

With Steve ns Present N S CONVENTS CALL FOR PEACE

Truman Raps Ike's Emphasis On Korean Issue

Says General Would
 Divide U. S. For Votes

By ED CREAGH
 ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN — President Truman today accused Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower of making a reckless and cynical attempt to get votes by dividing the nation over the Korean issue.

The President said Eisenhower, Republican candidate for president played a major role in shaping the very foreign policy which the general now is condemning.

After repeating a previous statement that Eisenhower recommended the withdrawal of U. S. troops from Korea, a step Eisenhower has described as tragically wrong, the President said:

"He's now trying to squim out of that one ever since.

"He even went so far . . . as to deliberately misquote and falsify the facts."

"CHEAP TRICK"
 "That was a cheap trick that he must have learned, from his new gutter politics and political ally, Joe McCarthy."

Truman spoke in Toledo, the home town of Michael V. DiSaile, who served as federal prosecutor until he resigned earlier this year to run for the U. S. Senate against Gov. Sen. John W. Bricker.

The President, while stopping through Ohio toward a major speech at Cincinnati tonight, endorsed DiSaile, Gov. Frank Lausche, who is trying for a fourth term election, and others on the Ohio Democratic ticket.

MORE DOLLARS
 "The dollar is not worth as much as it used to be," Truman said, "but people have a lot more of them than they ever had under any Republican administration."

The President's campaign speech moved deep into the heart of Sen. Robert A. Taft country today. Taft is Truman's favorite political enemy.

The President last night claimed a one-day, nine-speech tour of Michigan with a major address in Detroit in which he presented a firm belief in what he regards as the three main accomplishments of his first four years in office: the White House — progress toward peace, general prosperity, and civil rights for everybody.

Police and fire officials estimated that the President spoke to some 6,000 persons in the State Fair Grounds, Columbus, about 2,000 short of the seating capacity.

SAYS ADLAI FREE
 While expressing a firm faith in his own negotiation, Truman also added a "hands-off" speech.

At the end of his speech, he said the next Democratic administration "if we voters elect one next Tuesday, would not be beholden to the men or the policies of his own 'Fair Deal'."

"Gov. Stevenson," the President said crisply, "has made no commitments whatsoever to me, and I have not asked for any. You can be sure that in the presidency, his men and his ideas will be his own."

Truman hit hardest on the issue, on the conflict between the Communist bloc and the Western world.

"I think," he said, "we are now reaching a turning point in this struggle. The balances are moving in our favor. We will see that all our sacrifices, all our effort, have been worth while. We will have gained our effort of stopping aggression without a shot or a word."

This, said the President, has been done with little help from the Republican "Old Guard."

OUR WEATHER

Fair weather with slowly rising temperatures today, tonight and Saturday.
 High temperature yesterday, 60 degrees.
 High temperature expected today, 68 degrees.
 Low temperature this morning, 34 degrees.
 Low temperature expected tonight, 47 degrees.
 Sunrise, 6:43 A. M.; sunset, 5:30 P. M.

More Weather Data on Page 15-A

BIG SWITCH

Leaving no doubt as to where he stands, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon spoke on a Cleveland rostrum displaying a huge Adlai Stevenson picture, a Republican, Morse is backing the Democratic candidate. (UP Telephone).

Truman spoke in Toledo, the home town of Michael V. DiSaile, who served as federal prosecutor until he resigned earlier this year to run for the U. S. Senate against Gov. Sen. John W. Bricker.

The President, while stopping through Ohio toward a major speech at Cincinnati tonight, endorsed DiSaile, Gov. Frank Lausche, who is trying for a fourth term election, and others on the Ohio Democratic ticket.

MORE DOLLARS
 "The dollar is not worth as much as it used to be," Truman said, "but people have a lot more of them than they ever had under any Republican administration."

The President's campaign speech moved deep into the heart of Sen. Robert A. Taft country today. Taft is Truman's favorite political enemy.

SAYS ADLAI FREE
 While expressing a firm faith in his own negotiation, Truman also added a "hands-off" speech.

At the end of his speech, he said the next Democratic administration "if we voters elect one next Tuesday, would not be beholden to the men or the policies of his own 'Fair Deal'."

"Gov. Stevenson," the President said crisply, "has made no commitments whatsoever to me, and I have not asked for any. You can be sure that in the presidency, his men and his ideas will be his own."

Truman hit hardest on the issue, on the conflict between the Communist bloc and the Western world.

"I think," he said, "we are now reaching a turning point in this struggle. The balances are moving in our favor. We will see that all our sacrifices, all our effort, have been worth while. We will have gained our effort of stopping aggression without a shot or a word."

This, said the President, has been done with little help from the Republican "Old Guard."

"Gov. Stevenson," the President said crisply, "has made no commitments whatsoever to me, and I have not asked for any. You can be sure that in the presidency, his men and his ideas will be his own."

Truman hit hardest on the issue, on the conflict between the Communist bloc and the Western world.

"Gov. Stevenson," the President said crisply, "has made no commitments whatsoever to me, and I have not asked for any. You can be sure that in the presidency, his men and his ideas will be his own."

Truman hit hardest on the issue, on the conflict between the Communist bloc and the Western world.

"Gov. Stevenson," the President said crisply, "has made no commitments whatsoever to me, and I have not asked for any. You can be sure that in the presidency, his men and his ideas will be his own."

Truman hit hardest on the issue, on the conflict between the Communist bloc and the Western world.

"Gov. Stevenson," the President said crisply, "has made no commitments whatsoever to me, and I have not asked for any. You can be sure that in the presidency, his men and his ideas will be his own."

Truman hit hardest on the issue, on the conflict between the Communist bloc and the Western world.

U. N. Troops Struggle to Retake Hill

Rainy Discomfort
 Added To Danger

SEOUL (U. N. — United Nations troops struggled today to retake Triangle Hill in a cold, slashing rain today after twice losing the vital Korean Central Front position to Chinese human wave assaults.

But at nightfall the Chinese still held the crest and the Allied infantrymen pulled back from the close-quarter hand grenade fighting.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

Rain clouds cleared and a waxing moon shed a soft, pale light over the death filled ridge.

Allied gloom over the loss of Triangle was eased slightly late Friday when about 175 survivors were found at three units cut off on Triangle. Some were badly wounded. Their comrades had made an air death march against the onrushing Chinese hordes.

WIVES WAIT PRISON REBELLION

Dry-eyed under the strain, Mrs. Ernest Richardson (front) and Mrs. Delbert Wiggins kept at the gate of Menard Prison at Chester, Ill., to learn if negotiating team of prison officials had returned with any news of their husbands held hostage by Menard convicts. Gov. Adlai Stevenson interrupted his campaign trip today to try to settle the riot in his home state. (UP Telephone).

Heads For Stevenson Country

Ike Ends New York Campaign

By RELMAN MORIN
 EN ROUTE WITH Eisenhower (U. N. — Dwight D. Eisenhower headed for Chicago by plane today after three hard-driving days in New York where he said, in a climactic speech, the Democrats are trying to destroy him with a super-smear.

"They have made wild charges spread like rumors, and played fast and loose with the truth," he said.

"They are determined to destroy me," to destroy my life-long friendship, my reputation, my spirit.

"This has been some campaign! It has been shocking."

Eisenhower hurled these charges last night at a rip-roaring GOP rally in Madison Square Garden.

The Democrats turned their fire on him, personally, Eisenhower said, when they failed to prevent the unification he claims has taken place in the Republican party. He said he wasn't greatly perturbed by any personal bias.

EXPERTS AT WORK
 Recalling that the late Nazi propagandists, Joseph Goebbels and Julius Streicher, and more recently, the Russian "poison pen artists," have attacked him, the general grinned:

"I have been worked over by experts."

He closed by reassuring:

"I have made no deals in this campaign."

"No one has a claim on me. No one has a promise from me. No one has captured me. 'I am my own man.'"

The great areas was jammed. Ward Miller, head of the U. S. Army forces for the building, fixed the attendance at 23,000.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, also filled the hall two nights earlier. Which of the two drew greater attendance could not be determined, since there were unknown numbers of Dry-eyed under the strain, Mrs. Ernest Richardson (front) and Mrs. Delbert Wiggins kept at the gate of Menard Prison at Chester, Ill., to learn if negotiating team of prison officials had returned with any news of their husbands held hostage by Menard convicts. Gov. Adlai Stevenson interrupted his campaign trip today to try to settle the riot in his home state. (UP Telephone).

Heads For Stevenson Country

Ike Ends New York Campaign

By RELMAN MORIN
 EN ROUTE WITH Eisenhower (U. N. — Dwight D. Eisenhower headed for Chicago by plane today after three hard-driving days in New York where he said, in a climactic speech, the Democrats are trying to destroy him with a super-smear.

"They have made wild charges spread like rumors, and played fast and loose with the truth," he said.

"They are determined to destroy me," to destroy my life-long friendship, my reputation, my spirit.

"This has been some campaign! It has been shocking."

Eisenhower hurled these charges last night at a rip-roaring GOP rally in Madison Square Garden.

The Democrats turned their fire on him, personally, Eisenhower said, when they failed to prevent the unification he claims has taken place in the Republican party. He said he wasn't greatly perturbed by any personal bias.

EXPERTS AT WORK
 Recalling that the late Nazi propagandists, Joseph Goebbels and Julius Streicher, and more recently, the Russian "poison pen artists," have attacked him, the general grinned:

"I have been worked over by experts."

He closed by reassuring:

"I have made no deals in this campaign."

"No one has a claim on me. No one has a promise from me. No one has captured me. 'I am my own man.'"

The great areas was jammed. Ward Miller, head of the U. S. Army forces for the building, fixed the attendance at 23,000.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, also filled the hall two nights earlier. Which of the two drew greater attendance could not be determined, since there were unknown numbers of captured and Charles Hopkins, another prison male of Illinois, was arrested in Jacksonville Tuesday afternoon by an FBI agent who recognizes him as a Republican.

Both Lemay and Hopkins said Hill was the ringleader. His kidnap victims said Hill called himself a "three-gun maniac."

The Georgia and Tennessee victims were robbed but not harmed. After the guard delivery yesterday, all six fixed in Trish's car. Douglas and Douglas split up on a side road. Douglas went with Hill. The two were former prisoners at Florida State Penitentiary at Raiford.

The other three took off through the woods. Trish was set free. Hill and Douglas next broke into the home of Mrs. C. E. Hoover, stole her rings and car and left.

About 10:30 last night they appeared at Haines City, abandoned Mrs. Hoover's car and kidnaped R. W. Woodward and his girl, Miss Mamie Grimsley. With the young couple bearing to be set free, the convicts headed at breakneck speed over side roads toward north. They captured and Charles Hopkins, another prison male of Illinois, was arrested in Jacksonville Tuesday afternoon by an FBI agent who recognizes him as a Republican.

Both Lemay and Hopkins said Hill was the ringleader. His kidnap victims said Hill called himself a "three-gun maniac."

The Georgia and Tennessee victims were robbed but not harmed. After the guard delivery yesterday, all six fixed in Trish's car. Douglas and Douglas split up on a side road. Douglas went with Hill. The two were former prisoners at Florida State Penitentiary at Raiford.

Governor Interrupts His Campaign Tour

CHESTER, Ill. (AP) — Convicts ended their four-day rebellion at Menard State Prison today and released their seven hostages before Gov. Adlai Stevenson carried out plans for making a personal appeal to them.

The convicts capitulated after an ultimatum was delivered by Michael Seyfrid, state director of public safety.

Seyfrid told the insurgents, who had been bottled up in the prison's East cell block since Monday, that unless they surrendered heavily-armed state troopers would cut through the cell house doors with torches and "use whatever force is necessary to restore order."

After releasing their hostages, the 330 convicts marched back to their cells.

Just before this, a loudspeaker had been set up in the prison yard and Gov. Stevenson was expected to issue an appeal or an ultimatum to the convicts.

The Democratic presidential nominee had broken off his campaign tour in the East to rush here by plane and automobile.

Apparently the convicts capitulated, the heavily-armed state troopers massed at the north and south entrances to the cell house.

State police captain shouted a demand for an immediate release of the hostages. Otherwise, he said, the troopers would move in "and it won't be funny if we come in."

The police captain shouted: "Bring the keys down here."

"Wait a minute," a convict replied from the cell house.

"Get them down here now," the captain demanded. "We're not waiting."

Newsmen watched from a high, rocky bluff which serves as part of the prison walls. When the release Stevenson could not be distinguished but he was presumed to be in the prison yard at the time of the convicts' surrender.

The first of the hostages to emerge from the cell house were Lt. Loren Stewart, 35, and Guard William Bythe, 37.

Although the guard hostages had been without food for nearly five days they appeared to be unharmed. They were taken to the prison hospital.

However, Stewart and Bythe were so weak they had to be assisted as they walked from the cell house.

In voicing his ultimatum, Seyfrid said over the loudspeaker: "Attention each cell house."

"For three (sic) days now you have been holding seven guards as hostages. Your representatives have met with Lieutenant Governor (Sherwood) Dixon. He tendered you an ultimatum."

"You have not accepted Dixon's offer."

"Unless you release those guards immediately and return to your cells, we are going to storm your cell house with armed police. We want you to return to your cells. We intend to use whatever force is necessary to restore order. We will hold every man responsible for any further trouble and these men in particular."

Seyfrid then read off the names of several dozen inmates believed to be ringleaders.

Then Seyfrid invited them to move up to the two cell block entrances.

No mention was made over the loudspeaker system that Stevenson was present. State police expressed belief they knew the governor had arrived on the scene, however.

ELECTION DAY
 FORECAST IS FAIR & MILD

Weather put on its own Get Out The Vote campaign today, promising a fair and mild election day.

Temperatures ranging from the low forties to the high sixties are predicted for the Carolina. For Charlotte a low of 40 to 50 and a high of 60 to 70 is forecast.

On the last presidential election day four years ago, the temperature hit 71 degrees. Light rain fell between 4 and 8 P. M.

Nov. 4, 1946, an off-year election day, was a scorcher. The temperature hit 79 degrees to set a new record for the date.

Nov. 4, 1946, an off-year election day, was a scorcher. The temperature hit 79 degrees to set a new record for the date.

Nov. 4, 1946, an off-year election day, was a scorcher. The temperature hit 79 degrees to set a new record for the date.

STEVENSON'S TRAIN ALMOST IN TRAGEDY

SILVER SPRING, Md. (U. N. — A tragedy was barely averted here today when Gov. Adlai Stevenson's campaign train, having overhauled its stopping place, suddenly backed up on a crowd that had pressed around the rear car.

There were shouts of "Stop the train, stop the train" from the crowd and a scramble to get out of the way.

The Democratic presidential nominee had broken off his campaign tour in the East to rush here by plane and automobile.

Apparently the convicts capitulated, the heavily-armed state troopers massed at the north and south entrances to the cell house.

State police captain shouted a demand for an immediate release of the hostages. Otherwise, he said, the troopers would move in "and it won't be funny if we come in."

The police captain shouted: "Bring the keys down here."

"Wait a minute," a convict replied from the cell house.

"Get them down here now," the captain demanded. "We're not waiting."

Newsmen watched from a high, rocky bluff which serves as part of the prison walls. When the release Stevenson could not be distinguished but he was presumed to be in the prison yard at the time of the convicts' surrender.

The first of the hostages to emerge from the cell house were Lt. Loren Stewart, 35, and Guard William Bythe, 37.

Although the guard hostages had been without food for nearly five days they appeared to be unharmed. They were taken to the prison hospital.

However, Stewart and Bythe were so weak they had to be assisted as they walked from the cell house.

In voicing his ultimatum, Seyfrid said over the loudspeaker: "Attention each cell house."

"For three (sic) days now you have been holding seven guards as hostages. Your representatives have met with Lieutenant Governor (Sherwood) Dixon. He tendered you an ultimatum."

"You have not accepted Dixon's offer."

"Unless you release those guards immediately and return to your cells, we are going to storm your cell house with armed police. We want you to return to your cells. We intend to use whatever force is necessary to restore order. We will hold every man responsible for any further trouble and these men in particular."

Seyfrid then read off the names of several dozen inmates believed to be ringleaders.

Then Seyfrid invited them to move up to the two cell block entrances.

No mention was made over the loudspeaker system that Stevenson was present. State police expressed belief they knew the governor had arrived on the scene, however.

ELECTION DAY
 FORECAST IS FAIR & MILD

Weather put on its own Get Out The Vote campaign today, promising a fair and mild election day.

Temperatures ranging from the low forties to the high sixties are predicted for the Carolina. For Charlotte a low of 40 to 50 and a high of 60 to 70 is forecast.

On the last presidential election day four years ago, the temperature hit 71 degrees. Light rain fell between 4 and 8 P. M.

Nov. 4, 1946, an off-year election day, was a scorcher. The temperature hit 79 degrees to set a new record for the date.

Nov. 4, 1946, an off-year election day, was a scorcher. The temperature hit 79 degrees to set a new record for the date.

Nov. 4, 1946, an off-year election day, was a scorcher. The temperature hit 79 degrees to set a new record for the date.

Pair Taken At Road Block

Pair Taken At Road Block

Pair Taken At Road Block

Pair Taken At Road Block

Pair Taken At Road Block

Pair Taken At Road Block

Pair Taken At Road Block

Pair Taken At Road Block

Pair Taken At Road Block

Pair Taken At Road Block

Kidnaper Captured With Pal He Freed

Kidnaper Captured With Pal He Freed

Kidnaper Captured With Pal He Freed

Kidnaper Captured With Pal He Freed

Kidnaper Captured With Pal He Freed

Kidnaper Captured With Pal He Freed

Kidnaper Captured With Pal He Freed

Kidnaper Captured With Pal He Freed

Kidnaper Captured With Pal He Freed