

Classified 5-100 Serial 100
1-100 1-100
1-100 1-100
1-100 1-100
1-100 1-100
1-100 1-100
1-100 1-100
1-100 1-100

ESTABLISHED DEC. 8, 1888

Largest Afternoon Newspaper in The Carolinas
Charlotte, North Carolina, Tuesday, August 26, 1952

22 Pages—Price Five Cents

THE CAUDLES AT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Lamar Caudle and their dog Rascals are shown in front of the old Caudle family home in Wadesboro, where they're settling down again after the sensation-filled Washington hearings that centered around the assistant attorney-general.

ing down again after the sensation-filled Washington hearings that centered around the assistant attorney-general.

'WE'RE BECOMING HAPPY AGAIN'

Caudle Comes Home To N. C. To 'Start All Over Again'

By TOM FESPERMAN

Charlotte News Staff Writer—T. Lamar Caudle, who had to leave his big Government job under fire from a House sub-committee hearing, has come back to his home town to "start all over again."

"I don't think," he says, "that I've ever wanted to leave Wadesboro again. I've been hurt. My family's been hurt. All my relatives feel like they've had about as much to take as they can stand. They just want to forget it."

"I can get mad about things. But there's one thing: I can't stay mad very long. I'm becoming happy again now. My wife, Fairild, has wanted to come back to Wadesboro for a long time. The kids wanted to come back here. That's what we planned to do, anyhow, when the hearing came up."

"We had to come back. I was out of a job, and there wasn't anything to live on except my retirement money, and it costs five times as much to live in Washington as it does here. Why, our rent went up to $340 a month. Man, I couldn't stand that."

"Anyhow, I wanted to come back and take over my father's home, and have myself a country law practice."

"GENERAL PRACTICE"

He stopped, then, for a little clarification. "Well, it's not exactly a country law practice. What I mean is a general practice — all types of cases."

"I'd like to get back in a courtroom with some cases. That's what I want to do. My family, who'd become a sort of symbol of "what's wrong with Washington" as a result of a lot of politicians, newspapers and so on, were concerned, gave his first interview to The Hearing to The Charlotte News."

A close friend of his here, Jim Ballard of Station WADE, had called and invited The News to come down and talk with the ousted Assistant Attorney-General."

"I'm just what a reporter walked into his office here the attorney made one thing clear."

"My family and I don't think I ought to go into all that business about The Hearing, and the things they said to me up there."

"Some day, if you can't help it, the real truth is going to come out. And it's going to show that I didn't handle a single income tax case dishonestly."

"But it wouldn't do for me to be taking the defensive in the news."

OUR WEATHER

Partly cloudy and slightly warm today, tonight a 73 degrees. High temperature yesterday 79 degrees. High temperature expected today 82 degrees. Low temperature this morning 56 degrees. Low temperature expected tonight 62 degrees. Sunrise 5:51 A. M. sunset 6:50 P. M.

More Weather Data on Page 5-4

$65,000 RECOVERED

Ex-Employee Admits Brink's Robbery

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bunch by police Chief Robert V. Murray cracked a $65,000 Brink's armored car theft today less than 24 hours after a 26-year-old bakery truck driver pulled it off.

It was a carefully planned robbery, sandwiched in on Farmer's bakery route yesterday. "I'm Jackson, receptionist at the bakery company, said today when told of the arrest. "I just can't believe it."

ROBERT CALM "Ray came in from his route at the regular time yesterday," she said. "He was just as calm and nonchalant as he could be. He was one of our best drivers, one of our most trusted employees."

It was a carefully planned robbery, sandwiched in on Farmer's bakery route yesterday. "I'm Jackson, receptionist at the bakery company, said today when told of the arrest. "I just can't believe it."

$200,000 in bills of large denominations. The theft was discovered when the guards, resuming their regular rounds, undertook to make change at their next stop. It was several hours, however, before it was reported to police. First the company did a lot of cash checking on the possibility there had been a failure to pick up a package of money earlier in the rounds.

Farmer was taken into custody at his house at 9 p. m., last night and questioned steadily until 5 a. m. He broke down, admitted the theft and took police to the amusement park where he dug up the money. Federal Bureau of Investigation agents worked the questioning. So were officials of Brink's. They satisfied themselves that Farmer had nothing to do with the sensational $1219,000 Brink's robbery in Boston Jan. 17, 1950, the biggest cash haul in history.

New York Gets Eufel

Legionnaires Stage Big Parade

By VINCENT O'MAHONEY—NEW YORK (AP)—Thousands swung up Fifth Ave., today in the largest parade since the nation's play of the nation's past and present military might.

The parade of more than 75,000, expected to last at least 12 hours, stepped out from 31st St. at 9:06 A. M. Its nucleus was 48 blocks north at 7th St.

For many a marching Legionnaire it was the emotional high point of the 24th annual Legion convention here as the brass blared and the drums throbbed and a shadow of a statue of Mobilie's steel at the head of the procession.

IXE, NIXON MARCH MARCHING with many a former truck driver was a five-star general, Dwight D. Eisenhower. The Republican presidential candidate strode at the head of the Kansas contingent. His vice-presidential running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, marched with the California delegation from his home state.

The sidewalks of Fifth Ave., the avenue of victory parades, were jammed with grand marshals. Thousands more learned from windows as the parade unrolled like a big caterpillar.

At its head was an escort of 25 city policemen on sleek, prancing hogs, whose clattering hooves were muted by the blast of the band massed into the distance behind them.

COCKE GRAND MARSHAL The grand marshal, Erle Cocke Jr., of Dawson, Ga., last year's five-star Legion commander, had a high ranking officer of all branches of the Armed Forces.

Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast Guard—all had big contingents stepping out smartly to the music of their bands.

And behind the young faces and the new uniforms came the thousands of older faces, the veterans' bands, and the old-timers who were stiffly than the last time they paraded up the avenue—after coming from France in 1918.

GIRTHS WIDER Many a girl had fattened on civilian chow, many a muscle was made to relax, many a girl had quickly remembered the throb of drums, and though close order drill was a thing of the misty past,

Arnall told reporters that he plans to leave Washington this week and will return to Atlanta to resume his private law practice and business. He said he will continue as president of the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers.

Arnall said he hopes to issue tomorrow a regulation allowing higher pricing of products to manufacturers of rolling mills, steel, aluminum and copper.

Comic Dictionary

SHAPE What a bawling suit has after beautiful girl puts it on.

ADLAI S. EISENHOWER DALTON, Ga.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Ben R. Eisenhower have christened their first-born son Adlai Stevenson.

LEGION HEARS IKE

Presidential Candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower drives home a point in his speech made before the American Legion Convention in New York. He said Russia's last places the U. S. in the greatest peril in its history. (United Press Telephoto.)

Legionnaires remembered to "Straighten it up! Straighten it up!" Some swearing, some grinning, some a little saddened by memory as the hands played the old tunes of World War I and the newer tunes of the second great war, they kept their columns straight.

FARRAGUT'S SHIP FACES NEW CONFEDERATE FIRE

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Decks are being cleared for the second battle of Mobile Bay. The United Daughters of the Confederacy in Alabama are lining up against the return of a Yankee flagship to this famed port.

Mrs. Joe E. Cooper, state president of the UDC, wired the Mobile Press Register from Huntsville that her group was ready to protest the proposed move.

The Hartford was the ship on which Admiral David Farragut invaded Mobile Bay in 1864 shouting "Damn the torpedoes! Full speed ahead!"

Individual members of the UDC here have expressed the opinion that it is not appropriate for the ship to be permanently located in the port it once attacked.

This is particularly so, they say, since it would lie almost in the shadow of a statue of Mobilie's own Admiral Raphael Semmes, famed Confederate naval hero.

Probers Told High Official OK'd Tax Case Whitewash

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators were told today a top Justice Department official approved a grand jury report vindicating the way tax matters were handled in St. Louis in 1951. Several officials later were indicted for malpractice.

Investigators also heard testimony that leading justice officials advised a St. Louis government attorney to avoid presenting tax cases to the same grand jury unless asked to do so by the Treasury Department.

One official said the Justice Department didn't "want to be embarrassed" by a jury probe into tax cases the evidence showed.

FINEGAN CONVICTED These developments came as a House Judiciary subcommittee studied the St. Louis scandals which led to conviction of James P. Fin-

British Jet Plane Crosses Atlantic And Returns In Just Over Ten Hours

ALDERGROVE, A. I. R. FIELD, Northern Ireland (AP)—A British jet bomber flashed across the Atlantic Ocean back today in slightly over 10 hours.

The double crossing in a single day was the first in history. The sleek, black Canberra also smashed all previous records for speed to eastward, passing a jet streaked home from Gander, Newfoundland, western terminus of the one trip.

The plane flew 100-mile-an-hour headwinds on its east to west flight, but was helped by them on the trip home.

Possibility Of Party Split Is Discounted

Take Note Of Reports Race Not Going Well

By BELMAN MORIN NEW YORK (AP)—Two Republican leaders discounted today the possibility of a "serious break" in the party and said they expect Sen. Robert A. Taft will give full support to Eisenhower. They said Eisenhower's campaign for the Presidency.

They were Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire and Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, House's minority leader.

Bridges and Martin conferred with Eisenhower at his newly established New York headquarters and will do everything he can to support the campaign.

They were Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire and Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, House's minority leader.

Bridges and Martin conferred with Eisenhower at his newly established New York headquarters and will do everything he can to support the campaign.

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

"I think Taft's people, for the most part, are supporting Eisenhower enthusiastically," Martin said. "I see no break in Republican ranks and I don't think the General's chances of winning."

LAWYER LAMAR

Lamar Caudle re-opens the door to the family home, and conceals an getting acquainted again with all the home folks here, he says, "I'm just a lawyer, and I've got to make a living." (Special News Photos by Charles H. Brigman.)

2 Survivors Found From B-17 Shot Down In Error

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla.—Two survivors from the B-17 bomber that was shot down by a new type jet fighter were picked up today by a Navy minesweeper. Both were in good physical condition.

The Air Force identified the two as Sgt. Charles D. Jones, 31, of Meridian, Miss., and Airman 2C Peter R. Rosing, 22, of Ingleside, Tex.

Both stated they fell fine despite their ordeal of being shot down and tossed about in stormy Gulf waters in a life raft throughout the night.

An Air Force C-17 spotted the two men in the water about 11 a. m. and directed the minesweeper to the scene. Both came aboard the vessel under their own power. They were being brought back to the base here.

The Air Force said it had hoped there were other survivors among the eight crewmen of the B-17. A rain storm which churned up last night moderated only slightly during today.

The B-17 was sent spinning into the Gulf in flames yesterday by a rocket fired by mistake by an intricate automatically controlled jet fighter.

The rocket was fired by the pilot of an F96G, the Air Force's newest all-weather fighter, which is undergoing operational suitability tests at the air proving ground.

The B-17 was sent spinning into the Gulf in flames yesterday by a rocket fired by mistake by an intricate automatically controlled jet fighter.

The rocket was fired by the pilot of an F96G, the Air Force's newest all-weather fighter, which is undergoing operational suitability tests at the air proving ground.

The B-17 was sent spinning into the Gulf in flames yesterday by a rocket fired by mistake by an intricate automatically controlled jet fighter.

The rocket was fired by the pilot of an F96G, the Air Force's newest all-weather fighter, which is undergoing operational suitability tests at the air proving ground.

The B-17 was sent spinning into the Gulf in flames yesterday by a rocket fired by mistake by an intricate automatically controlled jet fighter.

The rocket was fired by the pilot of an F96G, the Air Force's newest all-weather fighter, which is undergoing operational suitability tests at the air proving ground.

The B-17 was sent spinning into the Gulf in flames yesterday by a rocket fired by mistake by an intricate automatically controlled jet fighter.

Woods Succeeds Arnall ATOPS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today named T. Edgar Woods to the nation's rent control board, to head the Office of Price Stabilization.

Woods will succeed Ellis G. Arnall in the post on Sept. 1. Arnall's resignation, effective on that date, has been in Truman's hands for some time.

Roger T. Pultman, chief of the economic stabilization agencies, made the announcement of Woods' appointment after he, Woods and Arnall had conferred with Truman.

Woods said he has not yet got around to recommending a successor to Woods as rent controller. That agency comes under Pultman's direction.

Arnall told reporters that he plans to leave Washington this week and will return to Atlanta to resume his private law practice and business. He said he will continue as president of the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers.

Arnall said he hopes to issue tomorrow a regulation allowing higher pricing of products to manufacturers of rolling mills, steel, aluminum and copper.

The Air Force said the pilot, Col. Arthur R. Debolt, 39, of Columbus, O., apparently mistook the controlled drone. The drone was following about a mile and a half behind.

The rocket was fired by the pilot of an F96G, the Air Force's newest all-weather fighter, which is undergoing operational suitability tests at the air proving ground.

The B-17 was sent spinning into the Gulf in flames yesterday by a rocket fired by mistake by an intricate automatically controlled jet fighter.

The rocket was fired by the pilot of an F96G, the Air Force's newest all-weather fighter, which is undergoing operational suitability tests at the air proving ground.

British Jet Plane Crosses Atlantic And Returns In Just Over Ten Hours

ALDERGROVE, A. I. R. FIELD, Northern Ireland (AP)—A British jet bomber flashed across the Atlantic Ocean back today in slightly over 10 hours.

The double crossing in a single day was the first in history. The sleek, black Canberra also smashed all previous records for speed to eastward, passing a jet streaked home from Gander, Newfoundland, western terminus of the one trip.

The plane flew 100-mile-an-hour headwinds on its east to west flight, but was helped by them on the trip home.

One official said the Justice Department didn't "want to be embarrassed" by a jury probe into tax cases the evidence showed.

FINEGAN CONVICTED These developments came as a House Judiciary subcommittee studied the St. Louis scandals which led to conviction of James P. Fin-

ALDERGROVE, A. I. R. FIELD, Northern Ireland (AP)—A British jet bomber flashed across the Atlantic Ocean back today in slightly over 10 hours.

The double crossing in a single day was the first in history. The sleek, black Canberra also smashed all previous records for speed to eastward, passing a jet streaked home from Gander, Newfoundland, western terminus of the one trip.

The plane flew 100-mile-an-hour headwinds on its east to west flight, but was helped by them on the trip home.

One official said the Justice Department didn't "want to be embarrassed" by a jury probe into tax cases the evidence showed.

FINEGAN CONVICTED These developments came as a House Judiciary subcommittee studied the St. Louis scandals which led to conviction of James P. Fin-

EVENING PRAYER

"O God, our Ruler, give to every State a deeper sense of human brotherhood, a new respect for man and reverence for woman, new loyalty in service, compassion and charity, new happiness in work and justice in reward; that our homes may be restored in peace, our cities rebuilt, and all the world may reflect the radiance of the nations which is eternal in the heavens. Amen."