2 Arrested In Robbery Of Motel

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
GASTONIA — Two men are being held at Gaston County Police Headquarters on charges of armed robbery in connection with the slaying of a Wilkinson Blvd. motel operator early today.

Officers from Spartanburg, S. C. are on the way to Gastonia to see if the men being held are those who shot and wounded a detective in Spartanburg yesterday afternoon.

Gaston County detective James R. Harris identified the men being held as James Boyd Garner, of Atlanta, Ga.; and Henry Arthur Halliwell, 32, of Wichita, Kan.

PAIR ACCUSED
The pair is accused of holding up Zernie Beach, operator of the Travelers' Rest motel on the Charlotte-Gastonia highway about one and one-half miles inside the Gaston County line about 1 a. m. today.

Detective Harris said Mr. Beach identified both men as those who took approximately $150 from him at the motel.

Mecklenburg County police officers evidently stopped the two men in Charlotte about 2:30 a. m. today. Mecklenburg police had not received an alarm on the two men and let them go after a check.

Halliwell and Garner were captured by State Highway Patrolman Charles R. Burris and Mount Holly police officers at a hotel in Mount Holly about 9:15 a. m.

Spartanburg officers believed Halliwell and Garner were the men who shot Spartanburg County detective Clarence Painter about 3 p. m. yesterday. Painter was wounded in the hand during a scuffle in front of the detective's two terrified young children.

MEAN APPROACHED
The men reportedly approached Painter, who was off duty and working at his brother's used-car lot in Spartanburg, and tried to talk him out of some blank automobile bills of sale. When Painter tried to arrest the men, they then allegedly drew a gun and shot him.

Sheriff B. B. Brockman of Spartanburg identified the two as James Arthur Halliwell, of Spartanburg, and Jack Garner, address unknown, in a three-state alarm.

The men were seen driving a late model Ford with a bullet hole in the windshield, the Spartanburg report said.

Mr. Beach told police the two men entered his Gaston County motel about 1 o'clock this morning and demanded money. He said one man held a pillow over his wife's head and the other forced him to get the money.

It was about an hour and a half later that Mecklenburg officers stopped two men near Independence Square in Charlotte. The men were wearing dark overcoats and the driver of this car, a 1956

Ike Plans Visits To 'Loyal' South

WASHINGTON — The White House today announced plans for six campaign speeches by President Eisenhower next week, including talks in three of the four Southern states he carried in 1952.

The President will make three separate trips. They will take him into Florida, Virginia, Texas, Oklahoma, and Pennsylvania.

Eisenhower has scheduled six speeches during the three tours. James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, emphasized that the President will return to Washington at the end of each day.

CLOSE TOUCH
The President will do that, Hagerty said, primarily to keep in close touch with the "fast breaking developments in the Soviet satellite nations." That was a reference to the unrest in such countries as Poland and Hungary.

Here is Eisenhower's campaign schedule for next week:

MONDAY—He will leave Washington at 8:40 a. m. and fly to Miami, Fla., speaking at International Airport there at noon.

He then will fly on to Jacksonville, Fla., arriving there at 2:30 p. m. for a talk at Ineson Airfield.

The next stop will be Byrd Field at Richmond, Va., for an airport address about 4:40 p. m. Then he will return to Washington.

Wednesday—The President will leave Washington by plane at 8:30 a. m. EST and arrive at Love Field in Dallas, Tex., at 12:30 p. m. CST for an address at the airport.

Then he will fly on to Oklahoma City for a talk at Will Rogers Field there at about 2:25 p. m. CST.

After that address the President will return to Washington.

Thursday — Eisenhower will make a major nationwide address on television and radio "NBC from Convention Hall in Philadelphia at 9:30 p. m. EST. He will travel to Philadelphia by train from Washington, leaving the capital at 6:30 p. m. and arriving at Philadelphia's station at 24th and Chestnut Streets at 9 p. m.

53 Dead From Riots In Morocco

RABAT, Morocco — At least 53 persons, mostly Europeans, today were reported killed in Morocco in rioting touched off by France's seizure of five top Algerian rebels.

French and Moroccan armed patrols uncovered more and more burned and mutilated bodies in the city of Meknes where angry Arab Nationalists struck yesterday.

Moroccan troops and French Legionnaires mounted guard in the European section of Meknes while the search went on in the native quarters for more bodies.

In addition to European rioting in the town, French sources said 38 farmers, mostly European, in the surrounding countryside were wholly or partly burned by rampaging Moroccans.

The actual cause of the rioting in Meknes appeared to be the accidental shot fired by a Moroccan trooper who wounded himself. The shot enraged demonstrators and the bloodshed was on.

French police reportedly threatened to stop working for the Moroccan government after four of their men were found slain.

Eight bodies of Europeans were found this morning near the Portuguese Bridge on the main road to Rabat, 100 miles east of Meknes.

Meknes is a city of 150,000 inhabitants, more than 20,000 of them Europeans.

Rioting ended yesterday and authorities said the night looking for bodies.

In Tunis, Morocco's Sultan Mohammed V. Glumly ordered a plane home. He and Tunisian leaders broke off talks interrupted when France seized the Algerian rebels.

Mindful of the force France used to capture the leaders of the Algerian rebellion, the Sultan's household made clear he would travel in a French plane.

NEW UNION
The Sultan had come to Tunisia to confer on a purported plan to bring peace to Algeria and to join a new union of North Africa.

The French trick which diverted the plan of rebel chiefs to French-occupied Algeria and waiting French troops instead of their destination in independent Tunisia struck a storm on both sides of the Mediterranean.

The action touched off riots and protest strikes both in Tunisia and Morocco. Arab mobs killed nine persons in the city of Tunis, the Moroccan town of Meknes.

French security forces in Algeria trained for reprisals as the Premier Guy Mollet flatly refused Arab appeals to free five rebel leaders.

An upsurge in rebel activity lately was noted in Algeria, where the five were kept under heavy guard. But the insurgents were kept in check by strong French troop detachments.

Paris, the National Assembly cheered Mollet's exultant report of the capture of the rebel chiefs. The House — with the exception of the Communists — applauded the Premier's endorsement of action by French civil and military authorities in Algeria.

Could U. S. Seize Liner Queen Mary?

WASHINGTON — An immigration official said today the British liner Queen Mary may be subject to seizure by the U. S. government as a result of the U. S. case.

James L. Hennessy, executive assistant to immigration commissioner J. M. Swine, indicated this is a technical situation, and that there is no actual thought of such action.

But he said "we are still investigating to see if any action against the Cunard Line (owners of the Queen Mary) is warranted."

Hennessy was before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which is looking into the case with particular concern about two points:

1. How it was that U. S. officials let the liner sail from New York Oct. 3 although having good reason to believe that Alexei Chavostov had 2 1/2-year-old, A. M. American-born Tanya aboard, without a passport for her, and without a ticket to take her to Russia.

2. What part Soviet officials in this country may have had in the removal of the child from the United States.

Hennessy said that at one point on Oct. 3 he ordered his agents to request the U. S. customs service to hold the Queen Mary in port until Tanya had been located and removed from the ship.

But he then withdrew this order, Hennessy said, because among other reasons it was "past my comprehension that the Cunard Line would not have exerted every possible effort" to see that the child did not sail without a passport "in view of the possibility of forfeiture of the Queen Mary" under U. S. law.

Hennessy had an exchange with Robert Morris, counsel to the subcommittee, in which they agreed that the law provides that "any vehicle, vessel or aircraft... shall be forfeited to the United States" if its owners knowingly allow its use for the illegal departure of a U. S. citizen from this country.

Hennessy said another reason for withdrawing the request that the ship be held in port was doubt that his agency had authority to issue such an order, and he had no report at the time showing that the child actually was aboard.

The Campaign In A Capsule

(From AP Reports)
A 12-hour schedule of rallies in the New York City area was on tap for Adlai E. Stevenson today following a Madison Square Garden speech last night before a partisan, banner-waving crowd which filled all seats.

Part of the National Annuities was held in the Bronx, Queens, Nassau and White Plains, N. Y.

President Eisenhower was set to answer questions put to him by seven women on a program carried nationally from Washington, D. C., at 2 p. m. over CBS radio and television. Last night at the 75th anniversary banquet of the carpenters union, the President said the U. S. could "suffer a serious military disadvantage" by stopping tests of nuclear weapons if Russia continues hers.

Vice President Nixon opened two days of intensive campaigning in Illinois, where Republicans are worried about the state administration scandal caused by Orville Hodge, former GOP state auditor convicted of embezzlement.

Touring the Detroit area, Sen. Estes Kefauver said Detroit has a first-hand reminder of the "illusion of GOP prosperity" in the idle Studebaker-Packard plant.

Communications With Hungary Out

VIENNA (AP) — Communist warplanes have joined tanks and machine gunners in a fierce battle to crush an anti-Soviet rebellion gripping the Hungarian capital, Budapest.

Sending of planes into the fighting was reported late today by the Budapest radio.

Direct telephonic communication with the city was cut off, but it was evident that ceaseless in the fighting were mounting by the score. A Westerner who reached Warsaw after traveling from Budapest said 18 persons were reported to have been killed when Russian tanks were brought into fighting outside the Hungarian Parliament building.

Radio Budapest did not identify the nationality of the warplanes engaged in the desperate struggle. But eyewitnesses arriving in Vienna said the tanks blazing through the war-scarred streets of the Danubian capital were Russian.

Separate Hungarian Communist government, unable to smash the revolt, had called for help from the thousands of Russian soldiers stationed in the country.

The fighting swirled through downtown streets, through apartment houses and public buildings, and through huge factories.

But despite the Russian army's help hours passed without the surrender Communist leaders demanded.

Russian tanks by the dozens were reported rolling through the streets and firing on fleeing tanks. Budapest radio reported "unrestrained soldiers, citizens and members of the security forces" were slain in wild, riotous fighting which burgeoned from peaceful demonstrations against Moscow last night.

Russian demonstrations in satellite Poland.

ZERO HOUR
Indicating the fighting still was raging into this afternoon in the city of more than a million, the government of Premier Imre Nagy extended an ultimatum yesterday for surrender of the rebels.

In apparent gesture of appeasement to the rebels, Communist leaders had removed András Hegedus as premier and installed Nagy, who was purged in 1955.

Through the night students, workers, old-age soldiers and other volunteers for duty as premier demanded the explosion of Soviet troops from Hungary.

When the Communist government gave in to the demands for Nagy, apparently the rebels were not to be appeased without some indication the Russians would get out.

The cry "Russians go home" last night was sung by 20,000 Soviet troops from Hungary.

Polen's Drive Causes Reds To Back Down
By COLIN FROST
WARSAW — Authoritative Polish sources say Nikita Khrushchev has accepted the idea of a freer Poland and that the two countries will patch up their relations.

Khrushchev reportedly apologized for a bitter Soviet attack on the Polish press and called off Soviet military dogs that had been placed on the new Polish regime.

The Soviet Communist boss apparently yielded with only minor reservations to the demand of Poland's new leaders for socialism without Moscow domination.

Polish-Soviet relations immediately improved.

Authoritative sources said the Soviet Communist boss completely from his demand that Moscow-picked men retain a voice in Poland's Communist leadership.

BITTER WAVES
The informants said the surrender came in a telephone call from Khrushchev to Wladyslaw Gomułka, new boss of the Polish Communist party, yesterday afternoon.

He demanded the removal of Marshal Konstantin Komarovsky, the Moscow-appointed commander of the Polish military forces.

The sources said Soviet troops were ordered to leave Poland and were dispersed after Khrushchev's telephone call and that a Russian naval squadron off Poland's coast had been withdrawn.

The Polish Parliament continued deliberations on measures called for by Gomułka to better the Polish standard of living.

Retired Pug's Fistic Duel Unmatched
SEVENOAKS, England — Don Cockell, retired pug, stopped a young heavyweight boxing champ, pushed, lunged and threw a few punches again last night—a fine time in a fight over his wife Irene.

Earlier in the day he had reported his wife missing. Then he located her in this London suburb.

Trouble was he found her in a pub with another man. The guy was small, maybe a welterweight.

The tussle between the two men lasted about one round to a draw, with both men rolling in a clinch on the floor at the end. Cockell stood up, invited the young guy outside.

Outside they went, with Mrs. Cockell screaming "Stop it! Stop it! somebody! Don will kill him!"

The outside bout was verbal, setting off a three-hour argument among the three participants, which eventually wound up in Mrs. Cockell's firing a half mile from the pub.

Finally Don and his missus came out. "I'm taking Irene home," said Cockell. There were no dissenters.

"It's a matter between husband and wife," said the little guy.

Mrs. Cockell said nothing, but got into a car with Cockell as he held a gathering of newcomers "we're going back to the farm together."

Don said his wife was angry with him because "I drank more than she liked" adding she also thought he had been seeing other women. "But there's been nothing like that."

Mecklenburg's White Collar Workers Sticking With Ike

(Third in a series)
By JULIAN SCHEER
Charlotte News Staff Writer

Charlotte's white collar workers make no bones about their presidential choice.

They like Ike.

They also like Rep. Charles R. Jones.

The News survey of voter trends and attitudes also includes the ladies who work for Charlotte business firms are more one-sided in favor of the President and Jones than the men.

The interviewer visited offices and retail stores talked with clerks, stenographers, bookkeepers and other white collar workers.

Also noted was a decided upswing of new Republican registrations in this group.

Support of the President was based on several things.

"He is not a politician like Gov. Stevenson," several said. "He has done a very good job."

"I just like him as a man," some said.

A few were concerned about the state of the President's health but reassured themselves that he was in good shape and that Vice President Nixon could do a good job "if guided right."

"I don't like Nixon," one stock exchange worker said, "but I like him better than Stevenson and, especially, Kefauver."

DON'T KNOW WHY
Perhaps the most frequent answer was, "I don't know why I like Ike, but I do."

"He is a bigger man," one woman said.

"He has kept the peace," a man said.

"Stevenson talks over my head," a secretary said.

"I'm a Democrat but I just can't see Stevenson."
