NOT INJURED

The three men rescued from the helicopter were not injured, the Navy said. They were identified as 2nd Lt. Robert Eugene Suedes, son of Robert W. Suedes, Eathan, S.D.; Cpl. Kyle Wayne Follett, son of Harrison A. Follett, Fairview, Utah; and Cpl. James W. Huskinson, son of Emor J. Huskinson, Osgate, Wyo.

The missing crewman's name was withheld. More than 70 Air Force, Navy and Marine planes and nearly a dozen U.S. Navy, Japanese and Canadian ships were in the search for 2nd Lt. David Winton Bell, son of Charles H. Bell, president of General Mills Corp., and Capt. H. P. Montague Jr., Jackson, Miss. son of a chain store executive.

INDIVIDUAL RAFTS They are drifting on individual rafts, possibly 30 miles apart. One raft—believed to be Bell's—carries a weak radio. Its feeble signals have not been heard since early today, the Navy said.

McKenney is a son-in-law of Bradley C. Barnard, publisher of the Rome (N.Y.) Sentinel. The three men rescued from the crashed helicopter were taken to a hospital at the big Navy base at Yokosuka.

Yesterday the searchers said the man with the radio—presumably Bell—reported he had spotted a destroyer only three miles away. But it did not see him before fog closed in.

HE DISLIKED HAVING SLEEP INTERRUPTED

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Being buried alive was all in a night's sleep for Bill Tinsley, a 55-year-old "repeater" in City Police Court. At least, that's what the Charleston resident told police yesterday when he was pulled from beneath a dump heap on the bank of Elk River.

Mr. King said the changes are part of a Bell system plan to standardize numbers throughout the nation. The purpose behind this is to facilitate development of direct dialing of long distance calls.
