

Thomas L. Robinson - President and Publisher
Brodie S. Griffith - General Manager
Cecil Prince - Associate Editor
Thomas J. Fesperman - Editor
W. W. Sirmion - Circulation Manager

SATURDAY, APRIL 7, 1956

Getting John Q. Citizens Into The Act

CHARLOTTE and North Carolina should find sudden inspiration in the report submitted to President Eisenhower yesterday by the Committee for the White House Conference on Education... The city and the state are naturally preoccupied with the question of segregation in the public schools...

Hammar skjold Casts A Small Shadow

A BAB and Israeli delegates normally have seats at opposite ends of the table at the United Nations Security Council... One day this week an excess of Arab delegates extended their lines almost completely around the table...

After John White, Riches Galore

THOSE who scoff at Tar Heel culture like to remark that the last painter who stirred any interest in the Old North State was John White... Mr. White brought his palette and brushes to Roanoke Island in 1565, left in 1587...

From The Greensboro Daily News

WHISTLE STOP AIRPORT

IT WAS a blow to our illusions, of course, but we shall get over it, as time heals all wounds... Charlotte, declares Marlene Dietrich's daughter, is a whistle-stop airport. This is the same Charlotte where Constans, their faster and more frequent flights, gave Greensboro-High Point an inferiority complex...

'You Mean These Secrets Have Been Stolen Already?'

HERB LOCK
GIVES THE UNUSUAL-EXTRA POLICY CO.

Fat For The Fire
The Rover Boys In England

By JOSEPH ALSOP
Krush and Bulge, very much in the bright, ruthless manner of someone promising to visit Kalamazoo the very next week... The fire at London has been fairly hot. Lord Salisbury, who is probably the most respected single politician in England after Sir Winston Churchill, is known to have detested the whole idea from the outset...

Drew Pearson's Merry-Go-Round

IT won't be announced publicly, but President Eisenhower has ordered all Army, Navy, Air Force junkets for congressmen canceled until Congress adjourns... Nixon's Uncle... Elucidate Plan... Nixon's Uncle... Elucidate Plan...

U. S. Shuns Clear Choices, Adopts 'Policy Of Straddle'

By WALTER LIPPMANN

A GREAT deal is being done abroad and here at home about how necessary and urgent it is that this country give firm and clear leadership to the Communist world. It is easier to say that than to do it... The President and Mr. Dulles have found himself entangled in an extraordinary series of dilemmas... The President and Mr. Dulles give the impression of being men who are not so much trying to lead a grand alliance as they are to disentangle themselves from its quarrel and to become if possible mediators...

People's Platform

Letters should be brief. The writer's name and address must be given, but may be withheld from publication in the discretion of the editors. The news reserves the right to condense.

Here's Why Charlotte Streets Are Littered

Editors, The News:
WEDNESDAY morning at approximately 7 a.m. I discovered one reason why cleaning crews can't keep up with the litter on Charlotte's streets... A large unmarked trash truck pulled away from the side of a building and drove down the street with paper and cardboard flying all over the place...

A Note Of Thanks For The Bus Drivers,

Editors, The News:
I THINK it was a very kind gift for the City Coach Co. to chide people to and from church on Easter Sunday... They were friendly by donating a Christmas tree. After all money isn't what makes people happy, if you don't use it to help others by the kind deeds you can do...

Political Hellism? -No Thank You

Editors, The News:
I NOTICED in the paper the other week that Mr. Ben Douglas came out with a letter and someone wanted him to give 'em hell. I think North Carolina has got enough hell with liquor stores and beer joints... When politicians do that it is too much like Harry Truman makes a mistake. In regard to whether President Eisenhower has done anything, well, he stopped the Korea war, and he was more than Truman did or tried to do. He knew what would happen if he stopped that war...

Quote, Unquote

When a woman spends money on her husband, he loses, too, loses some of his rolls - bank roll, that is. -Wall Street Journal.

Great Cheese Scandal Ought To Be Probed

Editors, The News:
PUBLIC apathy is often responsible for such inexcusable action on the part of high government officials, as reported...

Tongue-Lashing

When you read a court record, it is easy to understand why the vice president is concerned. For his Uncle Hugh was castigated by Superior Judge Roger A. Pfaff for cheating the government on taxes... "I'm going to steal this from Uncle Sam and I'm not going to pay taxes on $10,000," Judge Pfaff summarized Uncle Hugh's strategy. "I am trying to cheat the government out of $10,000." That, concluded the judge, "leaves me just as cold as a mackerel."

Elucidate Plan

What happened was that Uncle Hugh Nixon's son had an incurable disease. In order to avoid state inheritance tax and federal estate taxes, the vice president's uncle devised a scheme of selling property belonging to his son, with the proceeds to be paid in cash. The cash in turn was to be distributed to various relatives and friends of the son and thus not become part of the son's estate...

Amazing Confessions

Later, Hansen and Uncle Nixon got an argument, with the result that the suit was brought in the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, at which Uncle Nixon made some rather amazing confessions... The judge found against Nixon in a scorching opinion which is not going to help the vice president if the Democrats exploit his own theory of guilt by association...