

TWO INJURED IN GAFFNEY GUN SPREE

Girl, 19, Slain As She Lay In Bed With Her Daughter

GAFFNEY, S. C. (AP)—A young mother was shot to death early today as she lay in bed talking to a male visitor, and her mother and the visitor were wounded seriously.

Police arrested Paul Lee Hampton, about 48, who allegedly called on the dead woman's mother and ran through the house shooting wildly after they argued.

Cherokee County Sheriff Julian E. Wright identified the dead woman as Mrs. M. Williams Hammett, 19. Her husband, Frank, was at work in a textile mill when the shootings occurred between midnight and 1 a. m.

SHOT IN ARM James Donald Blanton, 22, who told officers he was visiting Mrs. Hammett, was shot in the arm and neck. Mrs. Hammett's mother, Mrs. Fairley Sentell Williams, 35, was shot as she fled from her caller.

Mrs. Hammett's baby lay on the bed while she was shot in the legs and head.

Blanton and Mrs. Williams were rushed to hospitals at Spartanburg.

Wright and Coroner Jack E. Millwood said their investigation indicated these events took place: Blanton went to the Hammett home about 25 minutes before the shootings. He was told that Hampton, a store operator, had been there earlier in the evening. Hampton returned to the house and he and Mrs. Williams went into a room together. There they began arguing.

Blanton told officers he was sitting on the edge of Mrs. Hammett's bed when Mrs. Williams ran into their room with Hampton in pursuit. Mrs. Williams was shot, presumably with a .50 caliber pistol, and ran out of the house.

TURNED GUN Mrs. Hammett shouted at Hampton, and he turned the gun on her and Blanton. "Things happened so fast they went by in a flash," Blanton was quoted as saying.

Mrs. Hammett was shot twice in the legs, and once in the head. Blanton then ran into the yard looking for Mrs. Williams. She eluded him and ran about one-half mile to the home of a neighbor.

Blanton said he drove away from the Hammett house in his car with Hampton following in the truck. The truck was wrecked and abandoned.

Police said the truck was owned by E. L. Clayton, 48, who was held for investigation.

Hampton was under $1,000 bond in connection with the shooting of Joe Lee Robertson here Aug. 3. Wright said he was scheduled for trial next week on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

Winter Rakes Western U. S.

By The Associated Press Wintery weather, with snow, strong winds and falling temperatures, prevailed in wide areas of the western half of the nation today. It was fairly mild — with some showers — in eastern Texas.

Strong, northerly winds fanned the cold air rapidly south and eastward across the plains states. The chilled air was pushed from the Pacific Coast eastward through the northern Great Lakes region, Kansas and northwestern Texas.

Snow fell from Colorado and Wyoming into Nebraska, the Dakotas and western Minnesota. Falls measured around 4 inches in many places, although larger amounts were reported in mountain areas. Readings in the snow belt were mostly in the teens with near zero marks in the mountains.

With Industrial Home Closed, Young Girls Must Be Jailed

North Carolina's penal system is 30 years behind the times in its lack of a program for young women offenders, declared Judge J. Ed Stokes in County Recorder's Court today.

"I can't just let these young girls go free with no punishment at all," said Judge Stokes. "But what good does it do to send them to jail or prison where they will be thrown in with all sorts of criminals?"

Yesterday Judge Stokes gave a 17-year-old Charlotte girl a suspended 60-day sentence in the Mecklenburg County Jail and ordered her to pay a fine of $50 and damages amounting to $150.

The girl was found guilty of tearing and cutting a neighbor's clothes in a fit of anger.

Today the girl, her fine and the county did have an industrial

Puppet Premier Refuses Nagy's Neutrality Policy

VIENNA (AP)—Russia's puppet Premier of Hungary, Janos Kadar, today rejected neutrality as a future policy for the nation and refused any negotiations with former Premier Imre Nagy as long as he remains in the asylum of the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest.

Kadar set the policy of his regime in a statement to a workers' delegation, broadcast by Budapest radio, which showed clearly he has no intention of walking out of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact or giving up the close ties with Moscow which set off the three-week revolution. Kadar said that a neutral Hungary — which Nagy had proposed during his brief tenure as premier — would be "exploited by the imperialists and lead to war." The international political situation, he added, does not favor a policy of neutrality.

As for the man the revolt had made premier briefly, Kadar said an agreement with Nagy "could be possible only if he changes his attitude and comes out of the (Yugoslav) Embassy to negotiate." Nagy took refuge with the Yugo-slavs when the Russians poured troops into Hungary and Budapest to suppress the revolution. In a desperate attempt to end the general strike paralyzing the revolt-shattered nation, Kadar's regime announced a mass purge of former top Communists and the premier expressed approval of limited "free" elections "at a later date."

Budapest radio said Kadar told the workers' delegation, however, that the only parties which would be allowed to participate in elections would be those which "stand for Socialist principles and serve the interests of the workers."

The puppet Premier reiterated his previous stand that negotiations for late withdrawal of the Russian forces from Hungary can only be opened after order and peace have been restored.

GUNS SILENT The rebel guns were silent in Budapest today after the end of armed resistance at the big plants on Csepel Island, in the Danube just south of the capital. But the work is still there, after downing their guns, joined in the nationwide general strike.

Undaunted by the Soviet tanks and troops lining the roads to Csepel, the workers there held a mass meeting demanding the ouster of the Kadar government and the reinstatement of former Premier Imre Nagy, who before the Russians kicked him out Nov. 4 had promised free elections and negotiations for the withdrawal of Soviet troops.

Budapest radio said Kadar had told the workers' delegation that he called on him that "I am of the opinion that Imre Nagy never has been an enemy of our system and I see no reason why he should not resume a position in public life."

Nagy, now a refugee in the Yugoslav Embassy, sent word to Western newsmen yesterday that he would have no dealings with the Kadar regime.

First U. N. Policemen Are Landed

LONDON (AP)—The first 92 men of the blue-helmeted U. N. police force landed near Ismailia in the Suez Canal Zone today to keep Middle East peace. The lightly-armed force was rushed in 15 hours after Moscow reports had said Egyptian President Nasser had requested that Soviet volunteers be sent to Egypt immediately. The U. N. policemen, it was hoped, would forestall Egyptian reliance on Soviet help to eject British-French and Israeli forces.

After the arrival of the U. N. force, the Egyptian government spokesman said that a formal request for Soviet volunteers had been made. An Arab diplomat source in Moscow said yesterday such a request had been made.

The Egyptian Embassy spokesman said such a request would be made only if Israeli and French-British forces failed to withdraw from Egyptian territory promptly. He said he knew of no deadline for such withdrawal.

Shakeup Is Coming In 8 Envoy Posts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is reported planning a major shakeup of ambassadors in at least eight countries during the next few months. The reshuffle will send a new lineup of American envoys to the four most important Western European countries—Britain, France, Italy and West Germany.

In the Asiatic area, new ambassadors are to be appointed to India, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand. Three of these posts are now vacant.

Nearly all the diplomatic changes have been planned for a long time, especially those involving the Western European posts. But they also come at a time when top State Department officials, including Secretary Dulles, are known to be dissatisfied with the caliber of some diplomatic reports immediately before the outbreak of Middle East hostilities.

Dulles is understood to have been particularly upset that Ambassadors Winthrop Aldrich in London and Douglas Dillon in Paris were unable to break through a blockade of news by the British and French foreign offices in the week before the invasion of Egypt.

Both men were reported definitely resigning their present posts in keeping with previous plans. So is Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, who has returned from Italy on one of her frequent visits to New York, after recovering from a serious illness. Mrs. Luce agreed to stay on until after last week's elections at White House urging.

Ambassador James Conant, former president of Harvard University, also is reported anxious to leave his post in West Germany.

To replace the faucous, the White House is reported urgently seeking top-flight businessmen who can also be counted upon to serve as effective diplomats during the critical weeks ahead.

Career diplomats will not be appointed to the jobs, regardless of their importance, officials said, because salaries and allowances do not cover the expense of running the embassies in the four capitals.

King added later, "I wish I could say that when we go back to work or share rides with friends."

Negroes To End Bus Boycott When Desegregation Comes

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Negro bus boycott that became a symbol of mass resistance to racial segregation was voted to end last night at the church where it was born 345 days before.

An estimated 5,500-hymn-singing persons crowded into the Holt Street Baptist Church to vote unanimously for an end to the Montgomery boycott.

The Negroes decided to return to city buses as soon as the U. S. Supreme Court's decision that 1-1/2 segregation is unconstitutional goes into effect here.

Their leader, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., told the cheering throng that the decision should grant Montgomery courts in several days. He urged calmness and restraint when it comes to sit. "Until then, boycotters at the church and at a similar meeting

No Time Limitation Spelled Out

MOSCOW (AP)—An Egyptian Embassy spokesman said today Egypt will ask that Soviet volunteers be dispatched to Egypt only if British, French and Israeli troops do not withdraw promptly.

He said he did not know of any time limit on the British-French and Israeli withdrawal.

Egypt, he added, wanted to abide by decisions of the United Nations.

Yesterday an Arab diplomatic source said an Egyptian President Nasser had instructed Egyptian Ambassador Mohammed El Kony to request the Soviet government to send military volunteers immediately.

All sources at the Egyptian Embassy claimed up immediately after that report, and refused comment until today.

The spokesman today apparently made his statement on direct instructions from Cairo.

He said there appeared to have been some slight misunderstanding by the Arab diplomatic source that had reported a request for volunteers had been made. He indicated that a formal request for volunteers had not yet been made to the Soviet Union.

21 Men Escape Burning Plane

DENVER (AP)—A B-70 engine B58 bomber crash-landed and burned in a stubble field north of Denver's municipal airport today, but all 21 men aboard escaped death.

The giant B-70 is one of the type regarded by the U. S. Air Force as a top long-range weapon in case of war. Each costs an estimated 3 1/2 million dollars or more.

The 21 men were taken to the hospital at Lowry Air Force Base, where the plane had taken off about 10 minutes before the crash. The crewman was trapped for nearly an hour in the nose of the plane before he was rescued by firemen from Lowry and Stapleton Airfield, the municipal airport.

By the time crash crews reached the scene all those aboard except this one man had scrambled free of the fiercely burning wreckage.

The plane was attached to the Strategic Air Command based at Ellsworth Air Force Base, Rapid City, S. D. SAC Headquarters said a normal crew is 16 men, but it is not unusual to have extra personnel aboard.

They Badgered Skunk Into Lingerer Death

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maldonado heard something wrong in their bedroom. They called Maldonado's brother Manuel. After inspecting a portable closet, Manuel said: "It must be a badger. Badgers bite. We'll have to kill it."

The brothers pressed against the closet door, squeezed the animal to death. But the badger turned out to be a skunk. The skunk died. But the memory lingered on.

DOGS GOT WORD OTTAWA (AP)—Dogs took it on the lam in a suburb and in a close dog chase the city's dog catcher, George Dolman, said: "There certainly weren't the number of dogs people say there were, unless they heard I was coming and spread the word around."
