

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

Final

SET 'EM UP IN THE OTHER ALLEY

Bricker Bill Compromise Faces Danger

Could Fall Under
'Welter Of Words'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grass-roots Republican leaders faced the possibility today that their efforts to compromise the Bricker constitutional amendment on treaty powers might collapse in a legal welter of words.

Sensors Knowland of California, Ferguson of Michigan and Millikin of Colorado planned to continue the search for language that would be acceptable to President Eisenhower and Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio).

Bricker's proposal would limit the scope of treaties and provide for congressional regulation of other international agreements.

Knowland, the Senate GOP leader, insisted despite weeks of unsuccessful efforts that he was still hopeful an acceptable compromise would be found. He said, "discussions will continue."

But the prospects were not regarded as good by either Bricker or any of the Democratic senators in a secret two-hour conference yesterday. There was no indication that Knowland, Ferguson and Millikin got any new suggestions from Eisenhower at a hurried White House conference—the second of the day—when he met with the meeting with the Democrats.

Bricker's proposed amendment has been technically before the Senate for more than a week, but the debate on it has been mostly in generalities. Pending efforts to arrive at a compromise, the GOP leadership has withheld formal introduction of any substitute.

UNWILLING TO RETREAT
As the situation stood today, Bricker appeared unwilling to retreat from language which Knowland said earlier had Eisenhower "substantial" agreement, but about which questions were understood.

See COMPROMISE on page 2-A

Man Kills Two, Dies In Fight

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., (AP)—An unemployed man fatally shot his wife and 15-year-old daughter in their home last night and died four hours later in a gun battle with police near a tulip greenhouse.

The wife, Mrs. Ethel Anne Seely, 45, a tulip packer, had filed suit for divorce two weeks ago from her husband, Elmer, 68.

A daughter-in-law, Mrs. Patricia Joan Seely, 18, told police Seely came to the house and shot his wife and daughter, Peggy Anne, with a .38 caliber revolver. Mrs. Seely said the men were quarreling in one shoulder and feigned death until his father-in-law left.

Patrolman Chester Wiram said Seely fired at him twice but missed him in the gun battle near Tulip Inc., across the street from Mrs. Seely's home. Seely died in St. Anthony Hospital shortly afterward.

Police said they were told Seely had made threats against other workers at the greenhouse and was carrying a can of kerosene when he went to his wife's home.

Fumes Fell Clerks In Cleveland Store

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fumes overcame 22 clerks and a young girl yesterday at a department store in suburban Fairview Park. Twelve of the women were confined overnight at Bay View Hospital.

Five Chief Officer Baumgardner said that apparently carbon monoxide fumes from a heating plant got into the store's air-conditioning system.

OUR WEATHER

Partly cloudy weather today. Clearing tonight and cooler.

Low temperature this morning, 49 degrees.

Low temperature expected tonight, 34 degrees.

High temperature yesterday, 58 degrees.

High temperature expected today, 62 degrees.

Sunrise, 7:21 a.m.; sunset, 5:13 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2-A

FREE WOMAN

EX-QUEEN NARIAMAN

Narriman Gets Divorce From Former King

CAIRO, Egypt, (AP)—Beautiful, 20-year-old former Queen Nariaman won a quick divorce in a Moslem religious court here today from tubby ex-king Farouk after a month of behind-the-scenes negotiations.

The girl Farouk first saw in 1945 as she shopped for her engagement ring with another man renounced custody of her 2-year-old son, Ahmed Faid, and also dropped her demand that the ex-king personally pay her monthly alimony of 5,000 Egyptian pounds ($14,400) and a dowry allowance of 10,000 pounds ($28,800).

Instead, her lawyer said, she will ask President Mohamed Naguib's revolutionary government to pay her those moneys out of Farouk's properties in Egypt, which the new regime confiscated when he was deposed and exiled him in July 1952.

Her chances of getting the money appear problematical.

Nariaman in her divorce suit has charged her husband with adultery, maltreatment, mental cruelty and estrangement. The settlement prevented the airing of any details that may have escaped newspaper reporters who have avidly followed the ex-king's courtings about Europe with a succession of young women.

Neither the ex-king, whose home is in Italy, nor Nariaman, who lives with her family in suburban Helwan, was in the packed courtroom today.

After their lawyers presented the agreement renouncing alimony and the child's custody, the judge pronounced the divorce.

Secretary Denies Allies Aggressive

Molotov's Own Words
Thrown Back At Him

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

BERLIN (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told the Big Four foreign ministers conference today the Soviet bloc and its one-man rule is the real danger to world peace, not the Western defensive alliance.

This was the American statesman's answer to Soviet Minister Molotov's charges that the Western powers are promoting war in Europe to unify Germany within the family of European nations.

In stinging language, Dulles hurled Molotov's own words back at him. At that time, with Moscow and Berlin in a body-hungry partnership, Molotov called it "not only senseless but criminal" for the Western nations to war against Hitler.

Molotov, in challenging the Western world's motives about peace now, is just as wrong today as he was then, Dulles asserted.

LEADS BROADSIDE
The secretary led the Western broadside against the Russian as a retort to Molotov's unyielding position yesterday. Molotov had stressed that Russia would settle only for a neutral Germany united to have any link with the West and saddled with Communist influence.

Said Dulles: "Perhaps Mr. Molotov would add that he then (in 1939) made a mistake—we all make mistakes. That fact should lead us to be so confident of our judgment that we throw across the table accusations of criminal intent."

Dulles said Molotov had "accused us yesterday of being the enemies of peace."

TERRIFYING SITUATION
"The greatest danger to world peace," Dulles said, "lies in the fact that in some cases a vast military establishment can be used to attack by the decision of a single man. That is a terrifying situation."

He left no doubt that he was talking about the monolithic Soviet regime.

Dulles lit into the Russian's demands for East German Communist participation in any all-German deal and declared the Soviet Union Red regime has been imposed on 19 million helpless people. What more proof does one need, he said, than the fact that a million East Germans have fled west since the last so-called East Zone "elections" in 1950.

In the Eastern Area there is an armed force of 250,000 to keep order," he continued. "That is one guard for 40 persons. In West Germany there is one policeman for 330 persons. Does this shocking discrepancy prove that the East Zone must freely accept the order that their rulers impose?"

The essence of Soviet proposals for Germany is that the Big Four

See SOVIET on page 2-A

Renewal Of Korean Coffee Price Peace Talks Hinted Regulation Is Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States may call on the Communists in Korea today to let bygones be bygones and get on with preliminary peace talks, stalling now for nearly two months.

Top-level State Department officials were wrestling with the problem of how to work a reply to the Communist demand that Special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean return to Panmunjom and resume conversations intended to pave the way for a full-fledged Korean peace conference.

A department spokesman today hesitated to reply to the "very short."

Dean walked out of the preliminary talks at Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had committed South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for Dean to return to Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that

Roosevelt Accuses Wife Of Blackmail

LOS ANGELES (AP)—James Roosevelt, denying his wife's charges that he committed adultery with 12 women, says he won't let her blackmail him when he signed a letter admitting nine infidelities.

After swearing to miss a car coming out of a driveway, tank driver Robert B. Duke lost control of his 27-ton behemoth during a hunt down Lakewood Blvd. in Los Angeles with this result: five automobiles crushed, a power pole flattened, a steel sign smashed, a mailbox flattened, and a house trailer damaged. But no one was injured. The tank came to rest atop the fifth automobile (left) after leaving a trail of wreckage (above). (AP Wirephotos)

He says he knew the letter to be false but he signed it to keep his wife from suing for divorce in 1945 and thereby adding to his father's burdens as president.

This was the answer given to the charges that he committed adultery with 12 women, says he won't let her blackmail him when he signed a letter admitting nine infidelities.

He said also that he will decide before April 2 whether he will run for Congress in the 28th District. Some Democratic party leaders have suggested he withdraw. April 2 is the final date on which to declare candidacy.

HEARING SET
Mrs. Roosevelt Schneider Roosevelt made the adultery charges in filing suit for separate maintenance last Thursday. The letter was filed with her complaint. A preliminary hearing on her demand for support payments has been set for Friday.

"My wife has chosen to make the most ugly accusation which it is possible to make against any man," Roosevelt's statement said. "Each and every allegation of misconduct by the 12 persons mentioned with me is completely false and without foundation."

Roosevelt offered an "special apology to the nine women named in the letter signed by him."

ALL INNOCENT
"Each and every one of them is completely innocent of any misconduct with me," he said. "The harm which has been done to me I can never repair, but I can and do emphasize their innocence, ask their forgiveness and understand the fullness of this unfortunate incident."

From the very beginning, he said, his wife displayed an "unreasonable demand for material security" and developed "an unreasonable fear and jealousy of a social contacts. The result was a calculated campaign" to transfer to her all his material assets "and constant threat to accuse me of imaginary infidelities," he said.

"This pattern reached its climax in the early part of 1945, when I was repeatedly faced with the demand that I acknowledge these imaginary happenings and, as she put it, 'purge my soul.' His statement said, 'I was given an alternative. She

"That it was blackmail I now recognize, but my desire to keep innocent people from unjustified attacks while I was overseas and unable to defend myself, my desire to make, if possible, a success of my marriage and my desire to prevent any anguish to my own family led me to believe in the sincerity of my wife's statement," Roosevelt said.

Upon his return from service he made every effort to "achieve a successful marriage," and he believed his wife finally was convinced that her charges were imaginary when they preceded to have their three children, the statement said. But, he added, her imagined financial insecurity and various psychological factors involved in the marriage "so affected my wife that she had made living together impossible."

"Threats of divorce or suicide," he said, "were an almost daily occurrence."

EVENING PRAYER
Our Heavenly Father, we thank thee for the grace of true repentance and the power to do Thy will. May we put away all evil all thoughts, desires, and purposes, and so be filled with Thy Holy Spirit that we may glorify Thee in all that we say and do, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Comic Dictionary
EARTH
Our planet, the interior of which is very hot but the exterior of which is not so hot.

AND WHITE CAPS

A school-wide survey was underway at Midwood today as Miss Barentine and Mrs. Polly Haughton, the Midwood School nurse, with the help of four other school nurses were examining all of the school's nearly 800 students.

LAMP USE
The method of detection is through the use of the Woods Lamp, an instrument that sheds a purple light which turns to green when the disease is in the hair.

A pronounced greenish ring shows readily when a child's hair is affected. And by the use of this lamp, this is revealed long before the scales shed on the scalp itself.

When presence of the malady is noted, the nurse refers the youngster to his doctor for professional treatment which consists mainly of the use of ointment.

And a covering must be worn on the head. Here and there in the various classrooms at Midwood School are pupils, mostly boys, bending over their desks doing their schoolwork with caps on their heads.

WHITE TOPS
Miss Barentine said stockinet and elastic material that fits snugly on the head is used and in the different classes these white-capped youngsters are seen scattered about among their fellows.

Sailor hats as well as other types of caps are acceptable and all kinds were in evidence. One boy was wearing a black sombrero but beneath it was a tight-fitting length of white stockinet.

The young ladies can have the disease and still be in style. The fashionable white knitted caps the little girls and their big sisters are wearing now were occasionally in evidence in the Midwood classrooms.

The youngsters with the caps don't seem to mind and their fellow-students apparently make no references to the unusual headgear. Miss Barentine says this attitude helps to combat the malady and it is hoped that the disease can be halted.

Here is a group of boys in a classroom at Midwood where school nurses are waging a vigorous battle to stop the spread of an infectious scalp ringworm. Wearing of a snug-fitting cap is part of the treatment of these affected and these six boys are sporting the sort of headgear ordered by the doctor.

PURPLE LAMP

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

See SOVIET on page 2-A

By DICK YOUNG
Charlotte News Staff Writer

Six boys lined up in front of the drawn curtain on the stage in Midwood school, and turned and twisted as 8-year-olds are wont.

"Do they mess up your hair?" asked one. He had that well-groomed look.

"I should worry. I've got a crew cut," said the hefty youngster next in line.

From the end of the line came, "I'm a GI," and he did have that well-known look of World War II.

"I'm sure glad they ain't taking blood," said a solemn-faced youngster.

NURSES AT WORK
But back of the curtain in the pitch-dark on the stage was a more serious group—a corps of efficient public health nurses who were fingering through a girl's hair as she sat beneath a lamp shedding a purplish glow.

They were about a serious business of combating the spread of an infectious disease of the scalp, malady that already has affected 16 pupils in the Midwood school.

Audummi was being sought.

In non-medical terms, that's ringworm of the scalp, a disfiguring malady particularly so when girls are affected because their hair grows out in patches.

And, too, it's difficult to locate until it has taken its toll and bald spots begin to appear.

And strangely enough, it seems to attack the little fellows because Miss Ann Barentine, nursing director of the City Health Dept., said the disease disappears in adolescent and teenagers are rarely affected because their hair grows out in patches.

But at the moment the situation is one of concern to the nursing director and her staff.