The Capitol - Musty, Dirty, Inadequate

I CONSIDER that there is no building in the country of its size which for color, for care in construction, and purity of style, is its superior.
These words of praise came from the lips of Sculptor Gutzon Borglum...

Frankenstein Was Too A Monster

LOUIS GRAVES, the distinguished contributing editor of the CHAPEL HILL WEEKLY, is trying to straighten us out and the general public out on the use of the word "Frankenstein"...

Why Injured Workmen Need More Pay

AT the risk of boring regular readers but with the hope of arousing interest among casual readers, including legislators, we'd like to turn once again to the inadequacy of the state Workman's Compensation Act...

Time, Dignity And Death

IT was a simple story in the beginning, but Time has a way of making the simple complex before restoring its dignity.
Abigail Adams, a local beauty, who was trying to make her way in the gaudy world of Hollywood...

CHIVALRY RIDES AGAIN

THE effete East can name their winds Hurricane Carol or Hurricane Alice if they've a mind to. From the Panhandle's viewpoint, anyhow, New England's chivalry has weakened to the size of a huckleberry bloom...

Don't let the Formosa situation keep you from taking your trip... if they start dropping H-bombs, it won't make much difference what part of the world you're in...

Paul Douglas

Paul Douglas, whom I encountered over a saucer of ice cream the other day, is a little hurt. It seems that he is up before Equity for slaying a road company version of "Caine Mutiny" by his Greensboro remarks...

Pip-Pip! Diplomacy Equals Appasement

YOUR LEAD editorial Feb. 5 favoring the admission of the hoodlums of Red China to the U. N. in exchange for American prisoners' snacks of rank appasement! Of course, you silk-gloved and monocled hotshots of international diplomacy have a different word for appasement—"negotiating"...

Drew Pearson's Merry-Go-Round

(Editor's Note—Mr. Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his grandsons.)
DEAR DREW: Tomorrow I expect that if California is like other states you won't have to go to school and can have a good time with that new airplane we flew with the rubber-band motor just before I left you...

No. 1 Lesson

I'm sure she will tell you a lot about him and the difficulties he steered this country through. She may even tell you how as a young surveyor he pushed up the Potomac River toward the Ohio and chartered the canal on which we now live and where you have such a good time in the summer...

Douglas Was Whipping Boy For 'Caine Mutiny' Disaster

BY ROBERT C. RUARK
line reads: "Douglas Says the City Sinks"
Concerning segregation, Pablo says he is on the side of the Supreme Court, and that some of the spoken thespian, seems to have been dipped in the deep fat of Southern anger and fried to a sizzling brown...

Return Of The Native

WILD animals may be vanishing from the prairie but they are returning to that corner of America first settled centuries ago by the Puritans. Old-timers living in Connecticut cannot recall ever seeing a porcupine, but less than 100 miles from New York City—10 miles from my garage...

Is The Truth A Flexible Standard?

lot of things far more famous than this but people have remembered his cherry tree almost more than anything else because they realize that, if we don't tell the truth, eventually we wouldn't have a free country or any real freedoms on any principles to live by...

Confession

However, one of these government witnesses, Mrs. Marie Natvig, now comes back to testify that she was originally lying and that the government induced her to lie. This is a shocking thing for the government to do—a government founded by George Washington who set the standard of truth for this country...

PAUL DOUGLAS Fried To A Sizzling Turn

Continuation of text from other pages, including 'Living The Truth' and 'Lots of Love'.
