McCarthy Set To Testify Next Week

No Surprises So Far In Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) probably will take the stand early next week as his own chief witness against censure charges.

That prospect—with its attendant likelihood of fireworks—tore the major share of attention today as Senate investigators, their own record virtually complete on accusations they chose as the major ones, turned to the question of what to do with remaining charges.

The special Senate committee itself is in recess until Tuesday, because of the funeral of Sen. Maybank (D-S.C.) today and the Labor Day holiday Monday. But staff members were busy with closed-door studies of the 33 charges yet to be disposed of.

Just what happens Tuesday is undecided, since the committee has promised to do something with every one of 46 counts.

"We haven't closed the door on anything," said Chairman Watkins (R-Utah).

But the general expectation is that the committee, perhaps after a little more tag-end evidence and its own, will turn matters over to the defense.

EXPECTS TO TESTIFY

"I anticipate I will be a witness," McCarthy told newsmen. Neither he nor his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, was disclosing strategy. They would say whether there will be any witnesses besides McCarthy himself.

The only announcement from Williams was that "we'll be ready to go on Tuesday."

The hearings so far have been almost entirely a rehash of old records and testimony.

Under orders from the Senate, the committee is considering a resolution by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) to condemn McCarthy's conduct as tending to bring the Senate into disrepute. Backing up the resolution, Flanders and Senators Morse (Ind-Ore) and Fulbright (Ark.) aimed 46 overlapping, specific charges against McCarthy.

To get things started, the committee skipped some charges and lumped the others into five major categories. Working with unexpected speed, it finished putting into the record by mid-afternoon yesterday the documentary evidence, mostly from transcripts of prior hearings of other committees.

CHARGES COVERED

The two categories covered yesterday were charges that McCarthy (1) may have violated the espionage law by bringing into the recent McCarthy Army hearings a document quoting a secret FBI report, and (2) urged government employees to break the law and violate their oaths by giving him secret information.

Long excerpts from the Army-McCarthy hearings were read into the record retracing the story of how McCarthy produced last May 4 what he said was a letter from

Nixon Links McCarthy And Democratic Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were at least two versions today of the language Vice President Nixon said to have used in comparing Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell of the Democratic National Committee.

Neither version appeared to please either McCarthy or Mitchell. Nixon could not be reached immediately by newsmen.

He spoke at a closing meeting of the GOP National Committee in Cincinnati Wednesday night. A committee source who asked not to be named said he declared in effect there is not much to choose between "the blasts of McCarthy and the drawing room innuendoes of Mitchell."

A Cleveland News dispatch from Cincinnati by staff writer Thomas Vail quoted Nixon as saying: "I can't see much difference in the belittling of Sen. McCarthy and the blasts of Mitchell. In fact, Mitchell is using the McCarthy technique."

McCarthy commented: "I'm sure I don't like the comparison any better than Mitchell probably will."

Mitchell told a reporter from his vacation ranch at Tass, N.M.: "You can't figure out from this report whether Nixon and the other Republican leaders finally have decided that McCarthy is a liability to them."

Mitchell added that Nixon "is an expert on Sen. McCarthy but I don't think he knows much about me," and he said:

"I thought when you mentioned Nixon's name you were going to tell me the Republicans were announcing another Nixon TV extravaganza to claim the Dixon-Yates deal for private exploitation of atomic power was white as snow."

"What was the name of Nixon's dog?"

Mitchell has been criticizing as "a raw deal" — and Republicans have been stoutly defending — an order by President Eisenhower for the Atomic Energy Commission to contract for electric power with a combine known as Dixon-Yates in Tennessee Valley Authority territory.

Ministers Resign From French Cabinet

Legionnaires Note Inroads By Communism

Promise Fight For Military Training

By RUSSELL BRINES
WASHINGTON (AP)—The rear guard of the 8th annual American Legion convention started home today with a new national commander at the helm and a stack of resolutions that he hopes will influence government policy.

The four-day convention ended officially yesterday afternoon, with the veterans voicing in no uncertain terms their indignation about communism at home and abroad.

Congress is certain to hear of fresh Legion demands for universal military training (UMT), for new anticommunist legislation and investigations and for increased veterans' benefits.

Seaborn P. Collins Jr. of Las Cruces, N.M., yesterday elected national commander for the coming year, pledged a vigorous campaign to carry out dozens of resolutions calling for direct Legion action or to make its opinions known.

Collins, a World War II flier, was chosen unanimously to succeed Arthur J. Conell of Middle town, Conn.

The convention also elected these other new officers:

Vice Commanders Leonard Jackson, Clark, La.; Robert Shelby, Salt Lake City; Howard C. King, Cincinnati, Ohio; Patrick H. Mangan Jr., Brattleboro, Vt.; Dr. Carl J. Rees, Newark, Del.; and national chaplain, the Rev. Albert J. Hoffmann, Deluge, Iowa.

WANTS ACTION

The convention overwhelmingly approved resolutions putting the Legion on record as:

Communism at home — Full support was voted for congressional Committee on Un-American Activities — that includes the Senate Investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) with the recommendation they be given "ample funds" to continue investigating "with no limitation of their present powers."

Defeated was an attempt to have the Legion oppose methods "which violate the traditional American concepts of the process of law which are abusive of witnesses."

The convention also called for congressional action to expose contributors to Communist front organizations and to pass additional anti-Communist legislation.

Communism abroad — The Legion called on the government to warn Red China and Soviet Russia that further aggression in Southeast Asia would bring immediate military retaliation, by the United States alone if necessary.

It urged the government to study the possibility of severing all diplomatic relations with Russia and its satellites, of curtailing trade with Russia as fully as practicable, and of getting allies to eliminate all trade with Red China.

Global security — The Legion promised an all-out fight for a UMT law that would guarantee at least six weeks' training.

Vietminh Free Nondiscrimination Bill Signed By President

5 Americans

By OLEN CLEMENTS

SAGON, Indochina (AP)—The U.S. Embassy announced today that the "official" return of five American military technicians captured by the Vietminh near Tourane June 14.

They will be flown tomorrow morning directly to Clark Field in the Philippines.

All five were reported in good health. They had been nabbed by the Vietminh on a beach near Tourane, where they had apparently gone for a swim. The beach was out of bounds for the approximately 200 Americans who had been working in the area servicing American-supplied planes used by the French in the battle for Dien Bien Phu.

The Vietminh turned the five over to the French at Qui Nhon in Central Indochina Tuesday.

The order ratifies recommendations the President's Committee on Government Contracts recently made to purchasing agencies of the government.

That committee was set up by the President when he vacated in Colorado last summer. It is headed by Vice President Nixon.

The order Eisenhower signed today defines prohibitions against discriminatory employment practices based on race, color, religion or national origin.

It also provides for posting of a conspicuous notice by government contractors to acquaint employees and applicants for jobs with the fact that the contractor operates under the nondiscrimination clause.

The government contract committee's recommendations were drafted by a special subcommittee headed by Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers.

The revised nondiscrimination clause says:

"In connection with the performance of work under this contract, the contractor agrees not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, religion, color or national origin."

The contractor agrees to post, in conspicuous places available to employees or applicants for employment, notices to be provided by the contracting officer setting forth the provisions of the nondiscrimination clause.

The contractor further agrees to insert the foregoing provision in all subcontracts — except subcontracts for standard commercial supplies or raw materials.

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed an executive order designed to clarify and strengthen provisions of the standard hiring and firing nondiscrimination clause included in all government contracts with private industry.

Eisenhower, who returned from a Rocky Mountain fishing trip late yesterday, put his signature to the order shortly after arriving at the summer White House at Lowry Air Force Base this morning.

The order ratifies recommendations the President's Committee on Government Contracts recently made to purchasing agencies of the government.

Premier Hit For Failure To Back EDC

Total Of Six Have Left Jobs

PARIS (AP)—Three pro-European army ministers resigned from Premier Pierre Mendès France's Cabinet today, protesting that he did not fight to win approval of the treaty in the National Assembly.

The resignations brought to six those who have left the government over the EDC issue. Previously, three pulled out because they felt Mendès France was not strongly enough opposed to the treaty.

Since the Assembly is not now in session, the resignations will not affect his government immediately.

The three who pulled out today were Justice Minister Emile Hughes and Minister of Industry and Commerce Maurice Bourges-Maunory, both of the Radical Socialist (moderate) party, and Labor Minister Eugene Claudius-Petit, a member of the small Democratic and Socialist Union of the Resistance (UDSR).

In a joint statement they said: "For those who feel that a common defense of Europe is necessary, it is necessary after the assembly vote on the Paris treaty (EDC) to seek a new formula which could be accepted by the French parliament. If such a community organization of European nations was to be refused, France would run the risk of having to consent or suffer the uncontrollable rearmament of a sovereign Germany, or to renounce the defense of Europe within the framework of her alliances."

LIKE SOME POINTS
However, the ministers added they were in agreement with the government on many points and were ready to consent or approve, as deputies, any "realistic solution" offered by the government.

The three emerged from a meeting of the cabinet to announce their resignation. The ministers continuing without them and there was no indication whether the premier had actually accepted the resignations.

The three cabinet posts left vacant by the earlier resignation of anti-EDC ministers, headed by Defense Minister Pierre Koenig, have not since been filled.

The latest resignations would leave Mendès France with only a skeleton government should the posts long remain vacant.

TURN FAUCET AND COMES OUT GASOLINE

TOKYO (AP)—It was supposed to be a water faucet, but all Mrs. Asayoshi Hasegawa could get out of it was a burst of fire.

She was preparing her supper when water splashing from the faucet burst into flames, which quickly destroyed the kitchen.

Firemen finally traced the trouble to a faulty water main. Pressure from an oil refinery storage tank forced gasoline into pipes serving 10 homes in the neighborhood.
