Egan's Not Eager To Become Engaged

By EMERY WISTER
(Charlotte News Amusement Editor)

Tell you what, girls. Let's call up that man Richard Egan and see what he has on his mind.

Yankee go Home or anything like that.

But what about Dana? "Me," he answered. "I'm a homebody. I like dogs."

Now about Jane Russell. "What about her?" "She's on a Revolt of Mamie Stover's," you say. "You know who you ain't she?"

Egan's note: He's got off then. You know Jane Russell's married.

Now, Dick. Let's talk about Mimi Stover.

Nuger Tax Case Over

The long-hanging federal tax case of Edith Nuger of Charlotte was disposed of in Western District Court today.

When Wartick sentenced Mrs. Nuger to two years in prison, but suspended the sentence and put her on probation and ordered a $3,000 fine.

The agents said the case grew out of tax payments due from 1945 to 1950, with about $13,000 in additional payments due. Penalties and fines brought the amount demanded by the government to $28,751.64.

The case was originally brought against both Morris Nuger and Mrs. Nuger, operators of the Grand Theater here. The defendant, Mr. Nuger, was dropped at the October, 1954, term of court because of his health. The case against Mrs. Nuger was continued at each term of court since, and it was reported this morning that the entire tax settlement has been made.

Robbin Takes Blast At Rock 'N' Roll 'Junk'

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Robbins, for many years a popular CBS disc jockey and now the host of CBS radio's Young Ideas, believes that many of the nation's 6,000 disc jockeys are failing to do their jobs.

"There's so much unmusical junk these days that it's unfit to be heard," he said the other day. "Some writers and singers ask, 'Why do a good song? They aren't selling.' With a few exceptions what's selling is rock 'n' roll. And that's because too many disc jockeys are playing the stuff."

AWFUL STUFF

There are probably well over 100 million people in America who agree with Robbins. Certainly I do. In the past year I've just about given up listening to disc jockeys. The D.J.'s are okay. It's the awful stuff they're playing that makes me turn them off.

Just as I thought I was retiring,

FRED ROBBIN

Neither Party Produced Any Civil Rights Laws

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both the Democratic and Republican party platforms of 1956 promised new civil rights laws. Neither party has produced. Both have had opportunity to do so.

The Republicans, as a result of the 1952 elections, controlled Congress in 1953 and 1954. The Democrats, by winning the 1954 elections, have controlled Congress since the beginning of 1955. Neither passed any civil rights legislation.

The Eisenhower administration has taken since 1953 of civil rights laws but so far has sent no specific recommendations to Congress. It may do so shortly after Congress returns from its Easter vacation.

No matter what is proposed, and no matter by whom, inside or outside Congress, this Congress like those before it will be unable to pass any new civil rights laws. The reason is simple: The Southern Democrats will block them.

The House, with the votes of many Republicans and Northern Democrats, may pass some civil rights bills before Congress goes home this summer, over the Southern Democratic protests.

In the House, where debate is limited, the Southerners, being outnumbered, can't kill a bill with a veto.

But nothing approved by the House can become law unless the Senate also gives its okay. In the Senate debate is unlimited.

There outnumbered Southern Democrats can filibuster to death any civil rights legislation passed

REAL GENE CAT
"Dreamy" the wispered, "Just dreamy."
But no one else was doing much dreaming. Up came The Cats, wearing light summer suits singing and shouting more live to the delight and hand clapping of the thousands.

Then came Little Richard, the featured vocalist. The crowd gave her a big hand, too, but it was noisy singing. The evening was wearing thin. The cats, the featured performers, got only mild response compared to the hostess, who gave her own performance. The crowd already had had her "see" and they were ready to return to earth.

It is did nothing else, last night's show proved one thing: The Coliseum is here to stay. Nothing less than a major earthquake or atom bomb will ever tear it down.

MERCHANTS

8-14 Judging of the show winners will be held April 12. Prizes will be awarded for the 10 most popular displays presented here in the name of popular interest in the Charlotte Fair.

San Galliano, chairman of the Attendance Committee, reported Charlotte will have a "very good exhibition" of merchants at the North Carolina Merchants Association's annual convention May 21-22 in Winston-Salem.

Charles Duder, executive vice president, announced the directorate will hold its next meeting May 8 at the new headquarters building of Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Co. at Charlotte, in response to an invitation from the company's management.

Booming Speed Noted Before 6-Death Crash

WARRENTON (AP)—One of two cars involved in a collision Sunday which killed six persons was racing prior to the accident, State Highway Patrolman V. R. Vaughan reported yesterday.

Vaughan said six persons who saw the crash told him the car driven by Arthur W. Merritt, 32, of Franklin, Pa., and another driver by Crosby Hunt, also of Franklin County, were racing at speeds estimated at 90 to 100 miles per hour.

Vaughan said Merritt was attempting to pass another car on the crest of a hill, sidwiped the vehicle and rammed the rear end to a sedan driven by James H. Salmon, 29, of Warrenton. Merritt and five members of the Salmon family were killed instantly.

Injured were J. W. Ellington of Raleigh, a passenger with Merritt and Myrtle Bridges, chairman, presided at the first meeting of the recently appointed committee.

Patsy Award Goes To Bull Terrier

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A bull terrier named "Wildfire" is the winner of the 6th annual Patsy Award, the annual equivalent of the movie Oscar.

The awards were announced by Dr. A. Young, veterinary region director of the American Humane Assn.
