Ratings by TV Key

2:30—(10)—Saturday Movie
2:30—(8)—Jamaica Run (1953) ★★ Ray Milland, Arlene Dahl, Wendell Corey. Jumbled drama with family skeletons in every closet of a large mansion in Jamaica inhabited by a strange crew including beautiful Arlene Dahl. Ray Milland is a skipper of a schooner who helps things back to normalcy.

5:30—(10)—Saturday Theatre
9:00 — (10) (12) — Let's Make Love, Marilyn Monroe.

11:15—(3)—The Long Hot Summer, Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward.

11:15—(2)—The Bad Seed, Patty McCormick.

11:30—(9)—Alexander the Great (1956) ★★★ Richard Burton, Frederic March, Claire Bloom. Lavish spectacle that just misses being a truly good film. Burton and March are effective as the Greek father and son, but Claire Bloom is largely wasted as the love interest. A lot of money went into this production, and it shows in the magnificent sets and costumes. Burton is brilliant in most of his scenes.

11:30—(8)—Lucy Gallant, Jane Wyman, Charlton Heston.

11:30—(5)—Dial M for Murder (1954) ★★★ Grace Kelly, Ray Milland, Robert Cummings. Alfred Hitchcock directed this exciting screen version of the famed B'way mystery drama. Robert Cummings and Ray Milland make Princess Grace's life a very hectic one up to the surprising climax.

11:35 — (12) — Bundle of Joy (1956) ★★½ Debbie Reynolds, Eddie Fisher. Love and songs amid a big department store setting in this light and occasionally amusing comedy. Debbie's cute and Eddie sings. Remake of Old Ginger Roger's comedy, "Bachelor Mother."

11:45—(10)—Movie 10.
1:00—(9)—On the Isle of Samoa (1950) ★ Jon Hall, Susan Cabot. A thief comes to an unchartered island and finds love — goes back to civilization to pay his debt to society with the hope of returning to the island paradise some day. As corny as it sounds.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —Hot summer weather hit here Friday, the begining of the first long weekend holiday of the season.

Thousands fled the city for the mountains and the beaches as the temperature climbed to 90.

Boy Must Pay Costs Unless Date Is 'Dutch'

By Dan Halligan

Dear Dan: Do you think the boy should pay the girl's way when he asks her to go out with him and he doesn't work or earn any money? I'm talking about going to the fair or to a movie.

What does going steady mean? I've heard many different versions and would like to know yours. — Just Wondering

HALLIGAN

Dear Just Wondering: A boy has to have some money when he asks a girl out on a date unless there's an agreement the date will be "dutch." Otherwise, he's going to be really embarrassed.

There are as many versions of going steady as hairs on your head, but the one most generally accepted and practiced by high school kids is that Girl A will only date Boy A and, in effect, is "his girl." It's a terrible arrangement.

Dear Readers: Thanks to a (U. S.) Selective Service ruling some weeks ago that American married men will be draft-exempt as long as there are enough single men to fill each monthly draft quota, you can expect to see additional thousands of young people jumping into foolish marriages. If a youth has a choice of marriage or the Army, he just may decide marriage offers the better deal. But what if he's wrong?

You boy reading this, think long and hard before rushing your girls to the altar.

I disapprove of the ruling. If compulsory military training and defense of the nation is every young man's responsibility, then why discriminate against the male who has sense enough not to get married after he graduates from high school? Why should a teen-age bride's skirts provide a buffer?

The government pleads with young men to stay in school, to go to college and prepare themselves to be professionals in a highly professional world. Yet, this ruling (to me) encourages these same young men to be "draft dodgers," to get married and to take on the responsibility of a family when 90 per cent of them aren't prepared.

You guys, don't kid yourselves that marriage is the easy way out. It would be a long time until your golden wedding anniversary — perhaps too long.

Keep getting your education and when the time comes for you to serve, do so willingly and get that obligation behind you. You won't be sorry.

Dear Dan: We are four girls whose ages are from 14½ to 15. We want to ask our boy friends (who don't know we like them) to a dance but we don't know how. The girls are supposed to ask the boys. Please tell us how to ask before other girls ask them first. —The Shy Four

Dear Four: These boys are aware of the coming dance and expect to be invited, so the invitations won't come as great surprises. Ask them individually and in person. Use the old straight-from-the-shoulder approach. Say, "Johnny, would you like to go to the (name of the dance) with me?" But don't call the boy "Johnny" if his name is Tom.

I'm sure all four of you will be dated up in short order but don't waste any time.

Tax-Bill Section On Gasoline Deductions Hit

Criticism has been raised here against a provision of the federal income tax revision bill which would disallow deductions for state gasoline taxes and other automobile taxes.

The criticism came from George M. Carter, manager of the Winston-Salem Automobile Club. He labeled as a "tax gouge" the proposal to rule out the deduction of the gasoline and other vehicle taxes now allowed taxpayers.

The bill to revise the income tax laws, promising about $2 billion tax relief annually, has passed the House and now will go before the Senate, Carter said. The proposal on state gasoline taxes is in the bill.

Carter said those who wish to continue deducting state gasoline taxes and other automobile taxes should notify their senators.
