Thrill-Seeking Youths Face Charges In Deaths Of 2 Men

NEW YORK—Four youths, who authorities said "got a kick out of seeing blood flow," have been charged with prowling Brooklyn parks at night and wantonly torturing almost anyone they found. At least two persons were slain, authorities said.

Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver said yesterday the youths admitted beating and kicking a man to death, horsewhipping teenage girls and torturing a "ragged and throwing him into the East River."

Silver said the youths, ranging from 15 to 18 years of age, apparently had no reason for the crimes except the thrill they got.

"They committed crimes for pleasure and hatred and got a kick out of seeing blood flow," Silver said.

"I can't understand what would make boys do such terrible things."

Two of them were charged with murder, one with felonious assault and the fourth, because of his age, with juvenile delinquency.

The four were nabbed early yesterday after a passerby told police he had just seen four boys beat a man in Lou Sobel Park. They confessed to the crimes after all-day questioning, Silver said.

Their ory of crime started on Aug. 6, Silver said, when two of the gang attacked

Rheinhold Ulrickson, a 43-year-old homeless and destitute alcoholic, beating and kicking him to insensibility. He died 12 hours later at Greenport Hospital.

Last Monday, Silver continued, they raided Washington Park where they beat two elderly men, apparently not fatally.

Later that night they waylaid and horsewhipped two young girls. The whip was seized by police in the home of one of the youths.

Silver said that after that the gang set upon a Negro sleeping on a bench, who had no shoes or socks on. They burned his feet with lighted cigarettes, beat him unmercifully, dragged him to the East River and threw him into the water. The man, who has not been identified, apparently drowned.

Charged with homicide in the Ulrickson death were Melvin Mittman and Jerome Lieberman, both 17. Jack Koslow, 18, was accused of felonious assault and Robert Trachtenberg, 15, was charged with juvenile delinquency.

All but Koslow are from the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn.

Silver quoted Koslow, of Manhattan, as saying he had "an abstract hatred for bums—I despise them."

"Last night was a supreme adventure for me."

Facilities 'Deplorable', Report Says

Air-Conditioning As Temporary Aid Asked

By ANN SAWYER
Charlotte News Staff Writer

The Mecklenburg grand jury described the present Health Dept. facilities today as "deplorable" and recommended that the city and county erect a new building.

"Nothing less than a complete new building and equipment would meet the requirements of our city and county," the 18-man body wrote in its quarterly report to Judge Frank M. Armstrong, presiding in Criminal Superior Court.

As temporary relief, the grand jury recommended that air-conditioning units be installed in the overcrowded and inadequate facilities.

The present grand jury is not the first one to recommend changes in the city-county Health Dept.

Construction of a completely new Health Center has been urged by the city and county health boards and the Mecklenburg County Medical Society. One health committee which studied conditions at the 4th St. Health Bldg. said it is "inadequate, over-crowded, ill-arranged and obsolete."

The grand jury also recommended immediate construction of a new County Home which is now being planned. If the commission-ers decide to furnish the Sanatorium with pasteurized milk, the grand jury recommended that a pasteurization plant be located at the County Home. It had high praise for John Miller who operates the County Home farm and dairy.

Pentagon Denies Knowledge

Koreans Say GIs To Go Home

WASHINGTON—Diplomatic officials of the South Korean National Assembly reported in Seoul, however, that this nation plans to take three of its six divisions out of Korea by the end of the year.

Diplomatic officials in Washington, declining the use of their names, said that there has not yet been any firm decision on the matter.

Philip Han, minister from the Republic of Korea, said Korean officials here have been conferring with top men at the Pentagon and the State Department in an effort to forestall any such withdrawal of troops.

State Department officials declined to make an immediate public statement. Inquiries were referred to the Pentagon, where a flat "yes" or "no" could not be obtained.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Army chief of staff, has gone on record as declaring any substantial weakening of U.S. divisions in the Far East must be avoided.

In the light of Ridgway's expressed opinion, Defense officials said they were inclined to interpret the reports as meaning the United States might be planning to move some troops from South Korea to nearby Okinawa.

Diplomatic officials in Washington said, however, that if the troops are moved from Korea, they might be sent to the Hawaiian Islands.

There are now six U.S. divisions in Korea: the First Marines and the 2nd, 3rd, 7th, 24th and 25th Army Divisions. Which of these would be removed under the proposed plan could not be learned.

Two divisions—the 40th and 45th—already have been sent back to the United States.

If the withdrawal takes place, it would be under the same terms.

Bandit Takes $3,000 From Vanceboro Bank

VANCEBORO, N.C.—An armed bandit today held up the Vanceboro branch of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Co. of Greenville Bank officials reported a preliminary survey showed that he escaped with between "three and four thousand dollars."

The FBI said it believed two men were involved in the robbery. It said one man, carrying a gun, entered the small bank and fled with currency after forcing assistant cashier R.B. Whitley and teller Mavis Simkins to lie on the floor.

At Greenville, N.C., headquarters for the bank, President W.H. Woulard described the bandit who entered the bank as about "five feet nine inches, 150 pounds and dark complexioned." Woulard made the preliminary estimate of the amount of the loot.

Vanceboro, a farming town, is 17 miles north of New Bern.

While the robbery was in progress, Elmon Ippock, a farmer of Vanceboro, entered the bank. The gunman told him to join Whitley and Mrs. Simkins on the floor.

MORALE HARM

Han said the withdrawal of any U.S. troops would "harm the morale" of South Koreans and would be "strategically wrong" in view of what he called the buildup of Communist forces in North Korea.

State Department officials declined to make an immediate public statement. Inquiries were referred to the Pentagon, where a flat "yes" or "no" could not be obtained.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Army chief of staff, has gone on record as declaring any substantial weakening of U.S. divisions in the Far East must be avoided.

Dr. Sheppard Back In Jail

CLEVELAND—His freedom cut short by a first-degree murder indictment, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard was back today in the dim, 4 x 8-foot jail cell he occupied from July 30 until Monday morning.

The handsome 30-year-old osteopath was eating cherry pie in the kitchen of his father's home when sheriff's deputies came to rearrest him. They let him finish eating.

He was there for supper after visiting with Chip, his 7-year-old son. The boy has been living with an uncle since the July 4 morning when his mother was clubbed to death in her bed.

The deputies arrived at the senior Sheppard's home an hour after six men and nine women grand jurors returned the indictment charging that the athletic osteopath "unlawfully, purposely and of deliberate and premeditated malice, killed Marilyn Sheppard," his 31-year-old pregnant wife.

Sheppard had been free on $50,000 bail for 29 1/2 hours. During most of that time the grand jury listened to a parade of 15 witnesses testifying on his case. They deliberated about 40 minutes.

Slight Delay Seems Likely For Hearings

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said today the special Senate committee to investigate charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) may have to postpone for a few days the scheduled Aug. 30 start of its public hearings.

Watkins, head of the committee, made the statement at a news conference held in connection with former Republican Congressman E. Wallace Chadwick's taking on the job of counsel to the group.

Chadwick, a Chester, Pa., lawyer, pledged to do "an impartial, objective job."

Watkins also said he had advised that McCarthy's defense counsel, Washington lawyer Edward Bennett Williams, had refused to testify as a fee any part of a $10,000 fund the committee had set aside from its own money to provide McCarthy with counsel.

Williams had announced last night he considered it would be "improper" for him to accept money from the committee.

On the possibility of a delay in starting the hearings, Watkins said it took longer to find a counsel than had been expected, and Chadwick has had no chance yet to start studying the case.

"We still plan to open Aug. 30," Watkins continued, "but we do intend to force the legal staff to work under heavy pressure to meet that date. One or two days would not be important."

Presbyterians To Study Segregation

W. E. Price of Charlotte is one of seven members of the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina's special committee to study the abolition of segregation in Synod-supported schools.

At its annual meeting here last month, the Synod authorized Dr. James A. Jones, pastor of Myers Park Presbyterian Church and moderator of the group, to appoint an ad interim committee to study the issue and report at next year's meeting at Barium Springs. Dr. Jones announced the appointments today.

Other members of the committee appointed include the Rev. W. T. Thompson, professor at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., chairman; the Rev. R. Murphy Williams, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Wilson; E. H. Evans, Launenburg businessman; the Rev. Kelsey Regen, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Durham; J. H. Clark, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Winston-Salem; and the Rev. Julian Lake, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Winston-Salem.

Mr. Price is a former moderator of the Synod and of the General Assembly.

RESOLUTIONS
At its July meeting, resolutions regarding segregation were introduced from the floor. It was at that time that the provisions for an ad interim committee was authorized to study the question and report at the next meeting.

The action came as the result of a recommendation by the Presbyterian General Assembly that Synods and Presbyteries eliminate

Hearing Waived In Stabbing Case

BURLINGTON, N.C.—Mrs. Francis Neal, 18, of Burlington, today waived preliminary hearing in city recorder's court in a charge of murdering Mrs. Sumner McGill, 19, of Shelbyville, Ky., on a Burlington street last Friday.

Mrs. Neal was bound over to Alamance Superior Court's October term.

Mrs. Neal's husband, Sgt. Robert Neal, who received a slight shoulder wound in the fatal stabbing incident, was sentenced to 12 months today by Judge C. C. Capers in recorder's court in a charge of a charge of occupying a hotel room for immoral purposes.

George Best, Burlington hotel manager, testified that Neal and a woman he identified as Mrs. McGill registered as man and wife at his hotel last week.
