

Thomas L. Robinson ... President and Publisher
Brodie S. Griffith ... General Manager
Robert H. Lampe ... Advertising Director
Cecil Prince ... Managing Editor
L. Young Jr. ... Managing Editor
Huey Shinson ... Circulation Manager

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1956

South To Be Top Dog In Congress If Democrats Win

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

WASHINGTON
A Democratic sweep in the Nov. 8 congressional elections would make the South top dog in Congress while a Republican one would concentrate power in the Midwest.

SOUTHERN SEATS OF POWER
Their Number And Places

American Activities Committee, and 17 percentage points through the advancement of Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) to the House Ways and Means Committee in place of Rep. Jere Cooper (D-Tenn).

The Mirage Of Middle Eastern Peace

THE United Nations had one of its finest hours yesterday.
But an hour was all. After that Britain and France vetoed the best hope for averting further bloodshed in the Middle East and sent an invasion force of their own toward Egypt.

For a brief space the U. N. served as a forum for expression of world-wide fear that a general war might erupt unless truce lines are restored between Israel and Egypt.

The Skipper Taught Us 'The Word'

THE news of O. J. (Skipper) Coffin's death cast a deep, frowning shadow over Journalism this week.

People's Platform

Editors, The News:
MR. Jonas' vote to return the tidelands to the states has been criticized by Mr. Douglas. It is logical to assume, then, that Douglas takes the opposite position.

Jonas Sided With Southern Demos On Tidelands

against 98 per cent of the other republican congressmen who recognized the basic states rights issues involved something Mr. Douglas seems unable to do.

per described the kidnaper from her missing teeth to her open-toed shoes, but did not mention the dark color of her skin although she was being sought by police.

Case 1: August, 1955, noon edition, you reported below page 1 headlines a speech by an NAACP committee to intermarriage which one of the objectives of NAACP.

Case 2: Oct. 29, 1955, noon edition, you printed New Yorker Lonnie Smith's letter in the last paragraph of which he showed contempt for intermarriage.

Case 3: In March, 1956, you reported the assault committed by a man on a woman in a local veterinary clinic, his arrest and conviction.

formation and a lack of reportorial zeal. His reference to journalism as "the unholy calling" was made in jest. In his own hard-bitten manner, he was a devout man and meant no disrespect to religion or journalism.

He had a better first-hand knowledge of the political history of North Carolina than perhaps any man alive and it was the hope of his friends that he would devote his later years to a book He never got around to it.

Case 4: Most of our information concerning Negro Rep. Adam Powell's recent ratings and percentages came to us only by radio and television.

Case 5: Nature of our information concerning Negro Rep. Adam Powell's recent ratings and percentages came to us only by radio and television.

Case 6: Most of our information concerning Negro Rep. Adam Powell's recent ratings and percentages came to us only by radio and television.

Case 7: Several U. S. soldiers in Germany recently were tried and convicted of raping a 15-year-old German girl. The wire services reported the fact that all seven were Negroes.

Case 8: In March, 1956, you reported the assault committed by a man on a woman in a local veterinary clinic, his arrest and conviction.

The Bar Hammers Home A Point

AS MEMBERS of the bar we have been deeply disturbed by recent attacks on the Supreme Court of the United States.

Astronomy Lesson

THE administration, according to Washington newsmen, is in the market for some new diplomatic terminology. For one thing, it is thrashing about for a new way to refer to Soviet satellites.

Boom!

Papers Should Use Race Designation

Editors, The News:
I am writing you about reading for my newspaper critics and publishers is an item in the Oct. 29 issue of pro-integration Time magazine.

Wilkie Relative

She was Elizabeth Heffelfinger, Republican national committeewoman, mother-in-law of Philip Wilkie, whose father, a much revered late friend of mine, once ran for president of the United States.

Tenth District Twisted Into Corkscrew Shape

Editors, The News:
IF Mr. Clarence Griffin thinks believe that newspaper writers should report the racial fact, newspapers which do not do so would deny racial pride to the Negro.

Private Boast

It has been my private boast that I know how to handle my own colleagues of the press. "Cooperate," has been my formula "and they'll treat you right."

From The Minneapolis Star

THE ROMANCE OF THE PITCHFORK

THE PITCHFORK, once the handiest tool on the farm, is losing prestige. The Department of Agriculture reports that three fourths of the hay crop now is baled and some of the rest is chipped.

Between loads the fork was handy for leaning on while catching a delicious bit of rest. Then one was aware of the good smell from earth and grass, the companionship of sun and grasshoppers, the satisfaction of getting a chore done in good season.

Drew Pearson's Merry-Go-Round

ST. PAUL
The teachers of the Minnesota Education Association are a serene and studious group, well removed from the political shot and shell of Washington.

An Encounter With An Angry Lady

I am revising that formula of today. As I got off the plane, my colleagues of the press shrewdly suggested that we go inside the airport lounge where it was quiet and hold a press conference regarding what Jim Hegarty had just said about me.

FDR's Health

It is never pleasant to get into a hassle with the President of the United States or his aides. Nor is it pleasant to diagnose the health of a president.

Bless Those Who Help Others Play

WHERE there are those who play, there are those who help them play. Bless those who turn themselves loose, untiring all strings and letting jolly laughter flood the soul.

Less Than Others

IF one has to play, one should play. Bless those who turn themselves loose, untiring all strings and letting jolly laughter flood the soul.

