Free Press Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall contended today in a newspaper web-statement that we must see "that the barriers to the flow of information are reduced and as far as possible eliminated."

It is essential to the world peace we seek, Marshall contended. Denied access to the facts, people "Americans should keep constant in mind that no people have lost their liberties so long as their press remains free."

He described "freedom of the people to know the truth" as fundamental. "It is of the world's population lives under some form of censorship today," the statement said.

"Censorship and press control are the first and most important steps in the subjugation of the people by a dictator."

Boys Back From Jaunt

Bobby Ferguson and Jimmy Martin, Charlotte News newspaperboys, were back in the city today with the memories of an eventful trip to Raleigh still fresh in their minds. The boys left here Thursday afternoon, accompanied by Ivan Parker, News circulation department official. They joined 54 other newspaperboys from North Carolina newspapers in a tour of Raleigh as part of the observance of National Newspaperboy Day, celebrated in Raleigh yesterday.

The boys met Gov. E. Gregg Cherry, visited State College and the Central Prison and were taken for a trip over Capitol Square where the State's newspaper offices are located. Yesterday they heard an address by Carl C. Connel, publisher of the Durham Herald-Sun Papers.

"You have received excellent business training," Mr. Connel said to the newspaperboys, "and even if you had paid for the privilege it would have been a bargain."

Mr. Connel spoke at a dinner given the newspaperboys in the Sir Walter Hotel, at which he pointed out that they were learning not only the fundamentals of business but the value of money, the importance of service and the desirability of contacts. Mr. Connel named several leaders in business and politics who were newspaperboys in their youth. He emphasized the fact that law enforcement officials and jurists repeatedly stress that their occupation is a positive deterrent to juvenile delinquency.

Just Begun To Fight, Truman Says Ends Cross-U.S. Campaign Tour

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Truman crossed up his nineteenth-state, cross-continent campaign tour today by telling a crowd gathered to welcome him at Washington's Union Station: "I have just begun to fight."

Republicans in Mr. Truman's home state of Missouri rolled out the welcome mat for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the GOP Presidential candidate. Dewey campaigned there as he swung back eastward toward New York.

Both major party candidates went as far as the Pacific Coast in their drive for votes. Mr. Truman's 17-car special train pulled into Washington at 10:30 A. M. (EST), ending an 8,000-mile trip in which he made about 140 speeches. The President estimated he saw more than 2,000,000 people. They joined 54 other newspaperboys from North Carolina newspapers in a tour of Raleigh as part of the observance of National Newspaperboy Day, celebrated in Raleigh yesterday.

The GOP campaign theme was "unity," and Mr. Truman told voters in Charleston, W. Va., that an "achieve unity" in the Republican sense was electing a GOP president and Congress who, he said, would lead the nation toward another depression.

Dewey, speaking in Cheyenne, Wyo., said he would support the Administration as he stressed his unity-for-peace theme. Not Now, But Later Canadian Doubts Reds Have Bomb Control Plan

By PHILIP CLARK
PARIS (AP)—Gen. A. G. McNaughton of Canada said, "There is no precise indication Russia has the atomic bomb yet—but they will have one day."

The Canadian United Nations delegate, director of two World Wars, described Andrei V. Vishinsky's Friday statement that the United States has no monopoly on the bomb as "thoroughly dishonest."

"They are trying to make the Western world hysterical and spread alarm and despondency," he said in an interview. "But we will not be hysterical. WORKING FOR BOMB
We know the Russians are working tooth and nail to develop the atomic bomb. That they will have it soon, we don't doubt."

"We doubt, from all our military and scientific intelligence, that Russia has the bomb at present. And I don't read in Vishinsky's threat a precise indication that they have it."

McNaughton said, "We will have a little time, possibly had a decade" in which to establish world control of atomic energy. He said if control plan materializes by then the world is in far real hysteria. The Canadian delegate said Vishinsky's statement hinting that Russia might have the bomb emphasizes the importance and urgency of getting on toward atomic control. He added that atomic control would act to solve the necessary control over biological warfare and other means of mass destruction. McNaughton termed Vishinsky's proposal of today for simultaneous control and a ban on the bomb as "a very naive and naive proposal."

Russians Also Urge Control Plan For Energy

PARIS (AP)—Russia formally proposed today a simultaneous ban on the atom bomb and formation of an international atomic energy control organization.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian delegate, told the Western powers, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky proposed that the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission and the Security Council draft two conventions prohibiting atomic weapons and setting up control over atomic energy to be signed and put into force at the same time.

The Russians previously had demanded that the atom bomb be banned before the control body was formed. American R. Austin, United States delegate, told reporters a short time later the Russian position was an "Oriental maneuver of the type with which we are familiar."

He said the United States wants to know why the atom bomb is placed in the majority of the commission—which call for international control of atomic energy and the prohibition of atomic weapons. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian delegate, told reporters the Russian proposal was a surreptitious attempt to bring about the implementation of the atom bomb.
