Way It Looks To Him

Tony Curtis' Future Rosy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Tony Curtis is hotter than a firecracker these days, and nobody could be happier than Tony Curtis.

Tony has always been his own best booster, and it's refreshing in a way. There's enough hypocritical modesty in this town. Obviously actors are sold on themselves or they wouldn't be actors.

Tony breezed into his dressing room during the lunch break of "The Square Jungle." He plays a boxer in the film and was sporting a pair of trunks and a tattered robe.

"Like it?" he grinned. "I had it tailored especially for me."

He excused himself for a shower to wash off the glycerin which had been used on his body during fight scenes. No sense in a star's using his own sweat, you know.

COLD CUTS

Tony munched on a lean lunch of cold cuts, designed to keep his figure under control. Meanwhile he enthused about his film future.

He leaves next month for Europe, where he'll co-star with Gina Lollobrigida and Burt Lancaster in "Trapeze," directed by Carol Reed.

"I've always said that the trouble with my career was that I never had a big important picture," he said. "Oh, they've been entertaining and they sell. But I mean a big one.

"Every other actor in my age group has had that opportunity. Marlon Brando. Monty Clift. Robert Wagner. John Derek. Rock Hudson. Jeff Chandler. They've all had at least one big one.

"Now at last I have the deal that is beyond my wildest dreams. I have the greatest director in the world. I have a terrific script. And I'm with two great performers. Who can ask for anything more?"

He has also had the opportunity to test his value in the movie market. Hecht-Lancaster is shelling out $150,000 for his services in "Trapeze."

SOME DEAL

"And a Mercedes-Benz," he added proudly. "Wow! What a deal!"

Some of the payment goes to his studio, some drops into his new production company, which was incorporated this year. He was to have ended his exclusive contract in October and started a picture-a-year deal. But because of the loan-out, his freedom has been postponed until next year.

Tony was being considered by MGM for the Rocky Graziano story, "Somebody Up There Likes Me," but the deal cooled because he is doing a fight picture now. However, he may be picked to play "Ben Hur."

The United States has 30 per cent of the world's rail mileage, a third of the highways and nearly four-fifths of the motor vehicles.
