WARMER THAN SPRINGTIME

Which is warmer, autumn or Spring? You might think they'd be about the same, coming midway between Summer and Winter. But in North America the autumn months — September, October and November — are warmer than the Spring months of March, April and May. That's largely because the ocean warms up and cools off more slowly than the land; in autumn, it's still warm; in Spring, it's still cold. That "retards" the seasons. Also, in autumn warm air masses are still being pushed southward from the Gulf of Mexico, while in Spring, cold air masses prevail, often bringing a return of Winter.

MIAMI BATHERS GIVEN SCARE BY 6-FOOT SHARK

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — Some 2,500 bathers became runners in a few seconds Sunday when a six-foot shark streaked shoreward in pursuit of a fish dinner. Forrest Band of Miami said the shark came in swiftly from the open Atlantic "with a large white dorsal fin cutting the surface of the water." The shark's immediate prey was a pan-fried bonito but the bathers couldn't be sure he wouldn't switch from fish to red meat.

Van Fleet Puts Enemy Casualties At 58,000 Since Middle Of August

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA — (AP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet today said his Eighth Army has killed or wounded 58,000 Communist soldiers in Korea since Aug. 18 through Sept. 22. The report covered the entire 150-mile front. About 80 per cent of the Red losses were in the bloody "Battle of the Hills" in eastern Korea. The figure represents almost six Red divisions. Van Fleet said 2,800 Red were taken prisoner in the same period. The casualty totals of killed or wounded have been "evaluated." That is the Army's term for the final estimate after all field accounts and reports have been discounted for possible duplication or exaggeration. Since the Allies pushed off on limited offensives in eastern Korea they have captured enough material to equip nearly a full Red division, the Eighth Army said.

BORROWED MONEY FROM TWO FIRMS

Former Publications Worker Denies Any Contract Influence

By G. WILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON — (AP) — A former Government employee, who helped put out Air Force publications, told today of receiving liquor, turkeys and more expensive gifts — and borrowing $12,100 — from officials of two printing firms. Testimony at a Senate inquiry, Charles A. Melling said that both companies — American Lithofold Corp. of St. Louis and Laurel Printing Co. of New York — were doing business with the Government at the time. But Melling swore he never influenced, or tried to influence, the award of contracts to the companies. Melling said he borrowed $6,100 from an official of American Lithofold and $6,000 from an official of Laurel.

QUIT GOVT. JOB

As on the job of the loans, Melling was on the Government pay roll at $5,400 a year. Last March, he resigned to take a job with American Lithofold at $20,000 a year. He is now that company's Eastern District sales manager. Melling testified before a Senate investigations subcommittee which is inquiring into charges of political influence on lending by the Government's Reconstruction Finance Corp. (RFC). Melling said that in February he had borrowed $55,000 from RFC. One of the questions the Senators are looking into is whether that loan was influenced by William M. Boyle Jr., the Democratic national chairman. Under questioning Melling testified that he never, while on the Air Force, received any telephonic calls from Boyle, or from Guy G. Bradley, the Republican national chairman, pressing him to award or alter any printing contracts. He said, said, he did not receive any calls from anyone else in the national headquarters of the two parties. Another witness, James B. E. Olson, told the Senators that he contacted a brewery and liquor wholesaler in New York City, American Lithofold while serving as a Federal alcohol tax unit district supervisor. Olson said he went on American Lithofold's pay roll at $750 a month in February 1949 and continued in the printing firm's employment until June, 1951. He held the position of district supervisor until his resignation a few months ago. PHONED RUPPERT Melling testified that in June or July 1949 he telephoned an official of the Ruppert Brewing Co. and suggested that he see an American Lithofold representative who was printing the company was going to have done. Melling said he received $5,100 in a series of loans from R. A. Blumberg, son of Lithofold's president, in the summer of 1949. At the time that was the company and not the younger Blumberg, whom he described as a close personal friend. Melling said he received $6,000 through Frederick W. Webster, a Lithofold representative, in the summer of 1949. He said that as far as he knew the Laurel firm who he later named as Ben Grossman, He said he does not know the company.

Six Georgia Convicts Flee

BURFORD, Ga. — (AP) — Six of Georgia's most desperate criminals broke away from a new prison for incorrigibles today while a guard raised his shotgun upon them from a wall lower. They dropped their wheelbarrows, snatched their drivers from a truck loading rack at the prison quarry and sped away. "We know that some of them were in," said Warden W. M. Hix Jr. "We found the truck abandoned about a mile and a half up the road. It was covered with blood." The break came about 11:20 A. M. In less than an hour, a posse of nearly 50 officers from three counties and the state patrol had joined the chase. The state patrol had the fugitives surrounded in a stretch of woods about five miles from the prison. The fugitives knew the convicts were unarmed.
