Warmer Weather Promised

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON — A little warmer than Wilmington, N. C., was promised for the first real taste of winter yet.

WINNIE MITCHUM tries a warm smile to melt some of the icicles formed from steam coming out of a local lumber company's building. Ice was a common sight around Charlotte this morning as the temperature slipped to sub-freezing 19 degrees. (For more pictures of ice formations see front page of second section).
