New UP Officers Elected At Meeting In GM Last Night

New Plans To Simplify Admissions

Simplification of testing schedules in North Carolina high schools should result from the new entrance examination plan adopted by the Carolina, according to Dr. Armstrong, director of admissions.

Under the new plan applicants to the 1957-58 freshman class of the University will take the Scholastic Aptitude Tests prepared by the College Entrance Examination Board of Princeton, N. J. These tests will be administered on Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Feb. 8, March 15, May 17 and Aug. 13.

Only four centers will offer the tests on all six dates; they are Asheville, Charlotte, Raleigh and Wilmington.

UP Elects Syd Shuford As Chairman; Lawing Is Chosen Vice-Chairman

Sydney Shuford, a senior from Biltmore, was elected chairman of the University Party last night. Jack Lawing, vice-chairman; Susan Saunders (incumbent), secretary; and Cameron Cook, treasurer, were elected by acclamation.

The UP voted to pay $75.00 for the material that was used in their campaign for Doug Eisele, UP SP editor-in-chief candidate in the recent recall election of The Daily Tar Heel editor.

Shuford ran against Benny Thomas, a senior from Morven. Shuford commented when elected, "Our main objective is to win the spring elections."

Lawing, a sophomore from Marion, said after being elected, "I will work as hard as I can to try to get the UP in there in the spring elections."

Jerry Jones (incumbent vice-chairman) was renominated but withdrew.

Saunders, a junior from Chapel Hill, commented, "I will continue to do my best to get the party really rolling."

In the race for treasurer Ed Levy (incumbent) was renominated but withdrew. Before withdrawing he told the party that his financial condition was "good."

He said that the party had more money this year than it had last year.

George Ragsdale asked the past board to start looking and getting to know students to nominate for the spring elections.

He said that it had been a long time since the UP had won the position of Vice-President or President of the Student Body.

"I am fairly sure we have an individual who will next Vice-President of the Student Body," he remarked, however.

Speaking next, Shuford told the members that it was important for them to maintain interest in student government in their dorms, fraternities and societies.

Urging the members to build up interest in the elections, he said it takes a "grass roots organization" to win.

Around 40 people attended the meeting.

The retiring officers are Harry Braxton, chairman; Jerry Jones, vice-chairman; and Ed Levy, treasurer.

Honor Council Issues Report On Violations

One case involving a violation of the Honor Code and 12 cases involving violations of the social rules were heard by the Women's Honor Council during the past two months, according to a report issued this week.

The Honor Code case involved a coed who allegedly lied before the council in a previous trial. Her case was dismissed because of lack of evidence.

In its report, the Council expressed concern over the increased number of cases involving violations of social rules. The report said the Council heard twice as many such cases as were handled by the Council during a similar period at the same time last year.

The Council said it felt a general lack of concern toward the social rules explains the increased cases, or the more numerous violations of social rules might be due to ignorance of the rules.

The twelve cases concerning social rule violations were as follows:

Three cases for failure to sign out correctly for a weekend away from campus. Each coed involved received a one-night campus.

One case concerned a coed who failed to sign out for a weekend away from campus. She failed to notify her house mother that she would return to campus a day later than she was expected. The coed received a three-night campus.

A student who was ten hours late was given a three-night campus because she failed to notify her dormitory in person of a change in the date expected to return.

Three coeds who were one hour late because of car trouble were covered by Women's Honor Council. The Council excused one student who failed to return to the dorm on the day expected, since she contacted the dorm administration.

A four-night campus and a Council reprimand were given to a coed who was two and one-half minutes late and had failed to sign the late-slip in her dorm until the next day.

The Council gave sentences of five-night campus and reprimand, a two coeds who were four minutes late and entered the dorm without causing a day later than she was admitted by the dorm administration or without signing a late-slip until asked to do so.

THE RIVALRY—Martin Gabel and Agnes Moorehead present a scene from "The Rivalry" which will play here Friday night in Memorial Hall. Co-starring with them will be Raymond Massey. Tickets for the performance are available in the business office of The Carolina Playmakers—sponsors of the production—214 Abernethy Hall. All seats are reserved.

Martin Gabel, 'The Rivalry' Co-Star Is The Theatre's Triple-Threat Man

By DAVE PETERSON

Martin Gabel, a co-starred with Raymond Massey and Agnes Moorehead in the Paul Gregory production "The Rivalry" coming to Memorial Hall for one performance bases on which "The Rivalry" is only Friday, is the theatre's triple-threat man, having distinguished himself as an actor, director and producer.

What's more, he has been successful on the stage, in motion pictures, radio and television. Domestically he has done all right too. Fugally married to his wife, Agnes Moorehead, he has produced "The Hidden River"

Jerry Stephen A. Douglas, who was a renowned Senator who challenged for the future include the production of "Once More, With Feeling," the story of a symphony conductor by Abe Burrows and Harry Kuzlik, to which he intends to star Miss Francis.

As a director he has been applauded for Irwin Shaw's "The Assassins" and "The Survivors," which he also produced.

His most recent appearance on Broadway as an actor was in "George Avreli's" "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" the comedy which introduced the world to Jayne Mansfield. In motion pictures he is currently seen in "A Tip-on a Dead Jockey."

"The Rivalry" is making a Broadway company tour prior to its Broadway opening on Jan. 27. Tickets for the performance are available in the business office of the Carolina Playmakers, 214 Abernethy Hall. All seats are reserved at $2.25, $3.50 and $4.50.

Maid Of Cotton Entry Deadline Is Extended

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 3.—Deadline for entries in the 1958 Maid of Cotton contest will be extended until Dec. 6, the National Cotton Council announced today. All entries postmarked not later than midnight that day will be considered.

The original deadline was set for Dec. 1. Requests from participants seeking more time to have photographs made in order to meet the deadline prompted the extension, the Council reports. Two unretouched photographs, a portrait picture and a full-length pose, must accompany the applications.

Complete details about the 1958 Maid of Cotton contest are available from the National Cotton Council, P. O. Box 6905, Memphis 12, Tenn. To be eligible, a girl must have been born in a cotton producing state and must never have been married. She must be at least five feet, five inches tall, and must be between the ages of 19 and 25.

Twenty girls, selected from the applications, will come to Memphis on Jan. 23 for two days of final judging. The 1958 Maid of Cotton will be chosen by a seven-member judging committee headed by Miss Gailie Bugas, nationally known newspaper woman.

The Cotton Belt beauty who wins the title will travel more than 30,000 miles on an interna-

Permits For New Parking Lot Now Available To Students

Student car owners may now apply for permits to park in the new Bell Tower Parking Lot according to an announcement by Ralph Cummings, chairman of the Traffic Advisory Board, and Sonny Evans, president of the student body.

During this week until Tuesday, Dec. 10, the Dean of Student Affairs office will receive applications to park in this lot. When all applications are in, stickers will be given out. These special parking lot tickets will replace the regular parking permits issued at the beginning of the year.

However, since students with permits to the Bell Tower Parking Lot are assured of a place to park, these students will not be allowed to park in other student parking areas during the hours of 7 a.m. to 2 p.m.

It is expected that the parking lot located in Kenan Woods between the Morehead-Patterson Bell Tower and S. C. Memorial Hospital will be completed sometime this month.

Daily Tar Heel Staff To Meet This Afternoon

The news department of The Daily Tar Heel will meet this afternoon in the newspaper offices at Graham Memorial immediately following the general staff meeting at 4 o'clock.

All present news staff members, past workers and those interested in joining are urged to attend. Several important positions are open, according to Paul Kue, news editor.

Armstrong Reminded High School Students To Register For College Entrance Examinations

Any North Carolina student who passes the tests and is admitted to the University will receive a $7 degree credit for the first term, as well as the $7 fee charged for the Scholastic Aptitude Tests.

This credit will be given to entering freshmen at the University in Chapel Hill, Women's College in Greensboro, and State College in Raleigh.

The tests will be given on Dec. 7 and again on March 15 in 13 of the centers: Albemarle, Boone, Burnsville, Clinton, Franklin, Henderson, Hendersonville, High Point, Lenoir, Mount Airy, Roanoke Rapids, Siler City and Southern Pines.

Jan. 11 has been designated as the only test date for six cities: Elizabeth City, Hickory, Lexington, Murphy, Statesville and Windsor.

Other centers and dates for administering the tests are as follows: Chapel Hill, Jan. 11, Feb. 8, Mar. 15, Durham, Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Mar. 15, Fayetteville, Jan. 11, May 17; Forest City and Rockingham, Dec. 7 and Aug. 13; Goldsboro, Jan. 11 and Mar. 15; Greensboro, Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Mar. 15 and May 17; Greenville, Dec. 7, Mar. 15, and May 17; Jacksonville, May 17; Morehead City and Waynesville, Dec. 7; New Bern, Jan. 11, Mar. 15 and Aug. 13; North Wilkesboro and Rocky Mount, Jan. 11 and Aug. 13; and Winston-Salem, all dates except May 17.

Those students entering the University in January 1958 for the spring semester will take the admissions tests used previously. Armstrong added.

Five Students Among Duplicate Bridge Winners

A bizarre but interesting run of hands provided many bidding and play problems in Monday night's duplicate game at Graham Memorial, and only five students were among the winners.

These were: John Gwynn and Bill Frye, second place, East-West; Dick Potthoff and Jay Memory, third place, East-West. In the North-South direction, graduate student Bill Uzzle teamed with Economics Professor, Dr. H. D. Wolf, and won fourth place.

Nine tables were in play.

Ike Wants Adlai

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Adlai E. Stevenson said after a White House conference today that President Eisenhower wants him to attend the NATO summit conference in Paris Dec. 16.

The 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential candidate said he probably will not make a decision for another week or 10 days, pending completion of his work with Secretary of State Dulles on preparations for the meeting.

Non-Stop

HONOLULU, Dec. 3.—Four Air Force Vandoo fighters streaked across the Pacific from Tokyo to Honolulu in 6 hours and 35 minutes yesterday for the first non-stop jet flight over the route.

The Air Force said the 2,850-mile flight never had been made faster. It didn't announce the number of times the jets were refueled on route.

Wage Demands

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 3.—Secretary of Labor Mitchell called an organized labor today seriously consider a ban on 1958 wage increase demands.

President Eisenhower called on labor and management in his State of the Union message last January to exercise voluntary restraint in wage negotiations, Mitchell said.

"If this is to meet the President's request of voluntary restraint it deserves deliberation and consideration."
