Rock Fall Changes Looks Of Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — The face of the American Falls, its thundering beauty imprinted on the memories of millions of mooners, were a new look today. The change in the American position of the great cataract took place yesterday with the collapse into the Niagara River gorge of an estimated 185,000 tons of rock carried from the top of the 170-foot chasm was most of the well-known observation area—Prospect Point—and a huge pie-shaped chunk of the American Falls itself.

WOMAN, HORSE DEAD IN BIZARRE SUICIDE

PHILADELPHIA — Trudy Tollin went horseback riding in scenic Fairmount Park yesterday. The 31-year-old woman and her horse, "Bebe", were a familiar sight on the park bridle paths for the past several years. A short while later a mounted park policeman came across a bizarre scene in a secluded wooded glen near the lively stable where Miss Tollin kept her horse. The young woman and her mount lay side by side. Both had been shot through the head with a 22 caliber rifle which was rigged to a nearby tree branch. The horse's head was covered with a blue denim shirt. Police said the woman apparently shot the horse and then took her own life. In her hand were five playing cards—a pair of aces and three eights, full house in poker and a combination close to the traditional "dead man's hand" of the same game, two aces and two eights. Carved on the wooden stock of the death rifle was this inscription: "Speak not in anger. In mercy, whisper, in vengeance, in sin." Sgt. Edward McCann, the park guard who found the two said he also discovered a note tied to the trunk of the tree. The note addressed to her brother, Arthur, in New York, it said Miss Tollin planned to take her own life for 10 years and expressed regret for "any inconvenience."

'Full Dress' Argument On Schedule

Smith Proposes Committee Probe

By G. MILTON KELLY WASHINGTON — Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, today proposed to allow a "full dress debate" on proposals that the Senate censure or investigate Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). It is to begin tomorrow and Knowland said it may also occupy Saturday and Monday sessions. Knowland also told reporters he had nothing to do with a move by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) to push aside a motion of censure of McCarthy being pressed by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.). Smith proposed that instead, a committee of six senators, with Vice President Nixon acting as chairman, be named to investigate and report on McCarthy's alleged good or evil of so-called "McCarthyism."

Senate Tax Vote Slated

By JOE HALL WASHINGTON — A revision bill, which he terms the cornerstone of his 1954 domestic program, today may clear its final congressional hurdle. The Senate planned to take up the 1,000-page measure, a complete overhaul of the nation's tax laws, sometime during the afternoon barring a last-minute program change. Republican leaders predicted confidently they had the votes to send the compromise bill to the President's desk, in the face of last-night's battle by some Democrats to knock out of the bill a controversial tax cut on dividends to stockholders. Their chances of success appeared small since Sen. George D. Aiken, top Democratic member of the Senate Finance Committee, was ready to go along with the compromise bill. He said the good news yesterday, Democrats there today, is that the House passed the bill, a compromise of separate Senate and House versions, by a 216-77 vote yesterday. Democrats there today, 227-119, in an attempt to knock out the dividend tax relief.

With Antisubversives Measures

McCarran Charges Brownell Playing Politics

By JOHN CHADWICK WASHINGTON — Sen. McCarran today charged that Sen. Brownell has injected politics into national security and that this accounts in part for a lack of action against administration's antisubversive bills. "Most, if not all, of the other major parts of the administration program, leaders of both parties agreed, seem likely to pass in some form. McCarran also said some of the antisubversive measures submitted to Congress by the Justice Department "have been so loosely drawn that they rattle. He is former chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and its Red-hunting Internal Security subcommittee. President Eisenhower yesterday urged passage of the anti-Communist measures before Congress adjourns, listing them along with foreign aid, social security, labor, tax revision, social security, foreign aid and housing measures. The President told his news conference he would be more than disappointed if Congress does not adjourn without passing the antisubversive bills. Boy's 'Perfect Crime' Proves Not So Perfect

BROOKLINE, Mass. — Police said an 18-year-old schoolboy committed the blood-soaked murder of his 22-year-old dressmaker, with a rolling pin in an attempt to commit what he called "the perfect crime." Mrs. Schonarth was found dead yesterday on her living room floor. In addition to having been stabbed through the chest. Arraigned in municipal court on a charge of murder, Ronald S. Blumenthal of Brookline, a husky six-footer of 200 pounds with a crew haircut, entered a mandatory plea of innocent and was held without bail for hearing Aug. 5. Dist. Atty. Myron Lane said the blond, preparatory school student "has told us everything." Police Capt. Joseph Mahoney said officers had not been able to determine a motive for the slaying beyond Blumenthal's statement that he was seized with "an overwhelming desire to kill" while playing Mrs. Schonarth for repairing his raincoat. Blumenthal is expected to appear in court today. Officers said young Blumenthal, son of a Boston liquor store proprietor, had boasted he would one day commit "the perfect crime."
