ners at an exposition stock show influenced many breeders to buy the state's best stock in America. It is safe to say that there has been no occasion for disappointment in this regard, as the management has been successful in interest in the leading stock men to come to this show.

The expression among prominent stock breeders and exhibitors is that as a whole this is the best display of stock ever made in the United States.

In particular lines, as, for example, Hereford cattle, there has been no dissenting voice against pronouncing it the finest show ever made in America or the entire world.

The live stock department will close its engagement on the 20th. Persons wishing to see this greatest effort of the country, one may easily understand why this breed of cattle is being displayed in the Hereford cattle show.

Breeders in other varieties of cattle and in other lines of stock might profit by the example of the Hereford breeders, who have displayed in the Hereford cattle show.

They know that the navy was always ready for war and ready because the navy has been free from the infamous political interference that has always damned the war department. They know that we had the choicest of the good work of whipping Spain. They know that Algerian is responsible in large measure for our failure to be prepared for the war.

Algerian rampant in the war department we will never be ready for war. They know that unless the war department is rid of its political parasites it will never be what it should be.

The street brawl that occurred between some American sailors and some German sailors in the streets of Hong Kong a few days ago should be a warning to our officers. Jack tar is a hot-headed fellow who goes ashore after a good time and he may easily do something which might involve his country in an embarrassment.

Hold the wealth of the world and the wealth of the skies; Hold the life of the world if they rise if they fall; Hold that not that love is the best gift of all.

And in that beautiful white city, Where are so many soldiers to see, Where are so many sailors to see, Will there naught but slime be.

While the guards and clerks of many kind, Who have been employed within, Wiser, more progressive men, Act all in all the expedition.

And from the city that has planted Its flag in the world's eye, When there'll be no so-called sections, 'Tis a bright and shining city.

While our arc progressive city, Will continue as before, Conscious of a duty nobly done, Yet they'll be a FRIED PAYTON.

THE MUTUAL ADMIRATION BOARD OF THE UNITED STATES is now engaged in the duty of making a list of the names of the men who are eligible for the position of ambassador to the United States.

the many told about the Santiago campaign. When we began the attack on the city of Santiago, we were met by a fire which was so hot that we were obliged to retreat.

Just then he said, "Get back; they're shooting at you." I did not know what he meant until I saw the smoke which was coming from the guns of the Spanish fleet.

He wants a "press wagon"—a hall and a "what did you bring me?"—each of which he has ordered under the name of "The American People."

The only way in which the Douglas county voter may vote for Senator Allen is to vote for the fusion legislative ticket, which is as follows:

- For State Senators—Dudley Smith, James E. Riley, John L. Neble.

- For Representatives—Thomas J. Flynn, W. S. Felker, James Roach, J. Em. Kroupa, John Hall, John Liddon, Thomas F. Sturgess, Sias Robbins, J. Kelley McCombs.

people and the German people are friendly and are not likely to be disturbed by a street fight at any time, but our government may easily find itself involved in a diplomatic dispute with the Kaiser's government at any time.

There was much in President McKinley's Omaha speech to admire. The address was prepared with great care and it was undoubtedly meant as an official expression of the administration's views on several questions that are occupying public attention.

The remarkable statement is not borne out by the real facts in the case. On June 13, 1898, the republican national convention adopted the platform that "we believe that the government of the United States should actively use its influences and good offices to restore peace and give satisfaction to the world."

All this was nearly two years before the declaration of war. On March 4, 1897, William McKinley, elected upon a platform demanding the independence of Cuba—a demand that practically meant war if carried out—was formally inaugurated president of the United States.

After reading Mr. Kipling's latest poem the world will probably postpone disarming proceedings until after he has met the general poet of the jungles.
