Controversy Over General Discussed
Statements On Policy Issue

WASHINGTON — President Truman talked today with Democratic Congressional leaders about the hot potato handed him by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's latest policy statement.

But they and the White House were silent on what action, if any, may be taken. Capitol Hill friends of Mr. Truman indicated the president that he might act quickly to make known his views.

It was President Truman contemplating a rebuke to General MacArthur's President's Secretary Joseph Short was asked at a news conference.
