

WEATHER
... will today, with ex-
... of 65.
... NO. 87
... 77 TO 932:

YODER AND KRAAR RETAIN EDITORSHIP

UNC's First Recall Vote Fails; Write-In Ballots For Ratcliff Only 122

Editors Louis Kraar and Ed Yoder of The Daily Tar Heel were reelected in yesterday's recall election.

The two editors were victorious over their opponent, Lewis Brumfield, by over 800 votes. The final tabulation was 1,777 for Kraar and Yoder, 932 for Brumfield. Bob Ratcliff received 122 write-in votes.

Kraar and Yoder received a 684-504 margin from the men's dormitories with Ratcliff getting 69. They received an overwhelming majority from the women's dormitories, 342-50, with 10 for Ratcliff.

Victory Village returns showed 63 for Kraar and Yoder, 43 for Brumfield, and 13 for Ratcliff.

Big fraternity court gave their vote to Brumfield, 42-29, with 3 for Ratcliff. Little fraternity court did likewise, giving Brumfield a margin of 30-10, with Ratcliff receiving 7.

Voters in Alpha Tau Omega turned in a smashing 74-15 vote in favor of Kraar and Yoder with Ratcliff polling 5.

Gerrard Hall voters favored Kraar and Yoder, 199-42, with Ratcliff receiving 2. Lenoir Hall turned in a vote of 200-76 for the two editors, with Ratcliff getting 9.

The Scuttlebutt vote favored the editors, 168-127, with 3 for Ratcliff.

Concerning the election, both editors issued statements.

Kraar said: "The students have reaffirmed the Carolina tradition for freedom from conformity of thought. Those demagogues who would use this paper for a political tool have been crushed. And I am proud the students themselves did it. We will go on writing to the best of our convictions and continue inviting the campus to disagree with us."

Yoder said: "I guess it has been proved that you can't fool all the students all the time. Two factions have been repudiated by the students: the political tail-walkers and the alarmists who thought the students wanted a colorless Daily Tar Heel."

Brumfield could not be reached for comment.

Police Asked To Search For Papers

Town police were searching for approximately 2,500 missing newspapers last night as the smoke cleared from a last-minute recall election move.

The newspapers, Tuesday morning editions of The Daily Tar Heel, were reported missing or stolen after delivery men ended their early-morning routes yesterday.

The Daily Tar Heel, however, put out 2,500 copies in a noon-hour extra edition yesterday.

Here's how the missing papers fit into the election picture:

Monday evening—the eve of the recall election—an unsigned, mimeographed statement appeared stating students to "Write In Ratcliff" vote for Bob Ratcliff as the newspaper's editor. Ratcliff had previously dropped out of the editorial race, leaving present Editors Louis Kraar and Ed Yoder and candidate Lewis Brumfield in the running.

The statement charged the present editors "have attacked everything on campus," and called Brumfield "an obvious last-minute desperation candidate who is considered to be unqualified by many of the students."

Joseph Crews, senior from Wilmington, ordered the mimeographing job done, according to the University Duplication Dept.

Late Monday night, after the mimeographed statement had been circulated, Bob Ratcliff issued a statement that he was in no way connected with the movement. His remarks were published in The Daily Tar Heel for Tuesday morning's paper.

Students reported Tuesday morning that their papers did not arrive. A check showed they had been delivered, and they were evidently removed from their distribution points.

The extra edition, which reached students eating lunch yesterday, told the story of the missing papers and explained Ratcliff's statement that was not a write-in candidate.

Ratcliff's statement was also mimeographed late Monday night and early Tuesday morning, and distributed around the campus. Its distributors reported many copies of the statement were also mysteriously missing.

The Daily Tar Heel has asked the Chapel Hill Police Dept. for an investigation of the missing newspapers, and has announced it will prosecute the offender if he is found.

The chairman of women's orientation must be a junior. She will plan the orientation of all new women students in the fall. This is a position where imagination and ability to organize and get work done is needed, according to Miss Fink.

The chairman of leadership training must be a senior coed. (See JOBS, page 4.)

Women's Positions Now Open

The positions of chairman of women's orientation and the chairman of leadership training have not been filled yet, according to Miss Susan Fink, chairman of the women's residence council.

Any coed interested in either job may look at the files in the Council Room of Graham Memorial today and tomorrow from 2 to 4 p.m. Application blanks may be filled out there.

The chairman of women's orientation must be a junior. She will plan the orientation of all new women students in the fall. This is a position where imagination and ability to organize and get work done is needed, according to Miss Fink.

The chairman of leadership training must be a senior coed. (See JOBS, page 4.)

EDITORS YODER AND KRAAR students expressed their opinions yesterday

SUCCESSOR TO GRAY: Presidential Group Sets Meeting Soon

RALEIGH, Feb. 14 (AP) — A statement issued by the University Executive Committee yesterday that the State Board of Higher Education "was intended to lay at rest" of deconsolidating the University.

Gov. Hodges said this today when asked for comment on the Executive Committee's statement.

The statement "meant to say" that the State Board of Higher Education "will correlate activities" of the state's higher education institutions "as now constituted," the Governor said.

Meanwhile, it was learned the Trustees' Executive Committee requested the Governor to name a special committee which would confer both with the Board of Higher Education and a committee named to recommend a new University president.

The Governor said Victor Bryant, chairman of the nominating committee, wanted "a clear delineation" of the relationship between the University president and the Board of Higher Education.

In its statement yesterday, the Trustees' Executive Committee said the University has problems which the Board of Higher Education "is not familiar with nor is it able to handle such problems."

The Executive Committee also urged Bryant's nominating committee to make its recommendations on a new University president "as expeditiously as seems wise."

Gov. Hodges said Bryant felt the nominating committee needed to be able to tell candidates for University president clearly just what the relation between the president and the Board of Higher Education would be.

Delta Upsilon Wins Scholarship Award

North Carolina's chapter of Delta Upsilon social fraternity has been awarded the Philadelphia Delta Upsilon Scholarship Cup for the third successive time.

The cup is awarded on the basis of the chapter's scholastic rating as compared with other chapters in the province. There are 12 chapters in the fraternity's third province.

The chapter here now has Carolina Alumni Tony Houghton and Ed Vogel received the cup at a banquet in Philadelphia Feb. 9.

The chapter here now has permanent possession of the cup.

IN THE INFIRMARY

Students in the infirmary yesterday included: Miss Mary G. Clarke, Miss Frankie M. Junker, Miss Shirley B. Collins, Christopher M. Deady, William B. Alkin Jr., James C. McMahon, Benson R. Mangum, Thomas B. Jackson Jr., Jerry H. Morris, Ben G. Williams, Dewey E. Johnson Jr., Lloyd M. Walter, James W. Rose Jr., Richard W. Jennings, William T. Reese, Andrew J. Pollard and James R. McCartney III.

COEDS VOTE IN YESTERDAY'S RECALL ELECTION editorial election brought out votes

RECALL MOVEMENT: Reid Explains Any Embarrassment

CHARLIE JOHNSON ed to replace Bob Harrington from Dorn Men's II. Roy Long was named by acclamation to replace G. C. Pridden from Dorn Men's III.

Reid supported Don Fowler for the SP nomination for student body president last spring. The SP, however, gave the nomination to Manning Muntzing. Reid then supported Fowler on an independent ticket. Fowler was elected in a run-off election and appointed Reid as his attorney general.

Reid said he helped E. L. (Junior) Nance draw up the recall petitions, but he denied influencing Nance to start them. He also said he did sign the recall petitions.

Reid said he helped Nance draw up the petitions because he felt "it was his duty as attorney general." He said he would do the same thing if someone asked him to help draw up a petition to recall President Fowler.

"If the charges (that he influenced the starting of the recall petitions) have embarrassed the party, I'm sorry," he said. He told party members the charges didn't bother him. He said the charges indicate that something was being done, and that was a "good sign" to him.

"The charges are based on false conclusions," he said.

Reid then discussed the charges against him of signing the petition nominating Lewis Brumfield for the recall election. "I have never refused to sign a petition for anyone to get their name on a ballot for any office," he said.

Reid was then asked who approached him to sign the petition nominating Brumfield. He said he wasn't sure who handed him the petition, but he signed it and requested other students to sign it "because he felt Brumfield had a right to run for editor."

Republicans Open Membership Drive Today

The Republican Club will open membership drive starting tomorrow. Publicity Chairmen are:

Publicity cards can be purchased and Thursday from 9 to 11 p.m., he said.

Membership cards may be purchased at half price for a limited time.

MEMBERSHIP SLATE

Members scheduled for graduation today include: Phi Alpha Reception, Phi Kappa Phi Reception, Phi Kappa Phi Reception, UP Membership, Roland Parker, Jehovah's Witnesses, and Parker Lounge.

Woodhouse Conference and Means Conference for observing the solar eclipse. Dr. Davis' talk will be held at 8 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge of the Morehead Planetarium. It will be sponsored jointly by the Chapel Hill Astronomy Club and the UNC Physics Club.

Morse To Talk On Thursday

Wayne Morse, Democratic Senator from Oregon, will speak tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Hall Hall.

He will be introduced by Bob Young, president of G.M.A.B. His appearance is sponsored by The Carolina Forum.

Morse, who left the Republican Party and joined the Democratic Party in 1954, was dean of the law school at the University of Oregon in the 1930's.

From 1942 to 1944 he served on the War Labor Board with former UNC President Frank Graham. When he resigned he was praised by President Franklin Roosevelt for his valuable services.

Brumfield could not be reached for comment. (See MORSE, page 4.)

Reston, Bunche, Mays Added To March List

Six speakers of an "all-star" cast of eleven prominent figures in human relationships were announced here yesterday as arrangements for the Carolina Symposium on Public Affairs, March 11-16, were revealed.

The six are: James B. (Scotty) Reston of the New York Times; Carlos P. Romulo, Ambassador to the U. S. from the Philippines; Dr. Ralph Bunche of the United Nations; Maj. L. P. McLendon, a member of the N. C. Board of Higher Education; Dr. Frank P. Benjamin Mays, president of Morehouse College in Atlanta, Ga.

The other five members of the symposium will be announced within a few days. It was announced by Manning Muntzing, chairman.

Romulo, who will deliver the Well Lectures (which are combined with the Symposium) has as his central topic, "American Citizenship."

Reston, who heads the Washington Bureau of the New York Times and is an authority on international diplomacy, will speak on the general area of world problems.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, UN mediator, will discuss "Colonialism."

Dr. Mays will devote his speech to "Old Problems in the New South." (See SYMPOSIUM, page 4.)

Reston, Bunche, Mays Added To March List

A Real, Live Valentine
This is Miss Mary Hobbs Valentine, pretty Carolina namesake for the day when sweethearts exchanged tokens of affection. (Hentley Photo)

UNC Scientist To Speak On Solar Eclipse Trip

Dr. Morris Davis, UNC professor, will speak tonight upon his trip to Thailand this past December for observing the solar eclipse. Dr. Davis' talk will be held at 8 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge of the Morehead Planetarium. It will be sponsored jointly by the Chapel Hill Astronomy Club and the UNC Physics Club.