

Hungarian Fighting Rages Border Areas Fall To Rebels

Strictly Political

Odds On Ike 1-4,
Adlai 3-1 And
Very Few Takers

By JULIAN SCHEER
Charlotte News Staff Writer

It wasn't hard to get folks to talk about their political preferences in our two-week survey of Mecklenburg voting trends.

However, we met one very skeptical woman.

She worked in a local textile plant.

"Are you sure this is confidential?" she asked in a whisper.

Yes, she was assured.

"Well, I did sign the register," she confided.

Will you let me ask some questions?

"Are you certain this is confidential?" she inquired again.

Yes.

Then she awaited the first question: Did you vote for Ike or Adlai last time?

"Oh," she said with a sigh of relief. "I thought you were talking about the union all the time!"

Odds Dept.: The line on the presidential race coming into Charlotte has local bookmakers quoting four to one odds on Ike and one to three on Stevenson. That's the national line, although it started tumbling in the Midwest this week.

In other words, if you want to bet on Ike you put up $400 to win $100. . . Or if you want to bet on Stevenson, you put up $100 to win $300.

More Odds: Strictly unofficial odds are those that observers are putting on the Tenth District Congressional race. . . No takers, however, just as there aren't many bettors locally on the national ticket.

Experts say Jonas will get Avery, Mitchell, Mecklenburg, Douglas will carry Burke and Catawba Counties.

Lincoln County is a toss up, which, even though it is Jonas' home county, would be a moral victory for him. . . That's staunch Democratic country.

Telephone Call: A total man reports a 5:30 a.m. telephone call. . . All the caller whispered was, "Vote for Jonas." . . The hour indicates it wouldn't be a Jonas worker.

See FEW on page 3-A

THE CANNED ANIMAL, a woodchuck by trade, had a black future in Niles, Mich., when Peggy, nothin' but a beagle hound dog, happened by. The dog's boss, James Shelton, freed the chucky, more hungry than hurt. (AP Wirephoto).

Nagy Bids To Regain Strength

VIENNA — (AP) — Red Hungary's western frontier guards were reported summoned inland today to help combat swelling rebellion and border areas fell to anti-communist Hungarian troops.

Roof to roof fighting went on in the heart of Budapest, where Premier Imre Nagy announced a new popular front government, including several non-communists, in an effort to appease demands for freedom.

Austrian frontier police crossed the Iron Curtain line for the first time in the post-war period and fraternized with soldiers who said they had deserted to the revolution. The Austrians were embraced and told "we are brothers again."

"This is the most remarkable thing in 12 years," Austrian police said in a border interview.

Mother, Son Found Stabbed To Death

COLUMBIANA, Ala. (AP) — The bodies, he said, were found in the corner of a room in a building he believed to be a house about a quarter of a mile away and telephoned Sheriff Hugh D. Sims in Columbiana.

The coroner said the mother's body as he returned from work late yesterday.

Jimmy Faulkner, 20, employed by a Columbiana outfit processing company, told officers he found his wife's body on the floor of a bedroom and his son lay dead in an adjoining room.

Playing about the house was another two-year-old child.

Coroner Robert Bolton estimated that the mother and child were killed "about mid-morning."

Young Faulkner said he went to work about 6:30 a.m. When he returned about 4 p.m. and found the bodies, he said, he went to his father's house about a quarter of a mile away and telephoned Sheriff Hugh D. Sims in Columbiana.

The coroner said the mother's body as he returned from work late yesterday.

Jimmy Faulkner, 20, employed by a Columbiana outfit processing company, told officers he found his wife's body on the floor of a bedroom and his son lay dead in an adjoining room.

Playing about the house was another two-year-old child.

Coroner Robert Bolton estimated that the mother and child were killed "about mid-morning."

Young Faulkner said he went to work about 6:30 a.m. When he returned about 4 p.m. and found the bodies, he said, he went to his father's house about a quarter of a mile away and telephoned Sheriff Hugh D. Sims in Columbiana.

The coroner said the mother's body as he returned from work late yesterday.

Jimmy Faulkner, 20, employed by a Columbiana outfit processing company, told officers he found his wife's body on the floor of a bedroom and his son lay dead in an adjoining room.

Playing about the house was another two-year-old child.

Coroner Robert Bolton estimated that the mother and child were killed "about mid-morning."

Young Faulkner said he went to work about 6:30 a.m. When he returned about 4 p.m. and found the bodies, he said, he went to his father's house about a quarter of a mile away and telephoned Sheriff Hugh D. Sims in Columbiana.

Ike Enters Hospital For Pre-Vote Check

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower goes into the hospital today about 2:30 p.m. for the pre-election checkup he promised the American people.

Eisenhower had said that at any time his health was such that he couldn't handle his job he would step down and forego his effort to win a second term.

Obviously, though, Eisenhower is expecting good news from the physicians. He has been telling the people in almost every speech that he feels fine.

He has arranged a flying political foray into Dixie for Monday — the day after he checks out of the hospital.

STOP ADDED

Furthermore, Eisenhower only yesterday added another stop, at Memphis, Tenn., to a campaign trip that will take him into Texas and Oklahoma Wednesday.

By sneaking a Memphis appearance into his schedule, Eisenhower has managed to set up campaign visits to all four Southern states he took from the Democrats in 1952 — Florida, Virginia, Texas and Tennessee. Florida and Virginia are on Monday's schedule.

Tennessee Republicans reportedly have been telling the White House Eisenhower has a good chance of winning the state again and that a personal visit there might be the thing that would clinch it. Four years ago Eisenhower won in Tennessee by 2,437 votes out of a total of nearly 90,000 cast.

Meanwhile Minneapolis police and GOP leaders reported Eisenhower was apparently healthy, lumpy and vigorous during a campaign stop in that city last week.

Columnist Drew Pearson had reported Eisenhower apparently still in action under Red leadership.

A bespectacled former professor, Nagy named several members of his old party, the once powerful smallholders, in revamping the cabinet with hope of winning support of the masses and getting the rebels to surrender. Some, like he himself, are "rehabilitated" surgeons.

The list included Bela Kovacs, former head of the Smallholders Party and a non-communally untrue.

See FIGHTING on page 3-A

Dulles In Huddle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today a decision probably will be made later today whether to request United Nations intervention in the Hungarian revolt.

Dulles told this to newsmen at National Airport as his deputy undersecretary, Robert Murphy, was handing out a Hungarian diploma of formal request against the fact that the American legation in Budapest is completely cut off from communication with Washington.

"It seems that the Hungarian communist control forces have been withdrawn to the interior to help fight the rebels. Their old watch towers are empty. This border appears in control of the revolutionaries."

PISTOL RUMOR

The Hungarians reported rumors that the Russians were forcing Nagy at pistol point to make his announcements to the Hungarian people, even that he had been arrested and that the Russians had taken over complete command in Budapest.

Nagy's desperate bid to answer Hungarian demands for administrative reforms was broadcast by Radio Budapest even as rebel groups told newsmen at the Austrian border the rebels have set up an independent Hungarian government at Győr, a Hungarian industrial town 70 miles from Budapest, to coordinate the fight against Soviet divisions and Hungarian units still in action under Red leadership.

A bespectacled former professor, Nagy named several members of his old party, the once powerful smallholders, in revamping the cabinet with hope of winning support of the masses and getting the rebels to surrender. Some, like he himself, are "rehabilitated" surgeons.

The list included Bela Kovacs, former head of the Smallholders Party and a non-communally untrue.

See FIGHTING on page 3-A

Three Planes Crash With Four Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three military planes crashed last night, a Flying Boxcar in Pennsylvania and two jets in Virginia. One Air Force nurse and three airmen were killed and two airmen were listed as missing. Two others parachuted to safety.

The cargo plane, a C119, crashed into a mountain and exploded near Newville, in the north-central Pennsylvania during a light rain carrying the nurse and three crewmen aboard to their deaths.

The plane was en route from Swart AFB, Tenn., to Olmsted AFB, Pa., to pick up cargo.

An F89 jet fighter, an Air National Guard plane from Millwaukee, dived into a concrete runway at Dobbins AFB, near Atlanta, Ga., and exploded. The blast left a seven-foot crater.

The two men aboard the plane were listed as missing. Dobbins authorities said the men could have ejected themselves, although no trace of pilot or crewman was found.

ALGIERS (AP) — French forces struck against nationalist bands in two areas of Algeria yesterday, killing 26 rebels.

But rebel assaults continued to trouble the protectorate. Two Europeans were killed in the Oran Department, three were wounded in Algiers and four in other areas.

In neighboring Morocco, scenes of violent anti-French rioting earlier this week, gasoline bombs set a series of fires at Fedala, north of Casablanca.

Moroccan Premier Si Bekkal formed a new Cabinet after handing in his resignation for the announced reason that he had failed in negotiations with the French, to win release of five captured Algerian leaders.

N.C. Escapees Caught In N.J.

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Two young escapees from a North Carolina reformatory were arrested today by police after a wild 45-mile car chase at speeds exceeding 100 miles an hour.

Police said the chase on the New Jersey Turnpike began at Newark's and six patrol cars finally caught up with the juveniles at Hightstown.

The boys, whose names were not disclosed because of their age, were turned over to state police at New Brunswick on charges of possession of a stolen vehicle. Police said the boys used reportedly stolen cars to carry servicemen from North Carolina to New York for a fee.

The two boys were escapees from the Morrison Training School in Durham, N.C., police said, adding that they probably be returned there as fugitives.

Police said the boys broke out of the institution, stole a car in Durham and drove to Petersburg, Va. There they abandoned the car and stole another vehicle which they filled up with servicemen and drove them to New York for a fee.

Police said the youths spent the money in New York and then they decided to go back south to get another load of servicemen.

The car was passing the New Jersey Turnpike toll gate near Newark when a patrolman ordered it to stop. Instead, police said, the vehicle dashed ahead and soon was traveling at 100 m.p.h.

The six police cars participating in the chase blocked the highway at several points but troopers driving them had to swerve out of the youth's way to avoid a crash.

No one was injured in the chase.

Halloween Noted In Adlai Speech

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson called President Eisenhower today "the shadow cast date" of a Republican Party which is "afraid" to ask the people to trust the destiny of the country to Vice President Nixon.

He said Eisenhower is fronting for a GOP old Guard campaign "based on a profound contempt for the intelligence of the people."

"In all the words he has uttered," Stevenson said, "my opponent has told you almost nothing about the issues of the campaign."

The Democratic presidential nominee, in an address prepared for delivery at a mid-day party rally in Washington state, said the Republicans say only, "Trust Ike and don't ask questions."

"Who are we supposed to trust when Ike isn't there?" Stevenson asked.

A QUESTION

"Above all," Stevenson said, "are we seriously asked to trust the destiny of America—the future of our children—the decision over the hydrogen bomb—to Richard M. Nixon?"

The Republicans don't say, he said, "for they are afraid to say—'Trust Nixon, trust Benson, trust Dulles, trust Wilson, trust the old guardsmen in the congress.'"

"They know they can't persuade the people to trust the Republican party," Stevenson continued, "and so they say, 'Just trust Ike.'"

"A man who really wanted to reshape the Republican party would not have been scared by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and his friends out of backing Alexander Wiley in the Wisconsin primary," Stevenson said. This was a reference to Eisenhower's hands-off roll in the primary in which Wiley was renominated for the Senate.

If Eisenhower wanted to reshape the GOP, Stevenson went on, "he would not have driven Wayne Morse from the Republican party, nor would he have sought to run Douglas McKay down the throats of the voters of Oregon."

Eisenhower is backing McKay, his former secretary of interior, in his battle to unseat Morse, now a Democrat, but a former Republican.

Rich Saar Is Returned

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — The rich Saar Valley was returned to Germany today by the French government.

A French-German treaty restoring the long-disputed border area to German control, plus a score of complementary agreements and letters, were signed here by Heinrich von Brentano, German foreign minister, and Christian Piquet, French foreign minister.

The two said today's signing "settles the last problems standing between the two countries" and added "These signatures were of historical importance for the Franco-German relationship."

The treaty, which sets next Jan. 1 as the date of the political return of the German-speaking Saar, has to be ratified by the French and German parliaments.

Select FOREMOST Milk Products at your favorite store. — Adv.

French Forces Hit In Algiers

ALGIERS (AP) — French forces struck against nationalist bands in two areas of Algeria yesterday, killing 26 rebels.

But rebel assaults continued to trouble the protectorate. Two Europeans were killed in the Oran Department, three were wounded in Algiers and four in other areas.

In neighboring Morocco, scenes of violent anti-French rioting earlier this week, gasoline bombs set a series of fires at Fedala, north of Casablanca.

Moroccan Premier Si Bekkal formed a new Cabinet after handing in his resignation for the announced reason that he had failed in negotiations with the French, to win release of five captured Algerian leaders.

COLD FRONT GONE, SKIES CLEARING UP

The cold front which put Charlotte under wraps for the past few days has moved across state and out to sea.

The weatherman says tomorrow will be fairly clear with a temperature of about 70.

Today's high temperature rose to 72 after a low of 52 degrees. This morning, the low tomorrow is expected to dip to 51 degrees.

SENTENCED TO DIE, Mrs. Opal Collins (center) faints after a Crown Point, Ind., jury decided she was guilty in the slaying of her sister-in-law, one of four deaths of which she was accused. She is the first Indiana woman in history to be sentenced to the electric chair. An appeal in her behalf is likely. AP Wirephoto.

Our Weather

Fair and a little warmer to day. Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday.

Low this morning . . . 52
Low tomorrow morning . . . 51
High today . . . 72
High yesterday . . . 55
High tomorrow . . . 75
Sunrise today 6:29 a.m.; sunset today 5:24 p.m.

More Weather Data on page 3-A

Home Builders Have Plans To Help Guide Their Way

SOMETHING NEW in your Saturday News is designed for the homeowner and homeowner-to-be. See Penny's House Plans, featuring a beautiful contemporary home, and On the House, a column of sage advice, on the BUILDING Page, 9A.

THAT CONTROVERSIAL column by Drew Pearson — the one attacked by Presidential Press Secretary Jim Haggerty yesterday — appears on today's News Editorial Page, 4A. The News' Washington columnist drew Haggerty's ire for reporting the President was ill on his recent campaign trip.

Rich Saar Is Returned

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — The rich Saar Valley was returned to Germany today by the French government.

A French-German treaty restoring the long-disputed border area to German control, plus a score of complementary agreements and letters, were signed here by Heinrich von Brentano, German foreign minister, and Christian Piquet, French foreign minister.

The two said today's signing "settles the last problems standing between the two countries" and added "These signatures were of historical importance for the Franco-German relationship."

The treaty, which sets next Jan. 1 as the date of the political return of the German-speaking Saar, has to be ratified by the French and German parliaments.

Select FOREMOST Milk Products at your favorite store. — Adv.

The Campaign In A Capsule

(FROM AP REPORTS)

President Eisenhower enters Walter Reed Army Hospital for the pre-election physical examination he promised. The medical report will be released Sunday afternoon.

Adlai E. Stevenson is campaigning in California. He will make two major campaign speeches in San Francisco today and then fly to Phoenix, Ariz., after an appearance in Los Angeles.

Vice President Nixon files into his home state of California today after a brief invasion of the Northwest. His schedule today takes him to rallies in Santa Rosa, Fresno, and Bakersfield.

Sen. Estes Kefauver flies from Washington to Findlay, Ohio, for several speeches. Before leaving he will make a brief trip through Maryland.

Books Classified	7A	Obituaries	2A
Comics	1-9C	Radio-TV	3A
Crossword Puzzle	6B	Serials	7A
Editorials	4A	Sports	4-5-8B
Features	8A	Theaters	6-8B
		Women	1-3B