

| | | |
|----------------|------|-----|
| Classified | 1-10 | 10c |
| Continued | 1-10 | 10c |
| Advertisements | 1-10 | 10c |
| Classified | 1-10 | 10c |
| Continued | 1-10 | 10c |
| Advertisements | 1-10 | 10c |

ESTABLISHED DEC. 8, 1886

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

Final

Largest Afternoon Newspaper in The Carolinas

Charlotte, North Carolina, Tuesday, September 2, 1952

20 Pages—Price Five Cents

THIS IS THEIR WEEK

Giving photographers a preview of what is to be expected when the Miss America candidates parade on the Atlantic City boardwalk today, these five contestants display their charms. From left to right they are Florence Mac Spack of Missouri, Joan Kaye of New York City, Beverly Rivers of Hawaii, Sandra Hart of South Dakota and Neva Jean Langley of Georgia. Representing the Carolinas in the contest will be Barbara Harris of Salisbury and Mary Kemp-Griffin of Florence, S. C. Actual competition starts tomorrow. (United Press Telephoto).

Caudle Is Heard Behind Closed Door

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators called T. Lamar Caudle to a closed-door session today to tell about his handling of tax cases before he was fired as an assistant attorney general last Nov. 16, cases which came under the scrutiny of a House judiciary subcommittee last week.

The first was the alleged attempt to "whitewash" a grand jury investigation in St. Louis, which eventually led to the indictment and conviction of Internal Revenue Collector James P. Finnegan on charges of misconduct in office. Finnegan is appealing.

The second was a war fraud case against a Detroit man which languished without prosecution for six years and finally was dropped, because as subcommittee counsel Robert A. Collier put it, it became "enfeebled by age."

Caudle was in charge of tax prosecutions for the Justice Department at the time both cases were pending.

MAY APPEAR LATER
Whether he will appear later at a public hearing depends largely, said Rep. Keating (R-NY), on what develops at this afternoon's closed-door session. Keating is ranking minority member of the subcommittee.

Caudle, before leaving his home at Wadesboro, N. C. last week end, said he would be "delighted to cooperate with the committee as I have with other committees."

Federal Judge George H. Moore told the subcommittee in a statement filed Thursday that the Justice Department, from former Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath on down, dragged its feet in the grand jury investigation of the St. Louis revenue office.

TOOK NO ACTION
Moore said the department took no action to get the complete investigation going until he served notice he was going to order an inquiry himself.

There was earlier testimony that until Judge Moore intervened, the St. Louis grand jury did nothing but present a preliminary report which one juror called a "whitewash."

Ellis N. Slack, who was Caudle's assistant at the time and who now holds Caudle's job, denied suggestions that he had approved this preliminary report.

OUR WEATHER

Partly cloudy and hot today and tonight. Scattered showers and evening thunderstorms. Fair and slightly cooler Wednesday.

High temperature yesterday 76 degrees.

High temperature expected today 80 degrees.

Low temperature expected today 72 degrees.

Low temperature expected tonight 70 degrees.

Source 5:36 A. M.; sunset 6:49 P. M.

More Weather Data on Page 14

Like Democrats' Rule in Atlanta Talk

ATLANTA (AP)—Cheering thousands welcomed Dwight D. Eisenhower into this Democratic stronghold today and heard him call for a wholesale clean-up of what he described as a "top to bottom mess" in Washington.

Thousands lined the two-mile route from the municipal airport to Hurt Park in downtown Atlanta and they jammed Peachtree Street to give the Republican Presidential nominee a hearty and warm greeting.

Police Chief H. T. Jenkins estimated 100,000 had turned out to see Eisenhower on his first bid to crack the Democratic Southland in the November Presidential election.

Major William S. Hartford of Atlanta estimated about 25,000 were piled into the little park outside the municipal building with another 25,000 hanging from windows and roofs of nearby buildings.

WELCOMED BY TALMADGE
Eisenhower was welcomed officially by Governor Herman Talmadge, a Democrat often at odds with the national administration. He told the throng "Georgia too long has been taken for granted."

"That is the reason," Talmadge continued, "that our delegation had to submit to insults and ridicule from the Democratic national convention."

Then, he said, Eisenhower would have been the Democratic nominee for President for the sake of 1948 and that perhaps he could have been nominated by the Democrats in 1952.

A storm of torn paper and confetti poured down on Eisenhower as he walked along Peachtree Street in an open car, waving and smiling to the lunch hour crowds.

Eisenhower was greeted by the turn-out and the enthusiasm of the welcome.

Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he said, "is not a one-day mess or a one-bureau mess or a one-department mess—it is a top-to-bottom mess."

The general declared it was enough to make Americans "hang their heads."

PLACES BLAME
Eisenhower said corruption and scandal were brewed by "too many men who are too small for the job they are doing."

He said a wholesale clean-out was needed to restore decency, honesty and integrity to the national government.

"This Washington mess," he