

Mr. Sides Is Lifted To The Plane For Washington

Veteran With Rare Ailment Is Flown To Washington

Charlotte News Staff Writer
 William F. Sides, Hickory World War II veteran who has been bed-ridden with a rare ailment for three years, was flown to Washington today for observation and possible treatment.
 He was flown by the North Carolina Air National Guard, Col. William J. Payne, chief of staff of the air guard, was in charge of the C-47 which was quickly converted into a flying hospital.
 Mr. Sides was taken to the National Health Institute on arrangements made by Rep. Charles R. Jones, Ed Thomas, Mr. Jones' administrative assistant, accompanied the man to Washington.
 Mr. Sides, who was in the Navy in the war, is said to be suffering with hepatolenticular degeneration, which means that there is too much copper in the tissues of the body and not enough in the blood stream. This condition has caused the patient to be in an almost continuous state of palsy and he cannot control himself.
COUSIN ACCOMPANIES
 A. B. Braswell, Charlotte police officer who is a cousin of Mr. Sides, accompanied the veteran to Washington. Officer Braswell said the patient will be kept at the institute for four weeks.
 The police officer said Mr. Sides had not worked for three years, and that prior to his illness he was connected with the Merchant Marine and for a time drove a produce truck.
 How the veteran, who is the father of three children, contracted the malady remains a mystery.

New Violence Threatened New Castle Uneasy, Quiet

NEW CASTLE, Ind. — (AP) — An uneasy bayonet-entrenched truce gripped the city today with massed CIO-United Auto Workers members reportedly poised for a possible new invasion. No lasting armistice seemed in sight.
 Union officials said their members throughout the state are out of hand with anger and may converge on New Castle again if the struck Perfect Circle Corp. foundry is reopened.
 Eight persons were shot and wounded in a riot at the gates Wednesday. Shortly afterward the plant was evacuated of non-strikers and closed.
 Miffed of the extreme tension, Mayor Paul F. McCormack announced the National Guard will remain in the city over the weekend. He said there will be no attempt to reopen the plant before Monday.
 "We'll let this thing simmer down," he told newsmen after almost a full day of talks with the UAW-CIO and officials of the little piston ring foundry. It employs only 260 persons normally.
TO REOPEN PLANT
 A top company official told a reporter that Perfect Circle fully intends to reopen its plant as soon as the National Guard is withdrawn and local authorities permit.
 However, UAW-CIO International Representative William F. Caldwell told Mayor McCormack: "I do not control and admittedly so, the feelings of workers throughout Indiana and Kentucky and throughout the United States. I cannot insure the actions of the people." Mr. McCormack, I could not assure what would happen. The outside sentiment is you reopen this plant may cause us all trouble. I can't govern it."
 New Castle is a tiny little city of 18,000 in the rolling hills of Eastern Indiana. Gov. George W. Craig sent 600 National Guardsmen here shortly after midnight Wednesday. With tanks, weapon-bearing battalions and fixed bayonets on their rifles, the guardsmen elamped modified martial law on the city. Taverns were closed and the selling of liquor was banned. Streets were patrolled by steel-helmed militiamen. All mass gatherings—dances, athletic contests, political meetings and the like—were forbidden.
WEAPONS SEARCH
 The firms apparently sent a Every highway into town was blocked as guardsmen searched motor cars for weapons.
 The Perfect Circle strike began July 25. There had been some mild violence. Thirty-five strikers were fired by the company early this week for picket line disorders.
 The firms apparently sent a spark throughout UAW-CIO ranks in the entire state. An estimated 5,000 demonstrators massed before the foundry Wednesday and

Plane Crash Victims Climbers Seek 66 Bodies

LARAMIE, Wyo. — Skilled climbers fought bitter cold and winds on a snow-covered mountain today to retrieve the bodies of 66 persons killed yesterday in the worst commercial airline crash in U. S. history.
 Their goal was the near-perpendicular south face of 12,005-foot Medicine Bow Peak, where a

FLIP OF COIN SAVES LIVES OF COUPLE

TOWANDA, Pa. — The flipping of coins yesterday determined which of three couples could not board the United Airlines DC4 that crashed in Wyoming, killing all 66 persons aboard.
 Three executives of the Sylvania Electric Co. here, and their wives were en route to Salt Lake City by air yesterday, a company spokesman said. They were to take the plane in Chicago.
 There was room for only two couples aboard, however, and coins were flipped to determine which would stay behind for a later flight.
 Mr. and Mrs. Paul Felton lost the coin flipping and lived. The winners of the coin flipping, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. James E. McGarr, died.

West To Make Reds Offer

By TOM OCHILTREE
 BOURNEMOUTH, England — Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan declared today the West intends to offer Russia "full protection" against any armed threat from a united Germany.
 Macmillan said the West would propose a security pact of this kind at the Big Four foreign ministers' conference opening in Geneva Oct. 27 in an effort to induce the Kremlin to approve the unification of Germany.
 He said the Western security guarantee would be effective "whether such a united Germany chooses to join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) or to remain neutral."
 The foreign secretary gave this preview of Western plans for Geneva in a foreign policy address before the annual Conservative conference meeting here.
 Macmillan warned the delegates against expecting spectacular results at Geneva. "I shall be satisfied if we make some practical progress," he said.

U. S., Britain Urge Parley

By MAX HARRELSON
 UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The United States and Britain proposed formally today that a second arms-for-peace conference "be held under the auspices of the United Nations in about three years."
 The two Western powers submitted a resolution a few hours before the General Assembly's 60-nation peace conference, and in debate on the peaceful use of atomic energy.

SMOKERS WARNED

TEHRAN, Iran — The government warned government employees yesterday to stop smoking in public places within six months or be dismissed.
 The resolution expressed satisfaction with the results of the arms-for-peace conference in Geneva last Aug. 8-20 and proposed that the Assembly continue the advisory committee which planned the Geneva meeting.

Evening Prayer

Dear Lord and Father of mankind, we give Thee our hearty thanks that Thou hast through the gospel made known the way of life. May Thy gift go forth with power to the ends of the earth, convicting, converting, and blessing human souls. We pray that Thy peace may come upon earth. To Thee be all glory and honor, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Car Hit By Train At Apex

APEX — Two school boys and their uncle were killed today when a passenger train crashed into an automobile at the southern city limits of Apex.
 Highway Patrolman Borden J. Best listed the dead as: Millard DeWitt Andrews, 40, Negro; and his two nephews, Walter Lee Lattimore, 12, and Lee Edward Lattimore, 13, all of Apex, R. 1.
 Andrews and Lee Edward Lattimore died on the scene and the other youth died five minutes after arrival at St. Agnes Hospital in Raleigh.
 Best said Andrews was taking his two nephews to school when the accident occurred at about 7:45 a. m.
 He said a light fog covered the ground as the car approached the railroad crossing. The train, Scavalo, Ar. 4, a northbound passenger train No. 8, was traveling at about 30 miles per hour, he said. Its headlights were on and its horn was blaring.
 The train struck the car broadside and scattered wreckage for four-fourths of a mile along the tracks of the Seaboard main line.
LIKE JET CRASH
 The car was so thoroughly torn up that "it looked like a jet plane crash," said Patrol Cpl. W. E. Sanders.
 It was the second multiple fatality auto accident in Wake County in 30 hours. Early yesterday morning five youths were killed in a head-on collision on U. S. 84 near Zebulon. It brought Wake County's auto death toll for the year to 45, highway fatalities in the state.
 The train was undamaged by the collision and continued its journey after a delay of about 40 minutes.

General Off To Morocco

By HARVEY HUDSON
 PARIS — Gen. Pierre Billotte, new minister of defense in Premier Edgar Faure's Cabinet, flew off to Morocco today to try to salvage the government's reform program for the strife-ridden North African protectorate. He might be able to assure the survival of the government, if he can get some quick action.
 Billotte was named defense minister yesterday, to succeed Gen. Pierre Koenig. This morning, after news of Billotte's mission to Morocco was announced, his party — the Social and Republican Action Party — asked him to resign under threat of expulsion from the party. Billotte has been just the end of the party has expelled Pierre Juy, minister for Tunisian and Moroccan affairs, who had a big hand in drawing up the government policy.
 Koenig was one of four members of the Nationalist Social Republic Party to step out of the government at Faure's request because they could not give wholehearted support to the Moroccan reform plan.
 The National Assembly's debate on Moroccan policies resumed today with a long list of orators on deck.

Love's Estimate Southern Textile Outlook Good

GREENSBORO — J. Spencer Love, chairman of the board of Burlington Industries, the nation's largest textile manufacturing firm, has reported the textile industry in the South had a good brighter.
 In a statement Love said, "Something like 135 per cent of two-spin capacity in the South, wage trends and take home pay have turned upward; and earnings of better companies, though not what they should be, have improved substantially," in reporting on last year's operation.
 He estimated that Burlington's own profits for the fiscal year should double the previous year.
 Forward bookings currently for the months ahead are up 50 per cent in many divisions compared with the situation at this time last year, Love said, and margins are better within the Burlington industry.
 He predicted increased sales and full employment for at least the next six months for the South as a whole.
 He pointed out that practically the entire industry has been on a three-shift schedule for some years, adding:

Ike Looking To More Active Federal Role

DENVER — A hospital bulletin early today reported that President Eisenhower — looking forward to a more active role in the conduct of government business — had "another good night" without sign of complications.
 The President's doctors issued this report at 7 a. m. Denver time.
 "The President had another good night. He slept soundly and almost continuously for eight hours."
 "His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."
 Reporting for Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, White House physician, and Col. Byron E. Pollock, chief heart specialist at Fitzsimons Army Hospital, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower's almost continuous sleep was from 9:30 p. m. to 5:30 a. m.
 Meanwhile, aides reported that the chief executive is looking forward to a hospital routine change which probably will give him more active role starting this week end.
 Early tomorrow morning he will sleep the crucial two-week milestone.

Price Of Hogs Lowest Since '46

CHICAGO — Hog prices tumbled to the lowest level in more than nine years today. Losses ranged from 25 to 50 cents a hundred pounds.
 Most hogs sold at $15.25 to $15.50 a hundred pounds. That was the lowest price since June 22, 1946, when hogs sold at $12.50 a hundred pounds.
 Major livestock markets received large numbers of hogs. Receipts at 12 terminals totaled 80,400 hogs compared with 53,728 a year ago and 48,707 two years ago.

stone about the recovery trail he has been traveling without complications from the time of his Sept. 24 heart attack.
 Fitzsimons Army Hospital has said from the start that any complications would be most likely to develop during the first 14 days after the end of that period the chief executive probably would be "over the hump."
 They never have heard of course, that the danger would evaporate right at the end of two weeks by the clock. That danger has been just their best estimate on the basis of experience.
