FIVE CORKING ACTS ON ADA MEADE BILL

Billy Clark and Ethel Chappelle Win Headline Honors

Five corking acts are on the boards at the Ada Meade for the last half of the week. These two well-known comedians, Billy Clark and Ethel Chappelle, have an act entitled "The Salsabally and the Porter," that proved a big hit with the local audience. It is chock full of comedy and Mr. Clark's song, "It Takes a Brown Siren Girl to Make a Preacher Lay His Bibb Down," is a scream. Miss Chappelle is one of the prettiest girls seen here this year and besides is a performer of the first rank.

Tom Kennedy and associate players present a clever skit entitled "Jack Swift." The plot is of negligible quantity, but there are some really good comedy situations and Mr. Kennedy does very well as "Jack Swift."

Two pretty girls who can sing and dance are Dora Crawford and Marie Cross. They have a neat, clean act, and the applause received at all of yesterday's performances show how well their efforts are received.

Ernest Dupile did not fare so well with yesterday afternoon's audience. He was apparently very much surprised as his "ad lib" statements, "I should worry" and "a bright laugh; I'll play the big cities anyway," showed. Mr. Dupile apparently is suffering under the conviction that his "comedy" is too profound for Lexington. It probably is, and likewise too profound for New York.

Yvonne Lawrence and Hurl Falls closed the show with a tumbling act way above the average. The finale, which is a backward somersault on a chair with skate wheels, from a pedestal about twelve feet high, has never before been seen here.

The opening act, Howard and Graf, was also above the average. The male member of the team balances on his chin, such objects as a bureau, couch and newspaper. His balancing a dozen chairs and a table on his chin at the same time is remarkable.

BEN ALI

The Ben Ali will present today two eminent stars, Frank Keenan and Enid Markey, in "Jim Grimsby's Boy." Do you know a gripping story about rough and rugged mountaineers—a thrilling tale of life in gold country? Frank Keenan, one of the greatest character actors on the screen, and Enid Markey, are the stars of the new Triangle play "Jim Grimsby's Boy"—a picture that is bigger and stronger than ever. Seldom has there been a story so thoroughly interesting—so well told and so well acted. You'll enjoy every minute of it. With this the Ben Ali cartoon comedy.

Tomorrow, Mary Nash in "Arms and the Woman" and the fourth chapter of "Lass of the Lumberlands"—(Advs.)

THE STRAND

"Lone Star," the finest Mutual Star production, featuring William Russell in the title role, which will be presented at the Strand today, is one of the best pictures Mr. Russell has appeared in. When handed the scenario Russell expressed the opinion that he felt this was the one chance for him to show what he could do as he felt that the part of the young Cheyenne Indian was fitted to him. He had a great deal of superior intelligence, who decides that he will go out and seek the white man's "civilization." In the supporting cast is Charlotte Burton, Harry Von Meter, Alfred Ferguson and Ashton Dearholt. In addition Hearst International News Pictorial No. 95, "On the Piping Line With Tommy Atkins at Sa-souk" and Krazy Kat cartoon comedy. Music by the Strand orchestra of eight pieces, led by Professor Weigand.

Tomorrow, that funny comedian, Charles Chaplin in "The Revue of 1916." In addition "Following the Flag," showing General Pershing's column in Mexico and Uncle Sam's army on the border.—(Adv.)

FOXHALL KEENE, NOTED RIDER, IS RECOVERING

Rallies at Times, But Is Unable to Tell Story of Accident

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 6.—Foxhall P. Keene, noted cross-country rider and polo player, who was injured in a fall from his horse while foxhunting near Parkington, Md., yesterday, was reported better tonight, although he had lain in a semi-conscious state most of the day. He rallied several times, however, and was given nourishment during these intervals but he was still too dazed to tell how he had been hurt.

Mr. Keene's physician said this afternoon that he did not look for any serious results. No bones had been broken, he declared, and an examination had disclosed nothing wrong with the horseman's brain or spinal column. From present indications, the doctor said no operation would be necessary nor would Mr. Keene be removed from the Hartford Hunt Club to a Baltimore hospital. The physician added that he anticipated his patient's recovery in a few days.

AN AGED COUPLE

Say They Owe Their Good Health to Vinol

Steuvenville, Ohio.—"My husband is 79 years old and I am 78 years of age and we owe our good health to Vinol, the greatest strength creator and medicine there is. When either one of us got into a weakened, run-down condition, Vinol has never failed to build us up and restore strength. We have often said we would not be living now were it not for Vinol."—MARY A. LEWIS.

We guarantee Vinol because it contains beef and cod liver peptides, iron and manganese phosphates and glycerophosphate, the most successful tonics known.

WORSE THAN INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

The scourge of infantile paralysis has created something of a panic in almost every part of the United States, but the deaths and the cripples which are caused by this disease are insignificant in comparison with another disease which is quite easily preventable. One-tenth of all the deaths in the United States are caused by tuberculosis, and this means that out of our present population of 100,000,000 at least 10,000,000 will die of tuberculosis unless the ratio is suddenly decreased from some cause.

In the last six years more people have died of tuberculosis in the United States than were killed during the four years of the Civil War. No adequate action has been taken either by our State or National Governments to prevent the spread of this disease. Tuberculosis can absolutely be prevented and wiped out of any Commonwealth or any country, as has been proven by one civilized country which has taken proper means to stamp it out.

The province of Victoria in Australia has absolutely wiped out the disease in a comparatively few years. Our Government sent a physician to Australia to investigate the matter, and his report showed conclusively that the disease had been conquered and new cases were not being developed.

The laws of Victoria not only compel every physician to report any case that appears to be tuberculosis, but they also pay them a fee of $2.50 for finding any such case. As soon as such a case has been reported, the Government inspector calls and gives a printed set of rules to the patient and his household. The rules prescribe, among other things, that the patient must sleep on a sleeping porch, not occupied by any other person; he must have separate bedding, separate dishes and everything he uses must be kept sanitary. If he prefers to go to a sanatorium he is allowed to go either to a Government sanatorium or a private sanatorium where similar rules are enforced. If a patient living at home violates any of the rules, at the second offense he is forcibly taken to a Government sanatorium and kept under surveillance so that he does not violate the sanitary rules. Of course, not more than half of the tubercular cases are infectious, and cases which are non-infectious are allowed more liberty than infectious cases. No person is allowed to immigrate into Australia without an examination for tuberculosis, and a person having tuberculosis is sent back. In this way no new cases are brought into the country and every case found in Victoria has been isolated and quarantined in such a way as to absolutely prevent infection of healthy persons.

WHEN OLIPHANT KICKED GOAL FOR ARMY IN YEAR'S BIG GAME

Oliphant (arrow) about to kick goal in first period. Secretary of War Baker and wife, photographed at game.

Saturday's game between the Army and Navy eleven was the big event of the year for both teams. One of the big heroes of the contest was Oliphant of the Army, who is shown about to kick a field goal in the first period. The final score was 15 to 7 in favor of the West Pointers. Secretary of War Baker and his wife were among the notables who witnessed the game.
