

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

THOMAS L. ROBINSON	Publisher
J. E. Down	General Manager
B. S. GRIFFITH	Executive Editor

SATURDAY, AUGUST 20, 1955

How Much Of A Menace Are Actors?

How Much Of A Mel.

UNITED STATES congressmen, a notably jump bunch, are frequently shaken by dim and dusky fears. If it isn't sonther ice abge moving south it is the constitution of the state of the

An actor with Communist leanings is no worse than a baker with Communist leanings.

He is hardly a dire threat to national security.

security.

His own particular brand of suckerhood certainly deserves no greater attention than the foolish actions of offstage Amerians who fall into communism's baited trap.

Abolish The Intellectual Vacuum

SPONSORS of Charlotte's "Freedom afraid to stray from the orthodox safety wholehearted support. Theirs is a commendable venture with enormous potendividual freedom and constitutional privations.

mendable venture with enormous potentialities.

The program will consist of a series of informal neighborhood discussions geared to general problems concerning individual liberties and the constitution. The get-togethers will begin next January and continue for six weeks.

It is a project of the Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund Inc., of the League of Women Voters.

It the "Freedom Agenda" will belp create a keener social conscience in Charlotte and a better understanding of the Orrees threatening individual liberties, a great and enduring public service will be rendered.

The important thing is to get the fundamental issues out in the open where they can be examined freely in the light of informed discussion.

Beginn The Carrie Chapman Catterian Catterian

zones.

But questions involving civil rights, individual freedom and constitutional privileges and responsibilities must not be bottled up, and avoided. Freedom perishes in an intellectual vacuum.

KE'S "need for relaxation" is the wellpublicized reason for the Gone Fishuse sign tacked to the White House door.
So, how does the President laze around?
Note Wednesday's schedule at his Colcycle yellow.

Note Wednesday's schedule at his Colorado retreat:
He spent three solid hours of back-breaking fly-casting for frout in cold St. Louis Creek. He hustled to a makeshift practice tee to sharpen up his golf game. Next, he took to the easel and started painting a mountain scene. Then, he did nearly all of the cooking for his party and, according to the Associated Press, "got in quite a bit of work to boot."

Council Wise In Recognizing Smoke Problem

-MRS. WILSON A. YOUNG

Hurricane Coverage Very Worthwhile

The KKK has been may be a superficient of the time being. Now the superficient of the Annerical readure color "Inited we stand, divided we fall."

CIRCUMSTANCES

Most of us are victims of circumstances. We find ourselves in various sections of the country or even, as the Negro. torn from his action of the country of the section of the country or even, as the Negro. torn from his action of the section of the country of the section of the section of the country of the section of

FMASE PRIDE

If we were dying of hunger or thirst, would our false pride refuse food on drink front one of subject to error. We should not subject to error. We should not stand of magnifying differences in or acces we should fecus our attention on the Creator, not the creating on the Creator, not the creating of the community, the Negro-childre time.

There are bad people in all cause the high school is not pro-acces, but that does not reduce vided in Norsood. say a would be integrity or patriotism of the sool in any race.

FINANCE CO. COMP 111

the integrity or patriotism of the good in any race.

WAITING FOR BUS

WAITING FOR BUS

I was waiting for a bus in a hard rain. A Negro woman with an unthrelial hastly stepedule to be a substitute of the law was only one seat, a two-patriotism of the law while the law for the law was only one seat, a two-patriotism of the law woman stood bewildered. I shall solve the law woman stood bewildered. I shall so with the white shall for one seat, so had she. So why should I cause her to stood of the law woman stood to shall solve the law woman stood the law woman stood to shall solve the law say about cats last Thursday, I 'Sword Of Gideon' would've given up my one-meal-aday for a long, slow swipe of the paw (no motor running) at him.

Of course we're noisy about our courting. It's the spirit of the thing. Remember Mehitabel? "Toujours Gai" — that's still the motto.

ADMIT IT

—SIDNEY
Owner's Note: At the request of my tom cat, Sidney, who believes he's been outraged by the lieves he's been outraged by the
Aug. 18 lien by Robert C. Ruark,
I've submitted this letter to you.
Personally, I don't get distarbed by things appearing on the edicital pages. But to clear my own canscience I'll just say: Ruark is a rodent.
SIDNEY'S OWNER.

Kings Mountain

ON behalf of the Kings Mountain Little Theater Inc., I want to express our heartfelt appreciation for the splendid co-operation you afforded us in spreading the word about our outdoor drama, "The Sword of Gideon."

'And If I May Say So, I've Never Been Good To My Mother'

Needed: A Junket For Taxpayers

THERE ought to be a law, Indiana's Sen. Tacehart says, requiring congressment to travel abroad.

Boarding ship for Turkey, Capehart explained that Junketing (he does not like the word) would better equip solons to cope with "global responsibilities" faced by Congress, adding that lawmakers also ought to get around the U.S. more. To Capehart's credit he did not try to gloss over the fact of who would foot the bill. Yes, you do know who.

Mr. Capehart's suggestion reminds us of a southern senator traveling abroad who called the American embassy in a European capital and demanded of senior personnel that a cocktail party be held at which he would meet and talk with embasy employes, a very commendable idea except for the fact that Congress traditionally has been short with diplomatic entertainment funds, particularly stingy with money that might be used for cocktail ingredients.

Faced with an empty entertainment funds or two while Congress and efminine vote or two while Congress and broadening and we find only one real fault with sidea Instead is a fault with sidea Instead is deal to require a fault with side and its deal to find the side in the fault with side and its deal to find the fault with side and its deal to find the fault with side and its deal to find the fault with side and its deal that which side and its deal that the side in the fault with side and its deal that whe might be reposed by operating the first of the fact that the fault with embass employees.

Facel with an empty entertainment or a fault with a side and its deal that which side and its deal that the side and its deal that the side and its deal that the side in the first of the first of the fact that the weather and the first of the first of the fact that the weather and the first of the fact that the weather and the first of the firs monious or aggressive, belligerent or bilous.

There's nothing wrong with Sen. Kuchel catching himself a little publicity and a feminine vote or two while Congress and the Golden State's senior senator are in temporary adjournment, but we would just as soon he leave our hurricanes alone, and stop being so aggressive and bilous with the Weather Bureau.

Hateful as they are, hurricanes belong to us East Coasters and if we want to hopefully tab them with gentle names that's our business.

Besides, wouldn't Sarah be a pretty name for smog?

with money that imgst be used for coex-tail ingredients.
Faced with an empty entertainment kitty but cowed by senatorial presence the embassy chief threw the party with personal funds. The senator duly arrived and spent the evening conversing with one employe from his home state while scores of others stood about drinking up the chief's whisky.
A week later the embassy staff was dis-mayed to read that upon arriving in New York the senator had publicly blasted whisky drinking in high places in our From The Greensboro Daily News

THE BEST PLACE TO LIVE

THE BEST PL

WHERE is the best place to live? Fortunately tastes differ, else we'd all be piled up in one place. As Walter Monfried notes in the Milliagness Journal, Igor Stravinsky, Arthur Rubenstein and Aldous Husley choose Hollywood: the late Thomas Mann preferred Switzerland; Ernest Hemingway settles on Cuba which is surrounded by fishes; Herbert Hoover and Douglas MacArthur tough it out at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City;
Carl Sandburg likes Flat Rock, N. C.,
C. and Inglis Fletcher likes the Albemarle
section, while William Fanck, no C., Cand Inglis Fletcher likes the Albemarle section, while William Falker stays put in Oxford, Miss.; Paul Green takes Chapel Hill as first choice, and Lucius Beebe keeps house in a private railroad
car in the ghost town of Virginia City, Nev.

New.

America is perhaps too big to be loved handily, so we split it up for purposes of affection into regions or smaller bits. Look magazine recently had some fine pictures of the American landscape with text by Archibald MacLeish. The scenery included miles of rolling green hills seen from Steptoe Butte in Washington, an old home in Deerlield, Mass. a bayou in Louisiana draped in Spanish moss, the wind-carved columns of Monument Valley in Arizona. a California redwood forest, the profile of New York City viewed from the New Jersey side, the cemelery at Sleepy Hollow, Midwestern wheatfields, and land's end where

America meets the surges of the Pacific in Oregon.

America meets the surges of the Pacific in Oregon.

We are a seeking sort of people descended from restless and far-ranging forebears. Some of us are enchanted with the sea-and-mountain beauty of Japan, some with the exhibitantion of Mexico City: Alaska and Hawaii have their devotees; others follow the rather gentle call of the wild as far as Bali.

But Tar Heels need not go far from home to find living places to their hearts' content. Bishop Spangenberg concluded that he had reached the promised land for his Moravians when he come to the foothills where he founded Salem, and William Byrd thought he had located a reasonable facsimile of the Garden of Eden where the Roanoke River slips down from Virginia into North Carolina. Both were men of perspicacity and could have been right.

When four women sit down to play bridge, they often discuss a fifth who isn't there. When four men sit down to play bridge, they often discuss a fifth, which is there. — Kingsport (Tenn.) Times.

Drew Pearson's Merry-Go-Round

To understand what the shooting is about between Secretary of Cormerce Sinclair Weeks, the Boston bibod, and Congressman Many Celled the boy raised in the slums of Brood live, you have to know how flagrant some businessmen while planted is strategic jobs inside the government. These businessmen under the strategic poles inside the government.

These businessmen used to be called $1-a-year men, because they gave partime services for $1 though still working for their own companies. Today they are called WOCs, which has nothing to do with the WAC ladies of the army, but means "without compensation."

ne WOC businessmen have not only rked for their own companies but ainst other competitive companies in

Watching Scott Tissue

Watching Scott Tissue
For instance, here is what Leonard E.
Pasek of the Kimberly Clark Paper ProdRead State Control of the Paper ProdWeeks as assistant director of the pulp, paper and paperboard division of the National Production Authority.
Shortly after Elsenhower took office
on Jan. 20, 1953, Pasek sent this letter,
Feb. 9, 1953, to W. M. Wright of International Cellucotton Products Co., a Kimber of the Artillate.
These of the Artillate.
These of the Scott Paper Co., that they have planned their operations so as to reach a sales volume of three hundred million dollars before 1955. This, you will note, doubles their 1952 volume. I thought you might be interested."

Passed On

"These views and recommendations of the newsprint situation," Pasek wrote to Wakeman, "we have passed on to McCoy and it is our hope that he does not alter it to much before passing it on to Wolverton." (Congressman Wolverton (R.N.J.), then chairman of the House committee.)

Stands Firm

"I have made the statement three or four times (that he didn't think it im-proper) and I stand on the statement I made," replied Pasek, "A statement like that might be of extreme value to a company," commented Chairman Celler. "Ilt might effect the market quotation of stock, It might affect the supply and demand. It may have many far-reaching effects."

"My examination of that right now would not indicate that that might have any such bearing," replied Pasek, vague-ly sparring for time.

"I am speaking in general," shot back Celler. "If you feel that you would not do anything untoward in passing on to your company or to private individuals a confidential proposed statement to be made before a congressional committee, then I don't think that you comprehend what is meant by a WOC employe of the government."