Well, there was some money in the office, but the chief "didn't get enough to make any difference," police said.

That was interpreted to mean that some cash had been stolen.

And what about the actual business of breaking into a locked office?

Well, police said, you couldn't ever be sure about these things but it was possible, just possible, that somebody had merely leaned against it too heavily.

And We Don't Mean The Students Troubles Attend School Opening Here

By TOM FISHERMAN

Charlotte News Staff Writer

Some 22,000 children went back to school in Charlotte today to meet the problem of getting themselves ready for the new school year...

At one of the schools, while the kids and their mothers met the teachers, workers went right on with a $12,000 job of repairing the building...

Outside corner walls had cracked. Masonry windwalls had broken. Many bricks had to be replaced.

Yes, there'd been a lot of talk lately about all the repairs necessary on the new building, said Frank St. Clair, construction engineer for the schools...

The building is perfectly safe, he said. There is no serious trouble involved. It was something that had happened all over the country in recent years...

It was an expansion and contraction problem, Mr. St. Clair said. The lateral beams had expanded and started pushing some of the corners out.

It was still a problem to be coped with in a period of fast population growth and inadequate school space.

Earlier in the day, Miss Monroe posed for a picture aimed at attracting recruits to the women's armed services in a low-necked polka dot dress.

A few hours later, after Army officials got look at the photograph, newspapers and wire services were asked to withhold it from publication.
