

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

 FINAL

Largest Evening Newspaper In The Two Carolinas

Charlotte, North Carolina, Tuesday, January 11, 1955

22 Pages—Price Five Cents

ESTABLISHED DEC. 8, 1888

WOMEN'S HOSE LACK VARIETY, MAN CLAIMS

NEW YORK (AP) — Department store executives heard today that the average American woman owns less than four pairs of nylon hose—and they all look alike.

John H. Noble, 31, of Detroit, who was released by the Russians on Saturday after 9 1/2 years imprisonment, told a news conference the vast network of prisons in Russia "needs only a spark" to explode into open revolt.

Ex-Slave Laborer Tells Of Revolt

By TOM REEDY BERLIN (AP) — An American released from a Soviet slave labor camp at Vorkuta said today a rebellion flared there in July, 1953, in which guards moved out of the prisoners on the spot and wounded 500 more.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

$101 Billion Road Program Recommended

Presidential Board Unveils 10-Year Plan

By HERB ALTSCHULL WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's Highway Advisory Commission recommended today a $101-billion program to modernize the nation's highways in the next 10 years.

The commission said the present 2-cent-a-gallon federal gasoline tax should meet all costs of the $11,225,000,000 U.S. government's share of the program.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

The program calls for an expenditure of 29 billions by federal, state and local governments over the next decade as part of a "grand plan" for a properly articulated highway system that solves the problems of speeding, safe transportation—access highways—and farm-to-market movement.

THE PICTURE YOU ARE LOOKING AT is one of the most unusual ever made in this state. It is an overall view of Superior Criminal Court now in session here, and is one of the very few courtroom pictures ever allowed in North Carolina. It was probably the first time that a photographer was allowed to take pictures at this in a Superior Court case.

Judge Rules Out Flash Bulbs

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

By ANN SAWYER Charlotte News Staff Writer Superior Court Judge Francis O. Clarkson, in an unprecedented move here, has admitted a Charlotte News photographer to take pictures of courtroom activity.

At the recess of Criminal Superior Court late yesterday, Judge Clarkson said Photographer Jeep Hunter "didn't bother me a bit."

"It's all right," the Judge said, "to take one or two pictures in the courtroom. There were no flashbulbs—no posing—no interruptions and commotion."

Permission to take pictures while court was in session yesterday was granted by Judge Clarkson on the condition that no flash bulbs be used after court convened.

His primary consideration was for an undisturbed court. "It is thought to be the first time working photographers have been permitted to photograph a court procedure in Mecklenburg."

Ordinarily photographers are limited in their coverage of court matters to the corridors outside the courtroom, or the chambers behind the room.

Judge Clarkson has indicated that he will pass on each future request for picture-taking separately.

Solicitor Basil L. Whitener and his assistant, Charles E. Knox, saw no objection to Photographer Jeep Hunter's taking pictures yesterday. They were not distracted in their work, they said.

Solicitor Whitener did voice objection to pictures being taken during an important trial. He said he feels it might "interfere with justice."

City Detective Capt. W. A. McCall, one of the witnesses said he was not bothered by the photographer. He had no objection to pictures taken in the courtroom.

Before Criminal Superior Court convened for the day yesterday.

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

Clarkson Allows Photography In Court

President Links Postal Pay And Rates

Civil Service Health Plan Also Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower urged Congress today to boost the pay of government Civil Service and postal workers by about 5 per cent and at the same time raise postal rates. He also proposed a health insurance program for government workers.

The President estimated the pay raise would cost $339,500,000 a year and that the cost to the government of the health program would be $5 million a year.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Hammarskjold Thanks Chou For Hospitality

By DAVID J. ROADS HONG KONG (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, arriving in Hong Kong from Peking tonight, disclosed he had thanked the Chinese Premier Chou En-lai for his hospitality.

The U.N. chief remained mum on the results of his mission seeking the release of 11 American airmen held by Red China as spies and other U.N. personnel imprisoned by the Chinese.

Hammarskjold told 50 waiting newsmen at Kowloon, Hong Kong's main island station, he would make tonight a Scandinavian mission statement on his mission until he made his report to the U.N. General Assembly which sent him.

As the Hammarskjold party crossed into the British crown colony at the frontier station of Loewai he sent a cable back to Chou saying:

"On leaving your country, I wish to convey to you on behalf of my colleagues and myself our warm appreciation of the welcome given us. Your courteous and hospitable and the unfailing assistance of everyone with whom we came in contact has rendered this a most memorable experience, for which we all of us stand in gratitude."

The secretary general told newsmen, smiling, that: "This isn't a press conference."

But he read out the sentences from his cable to Chou. Hammarskjold is scheduled to leave tonight at the Government House in Hong Kong before flying on to Tokyo and thence to the United States. He is due back at U.N. headquarters in New York Saturday. He is to leave for Tokyo at 8 a.m. tomorrow (7 p.m. EST mainland station) aboard a Scandinavian Airways System plane.

Despite the lack of any mention in his cable to Chou, Hammarskjold is scheduled to leave tonight at the Government House in Hong Kong before flying on to Tokyo and thence to the United States. He is due back at U.N. headquarters in New York Saturday. He is to leave for Tokyo at 8 a.m. tomorrow (7 p.m. EST mainland station) aboard a Scandinavian Airways System plane.

Despite the lack of any mention in his cable to Chou, Hammarskjold is scheduled to leave tonight at the Government House in Hong Kong before flying on to Tokyo and thence to the United States. He is due back at U.N. headquarters in New York Saturday. He is to leave for Tokyo at 8 a.m. tomorrow (7 p.m. EST mainland station) aboard a Scandinavian Airways System plane.

Despite the lack of any mention in his cable to Chou, Hammarskjold is scheduled to leave tonight at the Government House in Hong Kong before flying on to Tokyo and thence to the United States. He is due back at U.N. headquarters in New York Saturday. He is to leave for Tokyo at 8 a.m. tomorrow (7 p.m. EST mainland station) aboard a Scandinavian Airways System plane.

Despite the lack of any mention in his cable to Chou, Hammarskjold is scheduled to leave tonight at the Government House in Hong Kong before flying on to Tokyo and thence to the United States. He is due back at U.N. headquarters in New York Saturday. He is to leave for Tokyo at 8 a.m. tomorrow (7 p.m. EST mainland station) aboard a Scandinavian Airways System plane.

25,800 Chickens Lost In Mount Airy Fire

MOUNT AIRY (AP) — An early morning blaze today destroyed the old 165-room White Sulphur Springs Hotel which last summer became "the world's largest chicken house."

Mrs. Fred Beamer, the owner, estimated the building loss at $30,000. She said only a small amount of insurance was carried.

Houston Simmons and Garnet Goding, poultry raisers, said 25,800 chickens valued at $15,000 were destroyed. Most of the chickens were ready for market, they said.

The rambling old hotel which attracted thousands of vacationers for three decades was located on the Galax highway three miles from Mount Airy. No one knew this morning exactly how the fire started. It was discovered around 1:30 a.m. and was already had gained considerable headway.

Since no fire-fighting facilities were available in the area, the flames ate rapidly at the dry wooden structure. In only a few hours, it had burned completely.

The main portion of the hotel was four stories high with wings on either end which were five stories high. It had not been used for hotel purposes in about 20 years.

WHAT'S INSIDE

TAKE MOZART INSTEAD OF ASPIRIN. That's the advice of North Carolina's Kermit Hunter in a discussion of contemporary culture on today's editorial page. Turn to 6A.

Business — 4A Obituaries — 3B Classified — 7-9B Radio & TV — 3B Comics — 4B Serials — 3A Crossword — 2B Sports — 4-5B Editorials — 6A Theaters — 8A Features — 2B Women — 1B-11A

Business — 4A Obituaries — 3B Classified — 7-9B Radio & TV — 3B Comics — 4B Serials — 3A Crossword — 2B Sports — 4-5B Editorials — 6A Theaters — 8A Features — 2B Women — 1B-11A

Sen. Blythe Supports Auto Inspection Bill

Sen. F. J. (Jack) Blythe of Charlotte today gave support and received support on two vital issues before the 1955 General Assembly.

Sen. Blythe told The News by telephone from Raleigh he "would support vigorously" a motor vehicle inspection bill, as suggested by Edward Scheidt, commissioner of motor vehicles, in a speech in Winston-Salem last night.

"I was in favor of the measure last time and I will support it again," the Senator said. Mr. Scheidt told the N. C. Automotive Wholesalers Association: "The repeal of the mechanical inspection law by the legislature several years ago was, in my opinion, a very serious step backwards."

"We don't need to justify me on the basis of statistics, although they are difficult to do so. What could be more obvious than the fact that an automobile with poor brakes, faulty lights or other defects is a menace on the highways?"

Mr. Blythe reported that he was receiving good support in his bid for senatorial re-election. He has asked Senate President Luther Barnhardt to appoint a commission to study re-districting and to report back to the Senate with conclusions and recommendations.

Meanwhile, on the other side of the Assembly, the House's Calendar Committee meets today and Rep. E. M. O'Herron of Mecklenburg will meet with that group.

Mr. O'Herron was appointed by Speaker Larry I. Moore in Mr. Moore's first official act as Speaker.

While House members resumed a study today of the appropriations bill, Delaware County detectives said they had arrested a man in the police questioning, quoted Strozier, a junior, was the son of after suffering a nervous breakdown as saying that he became Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Strozier, down.

While House members resumed a study today of the appropriations bill, Delaware County detectives said they had arrested a man in the police questioning, quoted Strozier, a junior, was the son of after suffering a nervous breakdown as saying that he became Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Strozier, down.

While House members resumed a study today of the appropriations bill, Delaware County detectives said they had arrested a man in the police questioning, quoted Strozier, a junior, was the son of after suffering a nervous breakdown as saying that he became Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Strozier, down.

While House members resumed a study today of the appropriations bill, Delaware County detectives said they had arrested a man in the police questioning, quoted Strozier, a junior, was the son of after suffering a nervous breakdown as saying that he became Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Strozier, down.

OUR WEATHER

Partly cloudy and cold today. Clearing and colder tonight. Tomorrow, mostly sunny and warmer. Low temperature this morning 36 degrees. High temperature yesterday 49 degrees. High temperature expected tonight 55 degrees. Low temperature expected tomorrow 49 degrees. High temperature expected tomorrow 55 degrees. Sunrise 7:32 a.m.; sunset 5:30 p.m. More Weather Data on Page 2-A.

See IKE ASKS on page 2-A

EVENING PRAYER

Father in heaven, we would have a renewed sense of Thy will and Thy truth for our lives. Cause us to remember that Thou art with us. We pray for Thy will and Thy truth for our lives. Amen.

Goaded By Pranks

Enraged Student Kills Another

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP) — An enraged last night at pranks played of Akron. The elder Strozier is a Swarthmore College student who on him by other students. Hunt was president of the Ohio Edison was planning to enter the ministry said that Bechtel then went to his home in Portstow, about 35 miles from Akron. Strozier's roommate, Dean Everett L. Hunt, who sat at the table with Strozier and Witt were admitted firing the shot which took sleeping.

Hunt said Bechtel was proctor in charge of the floor where Strozier was attending Swarthmore on a scholarship which he supplemented by working odd jobs, including being a janitor at the school.

Police said Bechtel was in the room at 3:30 a.m. when he fired five shots into the room where Strozier and Witt were sleeping.

Hunt said Bechtel was in the room at 3:30 a.m. when he fired five shots into the room where Strozier and Witt were sleeping.

Hunt said Bechtel was in the room at 3:30 a.m. when he fired five shots into the room where Strozier and Witt were sleeping.