

Livest
Newspaper
In The Carolinas

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

Largest Afternoon Newspaper in The Carolinas

★★★★★
Final

ESTABLISHED DEC. 8, 1888

CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 1949

28 Pages—Price Five Cents

U. S. SUMMER CIRCLES GULE Senate Committee Kills Army Liquor Vote Bill

Dry Hopes By Action Shattered

Little Chance Of Liquor Vote

RALEIGH.—(AP)—Hopes of dry forces for a statewide liquor referendum were glimmering today.

The Senate Committee on Propriety and Grievances by a one-sided vote today gave an unfavorable report to a referendum measure introduced by Senator George T. Pender of Guilford.

The vote virtually killed hopes of dry forces of getting a referendum measure through this session of the General Assembly.

The Senate Committee action followed by only one day the vote of the House Committee on Appropriations and Grievances to give an unfavorable report to another referendum measure, one introduced by Rep. L. A. Martin of Davidson.

At the meeting today, Senator Charles C. Harris of Guilford moved for an unfavorable report, and Sen. O. B. Moss of Nash seconded. Those attending estimated that about five of the 31 members present voted against the unfavorable report.

Sen. Pender asked the Committee to postpone its vote as he could produce amendments to his measure. A motion by Sen. Henry A. McMillan of Robeson to give an unfavorable report was defeated.

The drys lost out in the first round in the House when the House Committee on Propriety and Grievances by a one-sided vote gave an unfavorable report today.

In the House, Sen. John W. Tinsley of Orange introduced a measure to amend the State liquor laws and to provide for the sale of liquor and fortified wines to members of the General Assembly.

The Senate measure received another measure to provide for the sale of liquor in building.

Sen. D. L. Ward of Craven sent forward the measure which would appropriate any surplus from the military fund and the general fund of the State for the sale of liquor without an election and without an amendment to the constitution.

The bill would provide that each county would receive $50,000 for the sale of liquor and improvement of its schools.

The bill would also provide that the State Board of Education determine how much of the $50,000 a county would receive and allocate it as it saw fit.

A joint resolution was introduced from both Houses to give legislative approval to an agreement between the Southern States to provide regional regional legislation by the General Assembly, Rep. Harry Vandenberg introduced an identical measure in the House.

A measure to remove restrictions on sale and use of chloroquine was passed by the Senate on a voice vote and sent to the House.

The bill, as amended by committee, would amend a law which prohibits the sale and use of chloroquine and permit serving of chloroquine in public eating places.

Bills to amend the law to provide for greater home rule for municipalities were introduced for the Senate.

Russians Dely Order To Leave

All Utilities, Food Cut Off

By RICHARD O'BRIEN
FRANKFURT, Germany.—(AP)—Armed military police today blockaded a Russian mission which refused American orders to leave the U. S. zone of Germany.

Supplies of water, gas and electricity were cut off and telephones disconnected in the Russian zone of the Russian reparations mission.

Food was shut off by orders to MPs to arrest anyone trying to enter the building or leave it.

Four officers and four soldiers and their families are in the mission. No one knew how much food they had.

OFFICER TURNED AWAY
A Russian officer, apparently from the Soviet military mission, tried to enter the zone, but was turned away by an MP.

The mission handled the return of displaced persons to Russia.

Three hours after the block began, a Russian employee and his wife left the mission. They were carrying a basket of food and a small suitcase.

"We are not coming back," said the German. "The people was ordered to leave the mission station for questioning."

Sen. Lucius D. Clay, American ambassador to Berlin, said the mission to leave by March 18.

"We are not coming back," said the German. "The people was ordered to leave the mission station for questioning."

Sen. Lucius D. Clay, American ambassador to Berlin, said the mission to leave by March 18.

Hop Means Bombers 'Can Go Anywhere'

FORT WORTH, Tex.—(AP)—Said the chief pilot of the first plane to circle the earth without stopping:

"I just mean you can fly anywhere any time."

Capt. James Gallagher of McLeary, 36, of Alameda, Tex., and pilot of the Lucky Lady II, piloted with his men in the Caravelle Air Base briefing room today a few minutes after they ended their historic flight.

Gallagher summed up the flight in answer to questions by newsmen.

Asked if he would want to take another world trip immediately, Gallagher laughed and the crew joined in.

"Just give us a little rest and we'll be all right," the flight commander said.

Gallagher said the crew, which worked in shifts, slept well in its off hours.

But a sleepy-eyed Texas sergeant with a stubble of beard stopped off the plane and said, "I'm tired. I want some sleep."

He was 6-foot, 6-inch, 160 pounds, McLeary blinked his eyes and scratched the back of his head as he lined up with other crewmen for pictures.

Gallagher, tired, he said, "I feel fine and get a little sleep every once in a while. Everything went off smooth."

McLeary has been in the Air Force six years.

The dead tired airmen lined up under the silver nose of the plane. There they were congratulated by Air Secretary Stuart Symington, General Curtis E. LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Force, and the Eighth Air Force, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, and others.

Man Kills Self With Rap Sword

COLUMBIA, S. C.—(AP)—John C. Ingram, 35, killed himself with a rap sword he carried with him yesterday, Richmond County Coroner W. A. Pott said.

The sword had pierced his head upward, entering beneath the chin.

The body was found by Sgt. James Ingram, brother of the victim, at his home, where he was apparently was stabbed.

Magistrate Cal M. Lawson said that the victim was found for work at 8:15 A. M. and left for work at 8:30 A. M.

When the Sergeant returned three hours later, he found his brother dead in a small room adjoining the living room, Lawson said.

The dead man was formerly of Sgt. Ingram's unit, the 1st Battalion of the State Tuberculosis Control Program. He was married. The magistrate said Mrs. John Ingram is now in Charlotte.

Man, Woman Face Murder Counts

Three deaths are charged to 'Lonely Hearts' racket

She was not immediately identified from the grisly scene.

Here, however, Prosecutor McMahon said he would ask first degree murder charges against the pair in the slayings of attractive Mrs. Delphine Downing, 24, and her 20-month-old daughter, Ranelle, both of the mother and daughter were dug out of cement-filled graves in their home between here and nearby Byron Center yesterday.

Last night working on information from Grand Rapids police, authorities in New York dug up the body of a woman in South Ozone Park, Queens, cell.

Man Kills Self With Rap Sword

COLUMBIA, S. C.—(AP)—John C. Ingram, 35, killed himself with a rap sword he carried with him yesterday, Richmond County Coroner W. A. Pott said.

The sword had pierced his head upward, entering beneath the chin.

The body was found by Sgt. James Ingram, brother of the victim, at his home, where he was apparently was stabbed.

Magistrate Cal M. Lawson said that the victim was found for work at 8:15 A. M. and left for work at 8:30 A. M.

When the Sergeant returned three hours later, he found his brother dead in a small room adjoining the living room, Lawson said.

The dead man was formerly of Sgt. Ingram's unit, the 1st Battalion of the State Tuberculosis Control Program. He was married. The magistrate said Mrs. John Ingram is now in Charlotte.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Man Kills Self With Rap Sword

COLUMBIA, S. C.—(AP)—John C. Ingram, 35, killed himself with a rap sword he carried with him yesterday, Richmond County Coroner W. A. Pott said.

The sword had pierced his head upward, entering beneath the chin.

The body was found by Sgt. James Ingram, brother of the victim, at his home, where he was apparently was stabbed.

Magistrate Cal M. Lawson said that the victim was found for work at 8:15 A. M. and left for work at 8:30 A. M.

When the Sergeant returned three hours later, he found his brother dead in a small room adjoining the living room, Lawson said.

The dead man was formerly of Sgt. Ingram's unit, the 1st Battalion of the State Tuberculosis Control Program. He was married. The magistrate said Mrs. John Ingram is now in Charlotte.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Modified Car Inspection Laws Before Committee

RALEIGH.—(AP)—Proposals for the General Assembly to pass a modified motor vehicle inspection law were turned over to a subcommittee today by the Senate Roads Committee.

The Legislature last week completed action on a measure repealing the present inspection law, and the House Roads Committee, meanwhile, decided to hold a public hearing this Tuesday on a school machinery act introduced in both Senate and House yesterday.

Man, Woman Face Murder Counts

Three deaths are charged to 'Lonely Hearts' racket

She was not immediately identified from the grisly scene.

Here, however, Prosecutor McMahon said he would ask first degree murder charges against the pair in the slayings of attractive Mrs. Delphine Downing, 24, and her 20-month-old daughter, Ranelle, both of the mother and daughter were dug out of cement-filled graves in their home between here and nearby Byron Center yesterday.

Last night working on information from Grand Rapids police, authorities in New York dug up the body of a woman in South Ozone Park, Queens, cell.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Man, Woman Face Murder Counts

Three deaths are charged to 'Lonely Hearts' racket

She was not immediately identified from the grisly scene.

Here, however, Prosecutor McMahon said he would ask first degree murder charges against the pair in the slayings of attractive Mrs. Delphine Downing, 24, and her 20-month-old daughter, Ranelle, both of the mother and daughter were dug out of cement-filled graves in their home between here and nearby Byron Center yesterday.

Last night working on information from Grand Rapids police, authorities in New York dug up the body of a woman in South Ozone Park, Queens, cell.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Man, Woman Face Murder Counts

Three deaths are charged to 'Lonely Hearts' racket

She was not immediately identified from the grisly scene.

Here, however, Prosecutor McMahon said he would ask first degree murder charges against the pair in the slayings of attractive Mrs. Delphine Downing, 24, and her 20-month-old daughter, Ranelle, both of the mother and daughter were dug out of cement-filled graves in their home between here and nearby Byron Center yesterday.

Last night working on information from Grand Rapids police, authorities in New York dug up the body of a woman in South Ozone Park, Queens, cell.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further study.

Rankin Seeks Pension Vote

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked today that the House be allowed to vote on the bill for pensions for veterans and gave this estimate of its cost over the years: $100,000,000.

That was the House's estimate of the cost of the bill, which would give House rules Committee as he would like to send the bill to the House floor for debate, preferably under procedure providing amendments.

But the Mississippi said he would not insist on a pay-as-you-go program after rules committee members indicated their disapproval of the bill as it stood.

The rules committee has the bill in the House and under what procedure, Rankin's bill has been approved by the House Veterans Committee of which he is chairman.

House leaders and the Truman Administration are opposed to the bill because of its high cost.

While hostile, House leaders stuck by their announced plans to try to block debate on the bill. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) replying to a question, he permitted Rankin to take the bill to the House for a vote.

But in advance of the hearing, Rep. Fatten (D-Miss.) said some members of the Veterans Committee might try to get the bill sent to that group for further