

Established Dec. 8, 1888.

At Least Two Men Lost

Schooner Cut In Two By Larger Freighter

A BABY ROBIN opens his mouth wide for a piece of bread nine-year-old Jimmy Wings of Arlington, Va., holds in his lips. Jimmy found the youngster on the street two weeks ago and sees that it gets plenty of bread and worms. (AP Wirephoto)

Storms Over Weekend Kill 13, Hurt 270

Property Damage Runs To Millions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Weekend tornadoes and violent storms gouged destructive trails across parts of the nation, leaving 13 dead, at least 270 injured and millions of dollars property damage.

The Weather Bureau said the threat of violent weather had passed today.

Disastrous windstorms in the Cleveland area killed six persons, injured at least 69 and caused property damage estimated by police at "several million dollars."

Six others were killed and more than 200 injured by 19 separate tornadoes that roared down on Michigan. Damage at Flint alone was estimated by authorities at police at "several million dollars."

Northern Ohio reported one other storm death when a youth drowned in a flooded drainage ditch.

At least 1,300 civil defense auxiliary police and other volunteers aided authorities in directing traffic in the Cleveland area and clearing the streets of debris.

Mayor Frank P. Celeste of the Cleveland suburb of Lakewood estimated damage there at more than 1 1/2 million dollars. Lakewood police said more than 600 trees were felled by the storm.

About 1,300 civil defense auxiliary police and other volunteers aided authorities in directing traffic in the Cleveland area and clearing the streets of debris.

Two hundred Flint homes and a score of business establishments were either leveled or badly damaged. Overcrowded Flint hospitals took care of 107 injured persons.

The Michigan tornadoes, in addition to hitting Flint, struck the

Garage Topped On To New Car By Storm Near Pittsburgh. (AP)

Collision Occurs Off California

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—A lumber schooner was cut in two by a larger freighter with the loss of at least two men in pre-dawn darkness today about three miles off the central California coast.

The S. S. (steamship) Marine Leopold, out the S. S. Howard Olson in tow. The Coast Guard said its radio messages indicated.

Capt. David Kennedy, master of a rescue ship, said via radio telephone that he understood two men were dead and four others missing from the coastwise schooner.

Capt. Kennedy said he understood the Leopold picked up 23 from the 35-degree water, and that one of these men was dead. The captain added that he heard the S. S. John B. Waterman picked up two other men, then of whom one was dead.

STERN DISAPPEARS
Capt. Kennedy on the Tydol Flying A, a tanker, said he was standing by the bow section of the Olson but 2,477-ton stern section had disappeared.

The collision occurred at 2:53 a.m. PDT (4:53 a.m. EST) about 2 1/2 miles off Point Sur. That's about 175 miles south of San Francisco and 20 miles south of this lush Monterey Bay resort area.

At Monterey, the Coast Guard station said it had sent two cutters to the scene which is some 20 miles by water south of Monterey.

Messages to the Monterey Coast Guard said only that there were people in the water.

NOT AVAILABLE
The number of crewmen on the cargo ships was not available.

The San Francisco Marine Exchange said the Olson, a lumber schooner, was owned by the Oliver J. Olson Co. of San Mateo, Calif. It is a 2,477-ton vessel, was 253 feet long, had a 45.5 foot beam and drew 25.6 feet.

The Marine Leopold, a wartime C-4 cargo ship, is owned by Luckenbach Steamship Co. of San Francisco. The ship is 10,062 tons, is 497.2 feet long, 71.7 foot beam and 29.8 foot draft.

Coast Guardsmen at the Point Sur lighthouse said that all they could see through the early morning darkness were flares being dropped by an airplane.

Point Sur is a rugged area south of the resort areas of Monterey and Carmel on the Pacific Ocean.

The area was the scene of three disasters in November, 1973. The SS Los Angeles went aground there with a heavy loss of life and in 1979 the ship Ventura sank off the point.

The driftable Macon was wrecked there early in 1935 with a loss of two lives.

Evening Prayer
O God all the bewildering and distressing experiences of life. O God our Father, Thou dost comfort us as "one whom his griefs oppresseth." May this sustaining thought ever be cherished in our hearts. For Christ's sake Amen

Estes, Adlai Talk In Same Town

'Full' Campaign Promised

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's voters will hear a full discussion of the issues this election year from the Republican side, Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty promised yesterday.

In a filmed television interview, Hagerty also indicated that the "electronics age" — presumably meaning television and radio — would figure importantly in President Eisenhower's re-election campaign.

It has been previously announced Eisenhower will make five or six TV campaign speeches, some possibly originating in other parts of the country.

"We have a lot of plans," Hagerty said yesterday, but "it's a little bit too early to announce those plans," particularly to the opposition party.

Referring to Eisenhower, Hagerty said, "He will campaign, but I think it will be in a little different sense than a traditional whistle-stop campaign. I do think our points of view... will be fully and simply covered."

The press secretary said he thought the principal issues in the GOP view will be property and what he called a transition "from war toward peace more and more."

Another opinion of what the issues would be came from Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), the 1952 Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Sparkman said in an interview said Democrats won't need to emphasize health or the "part-time president" argument to beat Eisenhower in November.

"I think the two principal issues will be the farm problem and the favoritism of this administration for big business, with its consequent disadvantage to small business," he said.

HAPPY TO HEAR IT
Sparkman said he was happy to hear of the favorable medical report on Eisenhower's health Saturday. The report showed no signs of muscle weakness in the heart and found Eisenhower "physically active and mentally alert," with normal blood pressure.

Meanwhile, Americans for Democratic Action found New York Gov. Averell Harriman, Sen. Estes Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson all "eminently qualified for the Democratic presidential nomination."

ADA, an organization espousing what it calls the "liberal" principles of the New Deal and "Fair Deal," Democratic administrations also adopted a resolution saying it must oppose an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket "with all its resources."

It criticized the President for what it termed "inordinate delegation of responsibility."

Stevenson, opening a drive for Oregon's 16 Democratic presidential votes in the national convention, accused the Eisenhower administration of failing to enact promised legislation.

PROMISES NOT RECEIVED
At a rally in Portland, he said the administration had failed to redeem promises to remove what he termed objectionable features of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

He said another promise to reorganize the National Labor Relations Board had not been fulfilled.

Earlier, Stevenson and Kefauver appeared in a May Day celebration in Los Banos, Calif., where both later hit at administration farm policies. Both are seeking California's 68 Democratic convention votes as well as Oregon's 16.

In Portland, Harriman told a Democratic group there are many issues this year but New and Fair Deal principles are the basic ones.

"If we stick to that we can win," Harriman, who describes himself as "not an active" candidate for the presidency, is on a Western tour that will include eight Democratic dinner addresses in

Eden Faces Quizzing

Missing Frogman Debate Scheduled

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden mapped government strategy for tonight's showdown Parliament session on his handling of the strange case of the missing British frogman and the Soviet warships.

Eden was headed for a sharp grilling in the House of Commons debate.

Angry leaders of the Labor opposition want to know just what retired naval diver Lionel Crabbe was operating "without authorization" and that it would not be in the nation's best interests to say more.

The Russians insist the diver was spying. The British press generally has agreed.

Eden said the retired naval officer was "testing underwater apparatus" and refused to go into details. In the debate tonight, Labor legislators hoped to force Eden into supplying the details.

Crabb was seen swimming near the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze and two accompanying vessels April 19—the day after "B and K" arrived in Britain.

He had not been seen since. British near Adm. P. W. Burnett about a mysterious frogman Soviet sailors had spotted surfacing and two visiting vessels, Burnett said he knew nothing about it.

A day later a British police official removed four pages from the Salyport Hotel register, including the registration of Crabbe and Smith.

Clearings of information here and there have built up this puzzling account of the events that led up to Crabbe's disappearance. The diver and a "Mr. Smith" arrived at the port of Portsmouth April 17 and checked in at the Salyport Hotel. From the hotel Crabbe wrote his aged mother that he was "going on a job, but it's a simple mission. He told her not to worry and that he'd be back in about two days."

The following day the Soviet ships pulled into port. On April 20 the Soviet commander, Rear Adm. Y. F. Kotov, questioned British near Adm. P. W. Burnett about a mysterious frogman Soviet sailors had spotted surfacing and two visiting vessels, Burnett said he knew nothing about it.

A day later a British police official removed four pages from the Salyport Hotel register, including the registration of Crabbe and Smith.

Clearings of information here and there have built up this puzzling account of the events that led up to Crabbe's disappearance. The diver and a "Mr. Smith" arrived at the port of Portsmouth April 17 and checked in at the Salyport Hotel. From the hotel Crabbe wrote his aged mother that he was "going on a job, but it's a simple mission. He told her not to worry and that he'd be back in about two days."

The following day the Soviet ships pulled into port. On April 20 the Soviet commander, Rear Adm. Y. F. Kotov, questioned British near Adm. P. W. Burnett about a mysterious frogman Soviet sailors had spotted surfacing and two visiting vessels, Burnett said he knew nothing about it.

A day later a British police official removed four pages from the Salyport Hotel register, including the registration of Crabbe and Smith.

Clearings of information here and there have built up this puzzling account of the events that led up to Crabbe's disappearance. The diver and a "Mr. Smith" arrived at the port of Portsmouth April 17 and checked in at the Salyport Hotel. From the hotel Crabbe wrote his aged mother that he was "going on a job, but it's a simple mission. He told her not to worry and that he'd be back in about two days."

Property Damage Runs To Millions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Weekend tornadoes and violent storms gouged destructive trails across parts of the nation, leaving 13 dead, at least 270 injured and millions of dollars property damage.

The Weather Bureau said the threat of violent weather had passed today.

Disastrous windstorms in the Cleveland area killed six persons, injured at least 69 and caused property damage estimated by police at "several million dollars."

Six others were killed and more than 200 injured by 19 separate tornadoes that roared down on Michigan. Damage at Flint alone was estimated by authorities at police at "several million dollars."

Northern Ohio reported one other storm death when a youth drowned in a flooded drainage ditch.

At least 1,300 civil defense auxiliary police and other volunteers aided authorities in directing traffic in the Cleveland area and clearing the streets of debris.

Mayor Frank P. Celeste of the Cleveland suburb of Lakewood estimated damage there at more than 1 1/2 million dollars. Lakewood police said more than 600 trees were felled by the storm.

About 1,300 civil defense auxiliary police and other volunteers aided authorities in directing traffic in the Cleveland area and clearing the streets of debris.

Two hundred Flint homes and a score of business establishments were either leveled or badly damaged. Overcrowded Flint hospitals took care of 107 injured persons.

The Michigan tornadoes, in addition to hitting Flint, struck the

Byrnes Says Supreme Court Power Grab Must Be Curbed

WASHINGTON (AP)—James E. Byrnes, a former associate justice of the Supreme Court, said today the court "must be curbed."

"Power Intoxicates Men," Byrnes said in a copyrighted article in the magazine U. S. News & World Report. "It is never voluntarily surrendered. It must be taken from them. The Supreme Court must be curbed."

Byrnes, a member of the high court in 1941-42, also is a former member of the Senate and of the House and the holder of various high offices in the Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman administrations, including the Secretary of State in the latter. His most recent public office was as Governor of South Carolina.

Byrnes assailed as a " usurpation of Power" the Supreme Court's decision outlawing racial segregation in the public schools and hinted that the decision may not have been unanimous, as was announced at the time it was handed down two years ago last week.

Noting that the court continued from one year's term until the next the five cases which were consolidated for purposes of the decision, Byrnes wrote that "had the court been unanimous... such an opinion would have been written within a few months," and he continued, "Instead, after many

MR. BYRNES

Actress Wins Degree At 42

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Remember Evelyn Venable, the slender, lovely actress who often supplied the romantic interest in Will Rogers' movies of the '30's?

Her name today was on a list of 82 students at UCLA who were named to Phi Beta Kappa, the scholastic honor fraternity.

Now 42 and the wife of movie cameraman Hal Mohr, she attends classes at the big university with her two coed daughters. She won the coveted key for a major in Greek and Latin classes.

She retired at the height of her career to become a wife and mother. She explained why she went back to college.

"My daughters (DeJores, 29, and Rosalia, 19) are grown now and I just decided to enter a new field—teaching. And besides the moment presented a perfect opportunity to pick up where I left off many years ago."

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Two Israelis were ordered to trial by a Tel Aviv magistrate today on charges of "preparing an attempt to change by force the constitutional law of a foreign power."

What's Inside

Business	14A
Classified	13-15B
Comics	12B
Editorials	6A
Features	4B
Improve Your Memory	12A
Obituaries	2B
Radio-TV	6A
Serial	10A
Sports	10-11B
Theater	9B
Women	6-9B

Select FOREMOST Milk Products at your favorite store—ADV.

months, the court announced that the cases should be re-argued and counsel should direct their arguments to certain questions."

Declaring that "we can only speculate as to how the court reached its decision," Byrnes said the framers of the Constitution and members of Congress who approved the 14th Amendment contemplated school segregation. The court relied on the 14th Amendment in its integration decision.

Byrnes said the only relevant change in conditions since the adoption of the 14th Amendment "was that several million Negroes had migrated to the big cities in northern states and constituted the balance of political power in several states."

Quoting Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) in support of his arguments, Byrnes asserted that the court had reversed the law of the land "upon no authority other than some books written by a group of psychologists about whose qualifications we know little and about whose loyalty to the United States there is grave doubt."

Noting two other recent decisions by the court which struck down state sedition laws and which denied New York City the right to fire a teacher who cited the Fifth Amendment unless it gave him a full hearing, Byrnes said:

"The usurpation by the court of the power to amend the Constitution and destroy state governments may impair our progress and take our freedom."

"The present trend brings joy to Communists and their fellow travelers who want to see all power centered in the federal government, because they can more easily influence one government in Washington than the 48 governments in 48 states."

Lengthened Training To Lighten DI Strain

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—The Marine Corps recruit depot here has announced changes in its training program to take pressure off its drill instructors, one of whom will be tried by court-martial next month in connection with the drowning of six recruits.

Brig. Gen. Wallace M. Greene, who was put in command of the recruit training program here after the previous 10, said yesterday the program is being stretched to 12 weeks, compared with the previous 10.

Greene said that the drill instructors have worked from dawn until late at night every day under the 10 weeks program. "The new system, he added, will give the instructors the equivalent of two weeks free time and will give the recruits that much free time from the tough basic training schedule.

Greene also said the vehicles are being assigned to the recruit training battalions for the use of sergeants in picking up platoon laundry and mail. Before this, they have had to use their own cars for errand running.

S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKean, 31, Worcester, Mass., who led the fatal march, is awaiting court-martial after the June 14 on charges of manslaughter, possessing alcoholic beverages, drinking in the presence of a recruit and "oppression of recruits" by taking them on the night march without authorization.

"HOLLYWOOD MOTHERS OF THE Year," Betty Hutton, Rosemary Clooney, Jane Allen, Betty Grable, Deborah Kerr and Ann Blythe are shown (left to right) backstage prior to receiving their awards on a Hollywood television show after being selected by the Westwood Chapter of the City of Hope, a non-profit hospital foundation.

Our Weather

Mostly sunny today, partly cloudy tonight. Partly cloudy with scattered showers or thunderstorms tomorrow and tomorrow night and followed by a little cooler, Wednesday partly cloudy and warm.

Low this morning — 65
Low tomorrow morning — 68
High yesterday — 92
High today — 94
High tomorrow — 86
Sunrise, 5:20 a.m.; sunset, 7:20 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2-A

BACK TO WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flew back into Washington today after spending Mother's Day with Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Ford, at his Pennsylvania farm.