

MR. BROWNELL IS CAUGHT BETWEEN FIRES

WHEN the U. S. Supreme Court postponed arguments in the several public school segregation cases from October to December, it gave the Eisenhower Administration two more months to juggle a very warm political policy.

It may be that Mr. Brownell will seek the "middle way" so oft propounded by his boss as the goal of this administration. Yet it doesn't seem possible in this case. Segregation in public facilities operated by state and local governments is either constitutional or unconstitutional. There appears to be no middle ground.

A 'YES' VOTE FOR MARKETING QUOTAS

WHEAT FARMERS these days are talking about two kinds of quotas. One kind is the acreage quota, which has been decreased for next year's winter crop by the Secretary of Agriculture, in view of the large wheat surplus.

Words, if this Meeklenburg farmer gets 20 bushels to the acre on his 80 acres of wheat, his 1,600 bushels will bring him $2,536 at 80 per cent parity price of $2.31 per bushel.

LONG LIVE THE KINGS (THE BUMS)

THE Brooklyn Dodgers, which are a baseball team and a psychological condition combined, have been parading across the sports pages in false costumes lately. The blame must be placed on the sports writers, who have been gabbling over the Bums like bobwhoppers in the lachrymose presence of Johnny Ray.

hat to them—and a sparrow flies out. A Dodger is a robust fellow such as Pen Ridge Day, who would stop his pitching and call upon the Ebbets Field mound when the mood came upon him.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR LOCUSTS

WE HAVE READ if you no doubt have about this being the year of 17-year locusts.

What is the generation? Whenever there is a big murder case in England we are struck anew with the difference in policy between the two nations. You completely ignores the important first step, as practiced here, which is to blame it on somebody from out of town.—Chicago Daily News.

People's Platform

Letters should be brief. The writer's name and address must be given, but may be withheld from publication in the discretion of the Editors. The News reserves the right to condense.

A Prescription For World Ills

ALBEMARLE Editors, The News: THE American people, and this includes the majority of all the American people, are interested in the future of our country and understand the present conditions with our so-called allies in the United Nations. We have just concluded a treaty with a "support regime" that is not an authority, except which is vested in him by Peiping and Moscow leaders, and a negotiated treaty that appears menacing and caused us to lose the respect of the free peoples in most of the world.

Old North State Grew On Him

CICERO, ILL. Editors, The News: ILLINOIS expresses a few personal sentiments in regard to you people of North Carolina. Since childhood, when I first became acquainted with your state and its people, there has been a warm feeling in my heart for both. As a proud older, I got to know personally a number of people from your state and its people, there has been a warm feeling in my heart for both. As a proud older, I got to know personally a number of people from your state and its people, there has been a warm feeling in my heart for both.

Drew Pearson's New JCS Chief Unlike Outgoing Bradley

WASHINGTON TWO great Army officers with a long record of public service retire today. With their retirement may come a drastic change in military policy.

Two Types Of Brass

THERE are two types of officers among the brass in the most difficult cities of the humble, civilian-type, GI type officer; the aggressive, politically minded officer who brings into the civilian field of government.

A Woman Is Too Dumb To Wear Clothes That Suit Her

PARIS. Inevitable woman's business, there is nothing, but nothing, a female can do to please her husband unless she cuts 'em out and has them remodeled.

Farmers Have Vital Stake In Public-Private Power Dispute

WASHINGTON AS THE prices of the things the farmer has to sell continue to drop while the prices of many of the things he buys go up, the political pressure to "move" the farm problem increases. It is to have the biggest domestic victory of an Administration that professes to believe in free enterprise.

Quote, Unquote

"What we need," thundered the political speaker, "is working snafus and the reverse it, mister." came a voice from among his listeners. "What we really need is a majority victory."—Tallahassee (Fla.) Democrat

Fancy Don Admirals

IT was probably the smelliest, most acrimonious interview held in history, that the chief backstage commander of the Navy's battle strategy calls for war, who now becomes Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Feltman has an official uniform in civilian life, but more brightly than Admiral Radford's is the uniform of the Pacific as a result.