

Second Week Winners In Snapshot Contest

FIRST PRIZE—Here's the church and here's the steeple which, when caught by the camera of James H. Gabriel of Charlotte, was framed in the winning purple. This artistic study was awarded the second week top-honor niche in the Charlotte News Amateur Snapshot Contest.

Charlotteans Are Winners

By TOM SCHLESINGER Charlotte News Staff Writer Two amateur cameramen from Charlotte yesterday captured a field of twenty 700 entries to take first prize in the second week of the seven-week Charlotte News Amateur Snapshot Contest.

First prize of $5 was awarded to James H. Gabriel of 1044 Tryon St. for a thoughtfully composed still life study of a church spire, tree, fence and foreground, which skillfully blended into a pleasant scene.

Runner-up award of $2.50 went to W. J. Stolp of 1626 Pavilion View, for his candid Class A portrait of bounding baby, Oliver, whose expression, and character of mood were the qualities upon which this category was judged.

In the two weeks of The News competition, 40 individuals have submitted a total of 860 snapshots. Five weeks more of cash prizes and well as amateur photographs in the 24-county Charlotte leading area before the contest closes on Aug. 29. Winners of the weekly awards will be judged on the basis of artistic merit, originality and technical skill.

These four winners will be entered in the Newspaper Photo Snapshot Awards, where 187 prizes totaling $10,000 will be awarded, including a trip to Europe.

Snapshot fans need only to familiarize themselves with the contest rules printed on page 7 of today's News and then submit their prized work of 1947 in return. Cash prizes will be given with emphasis on human interest rather than photographic technique.

Follows Plan Offered By Commission

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A House Armed Services Subcommittee today approved the universal military training bill following closely the plan advocated by President Truman's special commission.

The committee is headed by Rep. Tom Pendergast, New Jersey. The action is subject to review by the full Armed Services Committee at a meeting next Tuesday.

Subcommittee members reported the bill as seven for the bill, one against, it not voting and one absent. The full 33-member committee reportedly is top-heavy in favor of the bill, although House Republicans said it will not be acted on by this session of Congress.

The bill approved by the Subcommittee calls for the first year of basic training for qualified male youths between their 18th and 20th birthdays, followed by six months of membership in an ROTC, national guard, or other reserve component. A youth would be allowed to have his induction deferred until he becomes 20, completes his high school education.

The bill provides for dependent allowances of $60 monthly for dependent and $95 for two or more. The training program would be personal worth, the continued education of a young man in a vocational or technical field, or in a business or industry.

The Army, the Navy and the President have endorsed the legislation as necessary for national security. Veterans groups also have supported it, but charge that the bill would force young men into military service except in cases of national emergency.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee today approved the nomination of Kenneth C. Royall as Secretary of War. Royall was named by President Truman yesterday to take the place of Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, who resigned.

Patterson Resigns Committee Okays Royall For Secretary Of War

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee today approved the nomination of Kenneth C. Royall to be Secretary of War. Royall was named by President Truman yesterday to take the place of Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, who resigned.

Patterson, satisfied that his fight to unify the armed forces is won, will leave his Cabinet post next Thursday and return to private law practice in New York after seven years of service in the War Department.

His successor, Royall, is a North Carolina, a veteran of both World Wars and a former brigadier general. As the new War's successor, President Truman has nominated Undersecretary Kenneth C. Royall of North Carolina, a veteran of both World Wars and a former brigadier general.

The shift left Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal as the only wartime Cabinet member still in the Government service. This aroused new speculation that Forrestal might become head of the Army, Navy and Air Forces as the issue left up to voters.

Tax Bill Dead As Senate Sustains Truman's Veto

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Failure of the Senate to override President Truman's veto of the GOP tax-cutting bill tossed the issue into the 1948 political campaign today. Both sides expressed willingness to let the voters decide who was right.

Prospects for tax reductions at this session of Congress died last night when the House failed to pass the bill. The bill had 57 Senate votes against 36 supporters of the bill.

Senate Action Vote More Money For Yet Students

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate passed today legislation to increase living allowances to veterans attending school under the GI Bill of Rights. It now goes to the House.

House Sends Measure On After Only Hour's Talk

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Spurred by alarm over strife in Greece and a widening split between Russia and the Western powers, the House today along to the Senate shoddy a $1,605,199,954 appropriations measure carrying $1,355,024,900 to finance this nation's foreign policy.

House passage came last night by a vote of 319-100. The measure, which would authorize the President to spend $1,355,024,900 for the fiscal year 1948, was passed after only one hour of debate.

Assurance that such a ban is intended came from Chairman Truman, Republican, New York, of the House Appropriations Committee, speaking against the background of testimony from high ranking Army and diplomatic officials.

The House said it will be sent to the committee. It will be sent to the committee. It will be sent to the committee. It will be sent to the committee.

Blue Ridge Session Industrial Meet Termed Success

By TOM LYNCH Charlotte News Staff Writer BLUE RIDGE—Heartened by a definite feeling of having accomplished something, an estimated 800 representatives of Southern industrial management were packing their bags here today and preparing to put the finishing touches on what has been termed "the most successful and the largest" session in the 28-year history of the Southern Conference on Human Relations in Industry.

Most of the delegates were leaving with a determination to return to their managerial responsibilities and do something to improve the morale and productivity of their employees. However, some pessimistic sources were speculating that the lessons learned here would soon be forgotten, and management would slip right back into its old ways.

The delegates to the conference have been talking to management specialists on just about every phase of employer-employee relations. They have been discussing displays of all types of industrial literature such as job evaluation, employee benefit plans, and annual reports to employees, and employees have talked over and over again, privately with each other and have formed many valuable ideas and improvements.

Dr. George D. Heaton, pastor of the Myers Park Baptist Church of Charlotte, delivered the concluding address of the session this morning. Dr. Heaton challenged industrial management to devise a new system of industrial relations which would be based on a new alternative to unionism.

Hero Loses Camera

CHICAGO—(AP)—Walter Troy, 40-year-old city veteran, hailed for his heroic rescue of a three-year-old boy from a chutes at a beach at Brookfield Zoo, was looking for his pre-war camera today.

Troy handed his $7 camera to a stranger who had a four-foot lens to take the picture of Troy. Troy was rescued by a 200-pound bear Wednesday after he went to the bars of his cage to feed some popcorn. The bear held the boy against the bars with its paw and took the neck of his boy in its teeth.
