Sen. Capehart Criticizes Market Inquiry

Charges Fulbright Harassing Business

By ED CREGG

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) accused Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) face to face today of seeking to "harass the Eisenhower administration and the business of the United States" through the Senate stock market inquiry.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, promptly rejected the charge and told Capehart to stop "attacking the chairman."

The clash arose from Fulbright's questioning of General Motors president Harlow H. Curcio about the prices GM fixes for its cars.

Curcio insisted GM's prices are competitive but he declined to say whether the company would like to increase its share of American car sales from the present 47.7 percent to 55 or 60 percent.

Fulbright said the GM head just about convinced him that GM doesn't really compete with other firms on the basis of price—that GM is afraid of becoming a monopoly and thus subject to government regulation.

Today's renewed bickering in the stock market hearings came in the wake of a long-range exchange between Fulbright and Leonard W. Hall, Republican national chairman, who lambasted Curcio in a speech in Miami last night as a vehicle for spreading Democratic "bigism and doom."

Fulbright referred to "professional Republicans" as trying to hamper an honest inquiry because they seem to lack the confidence in the strength of American economy.

"I have tried," Fulbright said in a statement, "to conduct this study of the stock market in a fair and friendly fashion and I think I have a right to object to professional Republicans attempting to interrupt this important work. I would object just as vigorously if Democrats attempted to pump politics into the study."

Fulbright has told repeatedly of hearing reports GM could make profits even if it cut prices so far that its major competitors would be forced out of business. He says he understands the company doesn't do this for a variety of reasons, among them that GM would be subjected to a monopoly.

In another development, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce declared business is expanding healthily and without danger of a stock market crash—despite what the Chamber called "loose talk" growing out of the Fulbright investigation.

The Chamber's issue last night a report saying recovery from the 1953-54 recession not only continued but "actually gained momentum" in the first three months of this year.

Hall said the stock market developed "fitters" after Harvard economist John Kenneth Galbraith "filled the air with dire statements" in testimony before the Fulbright committee.

Hall said Galbraith is "an old-time New Dealism, ADA-type of anti-letfersonian radical" who says "flirted around" with one or two "pink fronts."

Mecklenburg Bar Endorses Hugh B. Campbell For Judge

By ANN SAWYER

Charlotte News Staff Writer

The senior member of one of Charlotte's leading law firms, Hugh B. Campbell, today received the endorsement of the Mecklenburg Bar Association for Superior Court Judge.

Notice of action of the bar will be forwarded to Gov. Luther Hodges for consideration.

Mr. Campbell's name was the only one considered by the large turnout of attorneys at the court-house meeting. City Recorder's Office carried a list of weight with the endorsement of Mr. Campbell, Judge Sedberry and any nominations from the floor.

Since Mr. Campbell's name was the only one up for bar consideration, a voice vote was taken. Only one "no" was counted.

The endorsement of Mr. Campbell for Mecklenburg's second and third Superior Court judges does not guarantee his appointment, but it is agreed generally that the solid backing of the bar association will carry the case.

Under a law recently passed by the Legislature, Mecklenburg will become a separate judicial district with two resident judges. Their salaries are $12,500 plus $2,500 for expenses. Judge Francis O. Clarkson is Mecklenburg's resident judge now.

In his letter to Bar President Warren C. Slack, Judge Sedberry said that he would not "personally" be associated with any campaign for the judgeship. He said that his stand does not mean he would refuse the bar appointment by Governor Hodges.

Ex-Sen. Cain Blasts Federal Security Plans

Program Called 'Octopus-Like'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Republican Sen. Harry P. Cain today blasted as "octopus-like" the government's personnel security program and said, "We have built our systems faster than we could control them effectively or fairly."

Now a member of the federal Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB), Cain also assailed "some in authority" who use the term "fifth amendment Communist" with its "power for destructive evil."

In an address prepared for the seventh annual Conference on Civil Liberties, he termed a "bulwark of freedom" the fifth amendment guarantee that any person may not be compelled to testify against himself.

"We should be less concerned," he said, "by the few who hide behind the privilege without justification and much more concerned by those who trifle with its significance."

Cain, a former Senator from Washington, did not name in his prepared text specific persons in authority as his targets.

"Who some in authority refer to fifth amendment communists," he said, "I shudder because of the lack of understanding and power for destructive evil which is inherent in those statements. One who refuses to testify against himself may be a Communist but there are solid and proper reasons why he may not be."

Those who use the term, he said, are as guilty of disrespect for the Constitution as any Communist could be.

Centuries of inquisitorial tortures, mental and physical, and misgivings over man's inhumanity to man, Cain said, "forged and tempered the bulwark of freedom that the individual shall not be required to convict himself."

Cain said millions of citizens have a deep concern that the present security system is becoming more powerful and influencing their lives more directly than the government which created it.

300 Hymn Singers Greet Evangelist

PLYMOUTH, England (AP)—Three hundred hymn singers greeted American evangelist Billy Graham on his arrival here today for a religious crusade in Scotland.

Long before dawn, the crowd gathered on the pier and serenaded Graham with his own theme song, "This is my story, this is my song." He came from America on the liner Liberty.

For the evangelist it was a return visit to Britain. A year ago he held a crusade in London attracted over a million people.

Graham told the welcoming party in this historic port where the pilgrims fathers set out for America.

Wildlife Resources Commission and the State Banking Commission. Tentative plans, subject to change, call for it to be built on the old Confederate Soldiers' Home property.

Plans call for the State Board of Buildings and Grounds to furnish up to $150,000 of the building cost, the operator and chauffeur's license fund of the Motor Vehicle Department, up to $60,000, the wildlife resources Commission, up to $200,000; the highway fund, up to $400,000; and the banking department, up to $80,000.

The Governor said new quarters for the Motor Vehicle Department, now housed in the Bevenue Building, would relieve a "very deplorable" overcrowded situation in that building.

The Governor announced the reappointment of two members, Henry A. Scott of Haw River and George Sockwell of Gibsonville, to the Board of Trustees of A & T College at Greensboro. He also announced the appointment of Elbert E. Waddell, Al-

'All Or Nothing' Plan Proposed For Fall Vote

Measure Referred To Committee

RALEIGH (AP)—Legislation calling for a statewide "all or nothing" liquor referendum was introduced in the House today by Rep. Carson Gregory of Harriet and 15 other House members.

The bill calls for a referendum to be held next Nov. 8 on the question of either ending the legal sale of liquor throughout the state or having ABC liquor stores in every county in the state.

Speaker Larry Moore referred the measure to the Committee on Local Governments because Gregory is not a member of the Committee on Propositions and Grievances which had been expected to handle liquor legislation.

Gregory said he was pleased with selection of the local government committee to handle the bill but that he did not know the sentiments of the members on the liquor referendum issue. He said he felt the bill has a "good chance" of passing.

However, for years liquor referendum bills have been introduced at every session of the Legislature and none has emerged from committee.

HODGES FAVORS VOTE
Gov. Hodges has stated he favors a liquor referendum as have all of his recent predecessors in the governor's office.

Joining with Gregory in sponsoring the measure were Reps. Charles K. Bryant of Gaston, Roy Coates of Johnston, J. Toliver Davis of Rutherford, Charles E. Falls of Gaston, Mr. Ed Gavan of Randolph, Sharon Harris of Stanly, Roger Kiser of Scotland, Gordon Maddrey of Hertford, Rufford G. Powell of Rockingham, Jerry M. Rogers of Haywood, B. I. Gowan of Wayne, E. E. Stroy of Wilkes, C. Blake Thomas of Yadkin, and J. Raynor Woodard of Northampton.

Man Changes Mind About Legislation

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Assemblyman William F. Marsh, North Hollywood Democrat, has ditched his bill on the use of the word bureau as a name by any agency or organization outside Sacramento.

Marsh, who has been a member of the California Farm Bureau Federation and the Sacramento Better Business Bureau, had introduced the bill.

Pat Ward's Pre-Jelke Life Reviewed At Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—Ex-call girl Pat Ward, breaking down in sobs at her trial on charges of prostitution, has testified she had sex relations with J. Edgar Hoover during the period she associated with him.

Ward's breakdown by the 21-year-old brunette yesterday caused an early overnight adjournment of the trial on a charge of recruiting her for safe sex prostitution. She was being cross-examined by defense counsel George Washington Hirs about an illegitimate child she bore at the age of 17, before she met Jelke.

None of the well-known men she mentioned from recollections of her teen years was represented as anything more than a casual acquaintance and there was no suggestion that any were among her vice clients.

Among these men were actor Dane Clark, comedian Joey Adams, band leader Skip Henderson, and disc jockey Jack Elgin.

Miss Ward said Henderson gave her his telephone number because "he wanted to take me out." She said she was 18 at the time.

She said she had met him at an NBC rehearsal. "I never went out with him."

BOY'S TRIP INTERRUPTED BY POLICE

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Police today held a 14-year-old West Portsmouth boy, arrested yesterday waiting to board a Detroit-bound bus. Officers said the youth was armed with a .25 caliber revolver, loaded with two shells, and had $2,689.27 in his pockets.

In a locker at the Greyhound bus station, officers said they found a new model camera type typewriter, a movie camera and binoculars, which they said had been bought by the boy for his trip.
Police said the money was taken from relatives. The boy is held in county jail. No charges have been filed.

Rep. Vogler Introduces Bill Plans Made For New State Building

RALEIGH (AP)—Gov. Hodges today announced plans are being made for a new state office building at Raleigh to relieve overcrowded conditions.

At his news conference the Governor said he expected Rep. J. B. Vogler of Mecklenburg to introduce a bill in the House today to authorize the building to cost, with equipment, not in excess of $15 million dollars. Later Vogler introduced the bill.

Looking into the future, the Governor predicted the state ultimately will need another building as a substitute for the present Capitol Building. There has been talk in Raleigh of erecting a building to house legislative halls and some state offices and of retaining the present Capitol as a meeting place or museum.

The bill, Hodges said, would authorize agencies which will occupy the new office building to transfer to the building project surplus funds they have and which "are not now being used."

The building is to be occupied by the fast-growing Motor Vehicle Department, the
