Sen. McCarran Taken To Task For His Stand On Tidelands Oil Issue

By HAROLD ICKES (Former Secretary of the Interior)
It is easy to understand the intense feeling of Senator Pat McCarran in attempting to grab more and more of the public domain for the cattle-ranching constituents or in continuing to push for an unconscionable price for silver, but it is not so easy to understand the reasons for his attitude in trying to push through the Senate the "tidelands bill" of the oil interests that would confirm title to the tidelands lying off of the shores of California in the Standard Oil Co. of that state and others.

RUSHED THROUGH HOUSE
Senator McCarran is a leading member of the "tidelands bill" in support of which so much money has been expended. The House passed the bill without even taking time to call the subcommittee into order. Then an annoying Secretary of the Interior, on official record called the bill "the Honorable Pat" that would like to be heard by the House.
