note: The following AP dispatch was received after Drew Pearsen's column anneancing that President Trans and westle eat a South Carolina turkey today:

"WARHINGTON—OP—President and Mrs. Truman and early properties of the USA. President Roosevell's south of the Committee of the USA. President Roosevell's south of the Committee of the USA. President Roosevell's south of the Committee of the USA. President Roosevell's real by Beetin newbory who contributed their pennies and roles is buy the ford. What ready for the carving kulfe, the bird will weight with the committee of the USA. President Roosevell's real by the ford of the Committee of the USA. President Roosevell's real by the ford of the USA president Roosevell's real by the ford of the USA. President Roosevell's real by the ford of the USA. President Roosevell's real by the ford of the USA. President Roosevell's real by the ford of the USA. President Roosevell's real by the ford of the USA president Roosevell's real by the ford of the USA president Roosevell's real by the USA president Roosevell's real by the USA. President Roosevell's real by the USA. President Roosevell's real by the USA. President Roosevell's real by the ford of the USA. President Roosevell's real by the USA. President Roo Home was no day on which to give thanks. It was a day on which to give thanks. It was a day on which to give thanks. It was a day on which to give thanks. It was a day on which to give thanks. It was a day on which to give thanks. It was a day on which to give thanks. It was a day on which to give thanks. It was a day on which to give thanks it was a day on which to give thanks. It was a day of ready to welcome the lame duck Congress. "Welcomes the almost the color thanks the discovery was not the appropriate word. Returning to Wash-ington at the discovery was not the suscept was not give the same of give ready to welcome the lame duck Congress. "Welcomes the lame duck Congress." "Welcomes the lame duck Congress. "Welcomes the lame duck Congress." "Welcom across Thanksgiving Day in the Nation's Capital.

Margaret's Opera Studies

PEPORE she left Independence, Mo., early in November Margaret Truman had not decided whether to make her opera debut this season or continue studying for another

One thing is certain, however. Miss Truman is deterned to make good on her own merits.
For seven long years she has studied, under the name Margaret Wallace. Her instructor has been Mrs. Maret Armstrong Strickler of Kansao Gily, a former star with Nice Opera Oo. (Mrs. Strickler's husband, T. J. Strickler, ince-president and general manager of the Kansas City