

Government Growth
The steady expansion of Federal Government and its encroachment into political and economic life of the nation is described by Raymond Moley in the third of his special series on the editorial page.

ESTABLISHED DEC. 8, 1888

WHITE HOUSE, CONGRESS ACT IN STEEL CRISIS

Industry And Union Accept Bids To Meet In Capital Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (U-P)—The Senate jumped into hot debate today on a bill that would forbid strikes in critical industries for 120 days, set up a board to recommend settlement terms, and allow the President to seize the industry if the terms were not accepted.

The measure was offered by Sen. Maybank (D-S.C.), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, as an amendment to the existing economic controls law.

Today, Congress and the White House stated moving almost simultaneously on plans for settling the two-day-old strike of CIO steelworkers. The walkout started Monday after the Supreme Court struck down President Truman's order seizing the steel mills.

John R. Steelman, acting mobilization chief, summoned industry and union leaders to a meeting in Washington tomorrow in an effort to bring about a settlement.

Union and management promptly accepted the call.

Most of the day's fireworks on the steel front were concentrated in the Senate.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, a Republican presidential aspirant, quickly jumped on the Maybank proposal.

He said it would be "infinitely tougher on labor than the Hart-Cellar Act."

That law calls for an 80-day cooling off period and a fact-finding board to report on the strike issues. The board, however, can not make settlement recommendations.

Under the Maybank proposal the President would "have the right to compensation to the owners" after being in power. He would not be forced to change workers' wages.

FIRST MOVE
The Maybank bill was the first move in Congress to resolve the steel crisis.

Maybank told the Senate his banking committee, which recommended extending wage-price controls until March 1, had not yet seen his amendment.

The controls expire June 30 unless extended by Congress.

Sen. Capewell (R-Ind.) demanded that Maybank send the amendment to the banking committee for "quick hearings."

He said he has very meritorious features, and then again it may not," Capewell said.

RESISTS SUGGESTION
Maybank resisted the suggestion and told the Senate, "I know management is not going to like it and I know labor is not going to like it. But I like it in my own conscience."

He said he saw no material advantage in the Maybank plan except that it possibly would provide more time for fact-finding. He said that in many places the amendment seemed to follow the Taft-Hartley Act principles.

Maybank's four-point proposal would do these things:
1. Set up a board appointed by the President and made up of seven members approved by the Senate.

2. The President would refer disputes to the board when they involve an entire industry or a substantial part thereof and would "imperial" the national defense.

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

Largest Afternoon Newspaper in The Carolinas

Charlotte, North Carolina, Wednesday, June 4, 1952

28 Pages—Price Five Cents

AT CONFEDERATE REUNION

Gen. William D. Townsend, 106, of Olla, La., was the lone veteran of the Southern forces at Jackson, Miss., yesterday for the reunion of the United Confederate Veterans. Townsend joined the Confederate forces of the age of 16 and was wounded at Vicksburg. Seven other living Confederate veterans failed to respond to the roll call at Jackson. (UP Photo.)

Three Die In Air Crash Near Kinston

KINSTON, N. C. (U-P)—A flying instructor and two Air Force cadets were killed today when two training planes crashed near here.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

The dual instructor was identified as John Hearn, son of Bun Hearn, baseball coach at the University of North Carolina.

Red Banners Knocked Down In 3 Prisons

Operations Done Without Incident

KOJUE ISLAND, Korea (U-P)—American infantrymen and tanks today knocked down and burned Russian North Korean and Chinese flags in three Communist prisoner of war camps, then handed out unruly prisoner leaders.

A shot was fired. The Reds submitted meekly although only a few hours earlier they had boasted they would "fight to the death."

The smoldering one-two punch at Communist prisoner disobedience destroyed all Red banners that flew today over this once riotous island. But camp authorities expect more may appear tomorrow.

Seventeen anti-Communist prisoners, their hands bound, were rescued from one compound.

The soldiers marched 75 other POWs out of a second compound. The group included five Red leaders and possibly some anti-Reds.

A few tear gas grenades were thrown as the American soldiers rushed into the barred wire enclosures. Later they destroyed POW guard posts with flame-throwers.

Troops of the U.S. Second Division's 38th Regiment executed the operation. Their commander, Lt. Col. William F. Kernan, San Antonio, Tex., commented:

"We can go in any of those compounds any time we want."

Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Bostner, 38th Regiment commander, personally directed the operation.

The tanks, which were armed with machine guns, were used to break down the gates of Compound 85 at 12:30 p.m. to begin the operation. At 1:30 p.m. the tanks were back in the guard area.

The infantrymen raced into the central yard of the stockade housing the tanks and fired a half dozen rounds of 75 mm. as prisoners scurried into tents.

The tanks smashed down three large flagpoles, flying North Korean, Chinese and Russian flags. Troops ripped and burned nine signs tacked to inner barred wire.

Pvt. William Hegwood, 21, Chester, S.C., scaled an gate at the gate and pulled down a painting of the North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung.

Operation lasted 15 minutes. Then at 1 p.m. three companies of the 38th and three tanks charged into the 4,700-man Compound 85, one of the three camps on the island.

Three flagpoles were ground to splinters by the tanks' infantrymen. They destroyed a few small POW huts with flame-throwers. The 75 mm. rounds were fired at the towers of the three camps.

This operation lasted only 15 minutes. Bostner himself looked over the 75 mm. rounds fired at the towers of the three camps.

Under House rules, business cannot be conducted without a quorum if any member insists that a quorum—217 members—be present. That is the House could transact no business because a majority of members are away. Many of the "barbaric and unprincipled violence by police under Soviet control." He demanded the Russians "severely punish the offenders."

A bullet pierced the military police jeep and wounded the driver in the leg. The engine also was damaged.

The shooting occurred "without warning or provocation," while the my vehicle was on route to official patrol on Manchurian Strasse near the U. S. sector-Soviet zone boundary. Gen. Makhovnikov said.

Earlier today the Russians had mysteriously relaxed half of their two-way blockade of Allied military patrols on Berlin's lifetime.

The first break in the 10-day blockade was just 24 hours after the Berlin had laid bloodless siege to the city for three days. The British building in the British sector.

The wounded soldier's identity was not disclosed pending notification of his next of kin.

It was the first American casualty in the Berlin crisis, growing out of Soviet efforts to frighten West Germany from rallying to

IKK MAKES LIKE A CANDIDATE

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took on the appearance of a Presidential candidate at the Washington airport yesterday afternoon as he accepted a bouquet and a hug from 5-year-old Priscilla Bell. The picture was made just before the General took off for Abilene, Kan., where he speaks to troops. (UP Photo.)

Few Hundred Votes Separate Rivals

By JACK BELL
SIOUX FALLS, S. C. (AP)—A handful of votes may tip the balance today in South Dakota's slam-bang Presidential primary battle between Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

As counting of yesterday's record Republican balloting resumed, Taft clung to a slender, narrowing lead in a contest for 14 nominating delegates and the prestige of a victory in the final ballot box test before the Chicago convention.

The count, from 1,821 of the state's 1,947 precincts, was:
Taft 63,460
Eisenhower 62,818

With an estimated 15,000 votes yet to be tabulated, the winner's margin seemed likely to be only a few hundred at most.

There was some talk of a possible recount, which could delay final selection of the state's delegation. Neither side wanted to commit itself on that point, however, until the unofficial tabulation was completed.

IKK TERRITORY
Many of the 225 precincts yet unreported lay in the far western area of the state, where Eisenhower was proving himself strong in the cities and towns. Taft was running ahead in the country districts.

The 14 delegates involved would not change the relative standing of the two major candidates. Eisenhower had 420 delegates and Taft 387 on the Associated Press tabulation, not counting South Dakota's.

As the race neared its end, Taft was getting 50.30 per cent of the vote. Eisenhower 49.70 per cent—narrowest margin in any presidential primary this year.

KEFAUVER NEWS
Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee told the state's eight Democratic delegates in stride. He defeated an unopposed 51.1 per cent in the first ballot at Chicago for Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, although Humphrey was running against his friend Kefauver here.

And victories elsewhere here. It is a white, two-story frame house, half hidden from the unpaved street by towering shade trees.

In the field nearby, ground is being broken for an Eisenhower museum. It will house the souvenirs and trophies that came to him from World War II.

Eisenhower and four of his brothers were to lay the cornerstone for the foundations of the building.

PICTURED IN WHITE HOUSE
A parade with more than 30 floats depicting phases of his life was next on the program. The last P. M.; WAYS at 6 P. M.; and WIST at 9 P. M.

There may be last-minute changes in these schedules, since the stations have been informed that the time of the General's speech will depend upon how well the reception committee handles the General's schedule.

Gen. Eisenhower's first speech as a new civilian at Abilene, Kas., will be televised locally at 7 P. M. today in the facilities of WFTV.

The ceremonies will be broadcast over WFTV at 10 P. M.

Other local radio stations plan to have coverage of the former NATO commander's homecoming. The stations have been informed that the time of the General's speech will depend upon how well the reception committee handles the General's schedule.

Taft beat Eisenhower on a write-in vote in Nebraska, a similarity shared with the April 1948 primary there. This was their only other Midwest test.

The issue of General Eisenhower's military training apparently figured heavily in balloting here, with Taft voicing opposition to UNK and Eisenhower supporting it.

UNK is not popular with the farmers who have lost some and other workers to the military draft.

YACHTFUL MURDER
One who remembers his wife's birthday but forgets which one it is.

CASUALTIES MOUNT
WASHINGTON (U-P)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 100,139 today, an increase of 132 since last week's report showed 100,007 killed in action for a total of 17,252, 138 wounded, 79,621, and one missing in action, 79,621.

WHAT'S INSIDE
Classified Want Ads $5.00
Comics $1.00
Circulation $1.00
Feature Page $1.00
Radio $1.00
Serial $1.00
Theater $1.00
Tobacco $1.00
Women's Page $1.00