Meredith May Admit Men

RALEIGH (AP)—Trustees of Meredith College have approved lighter entrance requirements and received a recommendation that the year's school admit male students. Lloyd Griffin, chairman of the Meredith trustees, said Meredith must admit male students or "fall down on its duty and obligation" to fill a need left by the removal of Wake Forest College to Winston-Salem.

Suit Would Outlaw NAACP

MECKLENBURG WOMEN FAIL TO CASH IN ON EXTRA DAY

Women of Mecklenburg County looking for husbands this Leap Year apparently failed to take advantage of the "extra day" in 1956. Records at the Register of Deeds office show that no marriage licenses were issued yesterday. And what's more, according to an unofficial list of proposed wedding dates kept at that office, no one went to the altar here yesterday. But while hopeful females weren't able to convert Feb. 29 into a Leap Year success there was a bright side of the picture for them, too. It also means that none of them will find themselves in the position of being able to celebrate their wedding anniversary only once every four years.

Robbery At Wallace

Gunmen Kill Filling Station Attendant

WALLACE (AP)—Two gunmen fatally wounded a filling station attendant in a holdup here early today. The pair escaped with about $150 in cash. The robbery occurred at a filling station here where the attendant, James Thomas Egan, 45, was rushed to a Wilmington hospital, where he died about four hours after the holdup. Wallace Police Chief E. W. Whitaker said Egan was shot five times, with two different pistols. Whitaker said at least he could piece the story together from the mortally wounded attendant. Two young white men entered the filling station and both started shouting at him. Egan fell behind the counter and cash register and the two men escaped with the money and the filling station pistol. Whitaker said he took word of the holdup from L. K. Hollingsworth of Wallace, stopped at the station apparently just minutes after the holdup. Hollingsworth related that when he got out and started into the station he heard a call for help. He first sought a policeman. Officer Tom Eick entered the station with Hollingsworth and they found Egan crumpled behind the counter. Whitaker said Egan was rushed to a Wilmington hospital, where he died shortly before 7 a. m.

Some Of Faculty At Odds With Graham Ideas

Personal Dislike Of Chancellor Behind WC Ruckus

By CHARLES KURALT Charlotte News Staff Writer What lies behind the latest ruckus at Women's College in Greensboro? One of its first official moves is an investigating committee is looking into it. It is a deep-seated feud with the aggressive chancellor that goes back to 1950, when Graham came to the campus. One of his first official moves was an attempt to bring "general education" to Women's College. This is an educational plan which would send fields of knowledge into one coherent plan of study and would require the use of less unrelated "single shot" system of courses that is used at Wake Forest. Immediately, the slight en-

Autherine Ousted For Making Charge

Action Follows Court's Decision

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Autherine Lucy, Negro coed, today was ousted from the University of Alabama for improper charges that school authorities conspired in such action against her. There was no official announcement from the board of trustees, but members confirmed that the action was agreed upon at a meeting last night. They asked that their names not be used. The action came within hours after U. S. Dist. Judge H. Robert Grooms yesterday ordered the board to vacate an order excluding the 20-year-old Birmingham woman from the campus for safety reasons. He gave the university until Monday to take the action redefining her.

NO COMMENT

There was no immediate comment from the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, which had sponsored her 25-day legal battle to get admittance to the all-white school.

The action took NAACP officials here by surprise. A hasty effort was made to reach Thurgood Marshall, NAACP legal counsel who represented Miss Lucy at the hearing before Judge Grooms yesterday. He had planned to leave here today.

At the start of the hearing yesterday, Marshall was allowed to drop allegations that the trustees and university officials conspired in excluding her. He was allowed to file in motion stating that drive Miss Lucy from the campus at Tuscaloosa, Feb. 6.

NO EVIDENCE

Marshall told the court that "after careful investigation we are unable to produce any evidence to support these allegations. This statement takes out every single allegation of conspiracy."

Attorney Andrew Thomas called the conspiracy charges "scarcely defensible." He objected heatedly when Judge Grooms eliminated them from the action, saying that the university should be given an opportunity to answer them.

Miss Lucy had said she was "morally pleased" when the judge ruled in her favor yesterday.

In Birmingham, the Lucy defense team, headed by Birmingham Post-Herald than President Eisenhower's announcement that he was available for re-nomination.

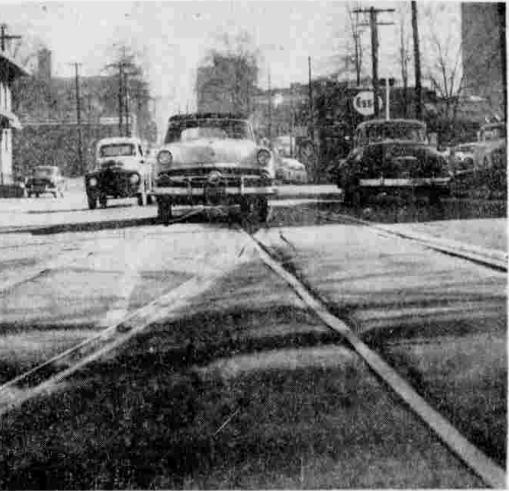

The first major reaction came from A. C. Carter, executive secretary of the Greater Alabama White Citizens Council, an affiliation of Ku Klux Klan organizations.

Carter called a mass meeting here on March 2 and predicted an attendance of 15,000.

FOUND SOLUTION

We believe we have found a solution to the anti-integration leader, but he could not say what the solution was. He said he would report it to the NAACP.

Rough Rides On Mint St. Won't Be For Long. City Council And P&N Railway Say The Track Is Coming Up

P&N Mint St. Tracks Finally To Come Up

By DICK YOUNG Charlotte News Staff Writer Tracks of the Piedmont & Northern Railway in Mint St. are to be abandoned.

After several years of negotiations, amid constant complaint of motorists at the roughness of the street, City Manager Henry A. Yancey reported to the City Council agreement of the P & N officials to abandon the tracks in Mint St. from four Hill St. to 3rd St.

Approval was formally given by the Council yesterday to execution of the contract which will require the city to expend $200,000 for acquisition of new right of way for a new track between Graham and Mint St.

Mr. Yancey said the railway company will spend $67,150 for construction of the new tracks to serve business houses in the area.

Permanently it was granted the railway to continue for use of that portion of the track a 22 ft. wide strip between 2nd and 3rd Sts. in order to serve the Charlotte branch of South & Co.

This permission is granted solely for the purpose of service South & Co. and the contract provides that when the track is no longer needed for this specific purpose the company will remove it at its own expense.

'Greatest Team' In Country

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall today predicted that Vice President Nixon will be President Eisenhower's running mate for another term and called them "the greatest team" in the country. "Hall made this prediction at a jammed press conference at which he also said that if the Democrats make the President's health an issue in the campaign it will "backfire on them and cost their votes."

"The American people simply won't stand for tactics of that kind," he declared.

SPEND TWO MILLION

Hall has announced the national committee expects to spend upward to five million dollars on a television-radio campaign.

In line with Eisenhower's speech last night in which the President said he would rely heavily on mass communication media with an eye toward "the use of the radio and television in the campaign," Hall said "the stop campaigning is out."

He said there is any extensive campaign traveling to be done, the party has a big organization and could send out more of the cabinet except for Secretary of State Dulles "whom we couldn't ask to make political speeches."

CAMPAIGN PLANS

Hall said he would call a meeting of the national committee, Republican state chairmen and Republican legislators to meet in Washington soon to discuss "the type of campaign we intend to wage."

In a formal statement read to newsmen, Hall said Eisenhower's decision to run for a second term "has been hailed from coast to coast by the greatest outpouring of cheers and expressions of good will we have ever known."

"I know," he said, "that our party is a man will unite behind President Eisenhower and work harder than ever for a complete Republican victory this fall."

For Wisconsin, he certified the membership slate of convention delegates headed by Gov. Walter J. Kohler and chosen by the state Republican caucus.

The Wisconsin statement must be filed with the Wisconsin Secretary of State by 7 p. m. (EST) tomorrow.

Six Facing Drug Courts

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Four students and two other persons were arrested today on the University of Kentucky campus after a federal undercover agent investigated the reported sale of narcotics.

Federal agents said that two students and two non-students would be charged with selling narcotics. Leslie Martin, university dean of men, said narcotics had been sold to students.

Two other students picked up by agents will be charged with grand larceny, police chief E. C. Hollis said. He added that police had confiscated electrical equipment taken in a burglary.

CHANCELLOR GRAHAM

Today Vice President Graham's views before the subcommittee have been reviewed. The focus of investigation and the absence of any clear lines of authority within the University caused some of the unhappy faculty members to skip the Consolidated University administration in Chapel Hill and take their complaints about Graham straight to the trustees.

The Hanes subcommittee, which included Mrs. Ed M. Anderson of West Jefferson, Flood Crooke of Sports and A. Hamilton Price of Levine, in addition to St. James, criticized three trustees in the study and promised that their names would be kept secret from Chancellor Graham and everyone else.

On this basis some of the trustees testified against Chancellor Graham before the subcommittee.

None of these charges, according to a trustee who reviewed all the testimony, alleged any malfeasance or dishonesty against the chancellor.

All the charges involving this trustee, said Dr. Graham, were "trivial and unimportant" and "unpleasant" and indicated personal animosity with his general education plan.

"Anyone who looked at that testimony would say it is almost a foregone conclusion that it is the trustee said some of the trustees had the opportunity to criticize the college. Dr. Graham stepped on a few toes and they were out of the picture."

Such criticism as had been made in the campus library publication added fuel to these matters, criticism of Dr. Graham, the trustee said.

After the incident Dr. Graham publicly criticized the students who edited the publication.

After the Hanes committee had finished its work, it reported to the full voting committee, of which William H. Saunders, director of communications for the state, is chairman.

Mr. Saunders' group was referred to the full board of trustees that the investigation be turned over to the Consolidated University administration.

And Archd. President William H. Hanes appointed the new South Forefront Milk Products at your favorite store—M.D.
