

17-Year-Old Boy Stabs Teacher in Back

Attacks Instructor In Front of Class

NEW YORK — A 17-year-old boy and charged him with slaying his personal education teacher in the back as the instructor stood at a classroom blackboard.

The teacher, James O'Farrell, lay in dangerous condition at Knickerbocker Hospital but identified his attacker, who is the youth was brought to the hospital. The butcher boy was identified as Jose Vargas, known as "Chico" among his schoolmates.

Mambo." He was captured by detectives in the rooming house where he lives alone a few hours after the slaying occurred in front of 30 horrified students.

Police said Vargas would be arraigned today in Felony Court and officially charged with felonious assault.

Boasting Instructions
The teacher, James O'Farrell, was attacked a few minutes after he had completed giving boasting instructions at St. Ann's of Arc Junior High School.

Another New York youth pleaded guilty yesterday to second degree murder in the fatal shooting of 15-year-old William Blankenship Jr. on April 30.

Member of Gang
The boy, Frank (Tarzan) Santana, 17, faces a sentence of 20 years to life for the murder of the youth, whose father had become a devoted civic worker against juvenile delinquency.

At yesterday's hearing it was brought out for the first time, however, that young Blankenship was a member of a gang known as the "Redwings." Santana was a member of the "Navajo" gang.

Assistant District Attorney Andrew McCarthy said that Blankenship was "spoiling for a fight" when he was attacked and killed. In still another youth-crime case three teenagers pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the slaying of Murray Hoffman, 20, the father of three children, who was killed during a holiday. They will be sentenced July 6.

20 Years to Life
The youths, all of whom face 20 years to life sentences, are Robert Manion, 17, Donald Manion, 18, and Paul Martinson, 18.

A Brooklyn youth, 16-year-old Raymond Holley, had possible grounds for a retrial in another juvenile delinquency case.

Holley, the "war commander" of a gang known as the "El Quintos," was sentenced to death three days ago by Kings County Judge Samuel Lebowitz for the shotgun slaying of another teenage.

Yesterday one of the jurors in the case was reported as admitting he had read newspaper clippings about the case during the trial in violation of instructions from the judge. The admission may lead to a new trial for Holley.

Castillo Will Grant Amnesty to Some Exiles

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala (AP)—President Carlos Castillo Armas announced today he would grant amnesty to a limited number of Guatemalans now living in exile.

Some 400 Guatemalans fled when the pro-Communist regime of former President Jacobo Arbenz was overthrown. Armas said many of the self-exiles have requested permission to return. He said the amnesty would be limited to refugees of "good conduct."

Not Afraid of the Truth
DAVENPORT, Ia.—A woman rushed into the Davenport Police Station to pay a traffic fine and an officer asked, "What's your hurry?"
"I'm double parked outside," she replied.

1 Dead, 17 Missing As Tankers Collide

AMSTERDAM, Holland.—Two loaded oil tankers collided and burned in the North Sea early today.

At least one seaman was killed, and 17 were missing. Twenty-five survivors, including one woman, were reported picked up by rescue vessels.

The accident occurred between Belgium and England when the 22,500-ton Panamanian tanker, Bucaneer, hit the 10,785-ton Swedish tanker, Johanna Maria.

Both vessels caught fire, but Bucaneer reported it had brought its blast under control within two hours and headed for port at Rotterdam, Holland. The Johanna Maria, which was reported to have 42 men and one woman aboard, burned through the night after its crew leaped into the sea. Nearby rescue ships rushed to the scene.

Colombia Considering Ships for Coffee Swap

BOGOTA, Colombia.—Colombia was reported to have under consideration today offers from at least six countries to exchange new merchant ships for Colombian coffee.

Reports yesterday said offers were submitted by Britain, Canada, Finland, Japan, Spain and Sweden among others.
