

NUMBERED LOCATIONS are landmarks in the Russian-Hungarian battle for Budapest. Kilian Barracks (1) was center of one major battle area. Russians occupied top of Gellert Hill (2) not far from the Royal Palace (3). Other resistance pockets have included Rakoczi St. (4), Csépel Island (5), the Városliget town park area (6), the Obuda district (7) and the industrial district along Vaci Road (8).

Hungarian Rebels Continue To Fight Until Bitter End

VIENNA (AP)—The Hungarians carried on a gigantic passive protest today against the theft of their freedom, ignoring cold hunger and the massed might of the Russian army.

Only a handful of bitter-end rebels still fought on against the tanks and guns of 20,000 Soviet troops. But the destruction of their homes and defeat of those who sought to fight off the invaders with meager arms failed to stem Hungarian defiance of the Soviets and their puppet government.

The nation slung a grimy to a general strike. Alternate back-to-work pleas and threats from the Soviet-imposed regime of Premier Janos Kadar were ignored.

U. A. Sulev and A. I. Mikoyan, the Kremlin's chief staff troubleshooters, also were reported in the delegation.

Prisoner Wanted To Kill Himself

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)—Dr. Otto John testified today he was "several times on the verge of committing suicide" during the 17 months he stayed behind the Iron Curtain.

Refugee Kadar
Most Hungarians refused to accept the Kadar regime because it was installed by Russian tanks. Reports from Budapest told of hundreds of thousands wandering aimlessly through the ruins of a once-thriving city, steadily ignoring the masses of Soviet armor and troops standing guard every few hundred yards.

Brief Defends S. C. Bus Law

COLUMBIA, S. C.—The South Carolina Today Public Service Commission today filed a brief with the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond, Va., declaring that state laws requiring segregation of white and Negro passengers on buses are not unconstitutional and have not been declared unconstitutional.

The brief was filed by the commission in the case of Mrs. Sarah Mae Flemming Brown, Negro woman suing the bus company operators at Columbia for $25,000.

She charged that a bus driver hustled her off a bus under the segregation law. The Public Service Commission administers the laws under which city buses operate in the state.

Mrs. Brown's suit charged a violation of her civil rights.

The commission brief, filed as a friend of the court, declared there has been no reversal of a long-standing Federal Court decision recognizing segregation in transportation.

Russia Warns U. N. Against Further Debate On Hungary

Claims Peace Effort Will Be Complicated

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia warned today that continued U.N. debate on the Hungarian situation "will complicate efforts to re-establish peace" in the strife-torn country.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov gave his warning in the U. N.'s 15-nation steering committee which met in special session to place the Hungarian and Middle East problems on the agenda of the regular General Assembly.

The Soviet and Czechoslovak delegates vigorously opposed any further U.N. action on the Hungarian issue.

The wrangle over this problem developed after the steering committee recommended unanimously that the Middle East problem be placed on the work sheet of the 29-nation assembly.

The committee quickly rejected a Soviet move to have the Hungarian delegate invited to take part in the procedural discussion.

U. S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. declared that the situation in Hungary is "not unique" and that the more so since the present Hungarian authorities have now announced their rejection of almost all the recommendations of the emergency session.

Lodge referred to a message received last night from the puppet Hungarian government requesting to permit U. N. observers to enter Hungary in accordance with a resolution adopted by the emergency assembly.

"Meanwhile, Lodge said, the repression continues and the situation is as heartbreaking as ever. We must search for every appropriate avenue to assist them and resist this dark and bloody and sinister influence there."

ISTVAN SEBES, acting foreign minister of Hungary's Russian-installed government, said Kadar had tried — and apparently failed — to give support for his program of rigged elections, subservience to Moscow and continued one-party rule.

Nagy and other members of his government have taken refuge at the Yugoslav Embassy.

U. N. Observers Watching Troops In No-Man's Land

LONDON (AP)—A 12-man team of U. N. observers moved into the Suez Canal zone noon's-land today to watch over the cease-fire between French, British and Egyptian forces.

The 12-man observer team, including Norwegians, Swedes, Danes and Australians, landed at Port Said in the British-French occupied sector of the canal zone from a landing ship which had picked them up at Haifa. They had been part of the U. N. corps developing.

Boycotters Lose Injunction Plea

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—(AP)—Negro bus boycotters challenged unsuccessfully today the right of a state court to consider an injunction request to halt their car pool in Montgomery.

Circuit Judge Eugene Carter overruled a defense plea which challenged the jurisdiction on the grounds that the federal courts rather than the state courts have jurisdiction.

Mexicans Fire At U. S. Boat

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The captain of the United States shrimp boat Escudero was wounded last night when the boat's owner said it was fired on by a Mexican gunboat. The skipper, Tom Wilson, was reported being badly wounded.

The U. S. Coast Guard, admitting its information was limited, confirmed the shooting.

The owner, John Santos Cirinbas of Brownsville, said he talked to the boat by radio today for a second time and that the Escudero, three armed, scuttled the gunboat, was forced to head for Tampico, Mexico.

The State Department said in Washington that it was informed Wilson was "resting comfortably" and his life is not in danger.

The shooting was another incident stemming from conflicting fishing rights claims.

United States shrimpers claim Mexico's sovereignty extends only 3 marine miles from shore. Mexico claims 12 marine miles. A marine mile is about 1.8 land miles. A number of shrimp boats have been seized by Mexican gunboats which shrimper confiscated and the owners fined.

EARLIER COMPLAINTS
The Mexican gunboat was identified as the C-28. She was mentioned last month in complaints by the Texas Shrimp Assn., which claimed the gunboat had stopped Texas shrimpers and demanded gifts.

Tampico is about 60 miles from the reported scene of the shooting.

The Escudero's radio operator, Charles Wilson, nephew of the wounded captain, said the boat was about 11 miles off the coast of Mexico and about 120 miles south of Brownsville when the shooting occurred.
