More than 50,000 bills, photographed above, emphasizing citizens' important privilege of voting, are being sent to Charlotte by the Charlotte Merchants Association's special Get-Out-The-Vote Committee in co-operation with retailers, banks, other business concerns, and the League of Women Voters. Radio stations and theaters also are giving this activity strong support. Charles Dudley, the association's managing director, emphasizes that its purpose is to arouse public interest in voting — and not to boost any candidates — as the association feels, "The United States is one of the last frontiers of freedom and liberty depends on full and free privilege of voting." Members of the committee directing this movement are Gordon Lupton, chairman, Carl McGowan, Russell Snook, Bob Alexander, Ray Furr, R. D. Curcio and Bo Robinson.
