

THIS CLOSE-UP view shows damage to the bow of the battleship Wisconsin after she tied up in port at Norfolk. In background is the battleship New Jersey. The Wisconsin rammed the escort destroyer Eaton off Cape Henry in a dense fog Sunday. (AP)

Indiana Has Spotlight

Primary Elections Draw Voters In Five States

Record System For Juveniles Being Changed

Youth Bureau, Court Work Out New Plan

By ANN SAWYER
Charlotte News Staff Writer

A "receipt system" designed to prevent future discrepancies in records of the Youth Bureau and the Juvenile Court Social Work Division was agreed on today.

Beginning immediately, the supervisor of the social work division will notify the directors of the Youth Bureau in writing of the receipt of every offense report.

The system was worked out today in a conference between Supervisor Eugene Deal and Lt. Neal Forney, director of the City Police Department's Youth Bureau.

Such a plan was formed after the Youth Bureau stated that 92 juvenile repeaters had committed 300 offenses. The Juvenile Court Social Work Division, which handles juveniles after they are apprehended by police, found only 220 offenses attributed to the specified 92 juveniles.

The Youth Bureau contended that the offense reports had been transferred to the Social Work Division, which is a part of the Welfare Dept., but Welfare Superintendent Wallace Kurak said that the reports had been received by his department that they would have been filed.

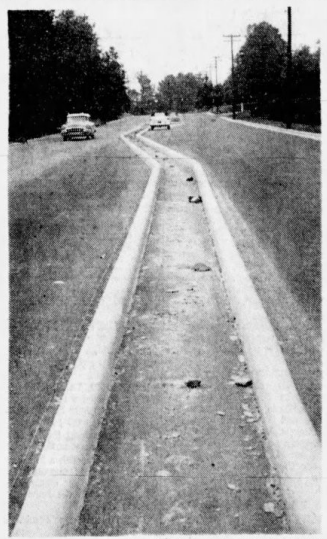

Starting today, Supervisor Deal will send a memorandum to Lt. Forney when an offense report arrives on his desk. The memorandum will carry the name of the child involved, sex, age and address, nature of offense, the offense report date it is received at Mr. Deal's office.

It was agreed during the morning conference that the Youth Bureau will not consider the procedure of referral completed until the memo is received by it.

Mr. Deal said that a carbon copy of the memorandum will be sent to the child's social case work record along with the offense report.

It is believed that the receipt system will prevent future discrepancies in the records of the two organizations which handle juveniles. As was pointed out by Mr. Deal, the plan places the responsibility directly with the supervisor and director, and not with their workers.

Under the present setup, the Youth Bureau apprehends juvenile offenders and refers them to the Juvenile Court Social Work Division for action.

(News Staff Photo by Tom Franklin-Franklin)

WHAT MAKES THOSE ZIG-ZAGS?

There's nothing destructive about this "bullet-nose." As a matter of fact, it is designed for safety. You're looking at Providence Rd., the city's spanking new, wide-thoroughfare and subject of much talk last year. It is nearly completed now and the "bullet-nose" is a part of it.

The top photo shows how it will work. You are traveling in the left lane and want to turn left. At the intersection you swing a little more to the left in another lane, a turning lane, carved out of the plot in the middle. There won't be any cars piling up behind you and you won't stop traffic. You turn into the left turning lane and await your chance to cut across the street.

The turning lane makes a third lane on Providence. Cars travel south and north on two lanes each way, plus the third lane on each side at the corners for turning only. The lower photo shows a car as it approaches an intersection. It is ready to turn left while other lanes of traffic move past with no hitches.

Tydings Holds Edge In Maryland Election

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five states held primary elections today in the wake of yesterday's Maryland primary in which Democrats apparently gave Millard Tydings an edge in his fight to regain the U. S. Senate seat he lost in 1950.

Residents of Indiana, Ohio, Florida, West Virginia and New Mexico were balloting today, but national interest centered chiefly on the relative Republican-Democrat vote in Indiana.

Republicans expected to get most, as usual, but Democrats hoped for a substantial farm vote switchover. Relative performances of President Eisenhower on the Republican and Sen. Estes Kefauver on the Democratic side were sure to be watched closely.

In yesterday's Maryland voting, nearly complete returns gave Tydings a narrow popular vote lead over George P. Mahoney, challenging him for the Democratic nomination for the seat now held by Republican Sen. Butler.

Reports from 1,261 of 1,277 precincts gave Tydings 138,915 votes to 131,219 for Mahoney. The popular vote could be the deciding factor since they were tied 76-76 in early votes for nomination—similar to presidential electoral votes.

But Mahoney forces talked of possible recounts in subdivisions where the popular vote was close. Mahoney, a Baltimore contractor, could win if he gained more early votes—which go to the candidate getting most votes in a subdivision.

Butler unseated Tydings in 1950 after a bitter campaign. Butler himself handles won GOP renomination yesterday.

Maryland democrats gave their 15 national convention votes to Kefauver, who was opposed only by an unopposed delegate. He won by a much narrower margin than in the same race four years ago.

President Eisenhower defeated an unopposed GOP slate by a heavy margin.

Highlights of today's primaries: INDIANA — In presidential preference voting, Eisenhower had little opposition on the GOP side and Kefauver none on the Democratic side. But the turnout was viewed as a sort of popularity test.

INDIANA — In presidential preference voting, Eisenhower had little opposition on the GOP side and Kefauver none on the Democratic side. But the turnout was viewed as a sort of popularity test.

INDIANA — In presidential preference voting, Eisenhower had little opposition on the GOP side and Kefauver none on the Democratic side. But the turnout was viewed as a sort of popularity test.

INDIANA — In presidential preference voting, Eisenhower had little opposition on the GOP side and Kefauver none on the Democratic side. But the turnout was viewed as a sort of popularity test.

INDIANA — In presidential preference voting, Eisenhower had little opposition on the GOP side and Kefauver none on the Democratic side. But the turnout was viewed as a sort of popularity test.

INDIANA — In presidential preference voting, Eisenhower had little opposition on the GOP side and Kefauver none on the Democratic side. But the turnout was viewed as a sort of popularity test.

Judge Raps Marine Corps For Lack Of Cooperation

By HARRY SHUFORD
Charlotte News Staff Writer

Judge Wilson Warlick sentenced two AWOL Marines today after making official note of lack of cooperation from the Marine Corps in dealing with offenders from their ranks.

He read into the record, in Western District Federal Court this morning, that the Marine Corps refused to cooperate in possible rehabilitation of the two men, both juveniles. He added that this action was typical of response in such cases for the past six or seven years.

The two offenders were listed as John Lewis Iman, 17, of West Virginia, and Earl Gosney, 17, of Baltimore, Md. Both were charged with interstate transportation of stolen motor vehicle, a 1952 Nash sedan.

Judge Warlick sentenced them to 18 months in prison with the request they be examined for physical or mental ailments. They will be sent to a federal detention facility set up for juveniles.

Both Marines told the court they had been in service for only a few weeks, and both had records of having "fits" or dizzy spells, and were in the hospital at the Parris Island, S. C., base when they left there April 19.

They were picked up by a North Carolina State Highway patrolman the next day near Pineville with the stolen car.

Judge Warlick said an effort had been made to see if the Marine Corps would take the youths back for trial or treatment. But he said it was indicated the only action the Marine Corps would take would be to give them dishonorable discharges and let them go.

"They take the attitude that anytime any of their men commits a felony they do it for the purpose of getting out of the service," he commented. "Some of them undoubtedly do," he added.

Judge Warlick said that the marshal's office has stopped trying to get the Marine Corps, and the Army, to take back their offenders for trial or rehabilitation in such cases.

"But after the recent debacle at Parris Island," he continued, "I thought that maybe they would change their attitude on the subject.

"But I see they haven't." Judge Warlick said he wasn't picking a fight with anyone, rather he was just stating the facts in the case.

"I know they (branches of the armed forces) have their problems too," he said.

Board Comments

Merchants Back Sidewalk Program

By EMERY WISTER
Charlotte News Staff Writer

The sidewalks improvement program of the Chamber of Commerce, a project spotlighted in a recent series in The Charlotte News, received a pat on the back from the Charlotte Merchants Association today.

The Board of Directors of the association unanimously approved the project which has as its goal improvement of sidewalks in the midtown area.

The board gave its approval to the project after it had been explained by James H. Glenn, executive vice president of the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce.

The board not only approved the program, but commended the chamber for "originating such a worthy project."

Mr. Glenn explained to the board how the project would be carried out.

He pointed out that there were over 15 miles of sidewalks in the midtown area in which improvements and repairs are being proposed.

Motion that the board support the News-originated proposal was made by J. E. Dowd and seconded by W. W. Kale. President Hamrick was also asked to appoint a committee to assist the Chamber of Commerce in carrying the project to a successful conclusion.

He pointed out that there were over 15 miles of sidewalks in the midtown area in which improvements and repairs are being proposed.

Motion that the board support the News-originated proposal was made by J. E. Dowd and seconded by W. W. Kale. President Hamrick was also asked to appoint a committee to assist the Chamber of Commerce in carrying the project to a successful conclusion.

1955 Cotton Crop Larger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agricultural Department, in a final report on ginnings, today estimated the 1955 cotton crop at 14,721,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight valued at $2,382,000,000.

This compared with 13,696,378 bales for the 1954 crop with a value of $2,301,000,000. Both crops were grown under rigid production control programs designed to prevent accumulation of excessive supplies.

The production of cottonseed from the 1955 crop was reported at 6,088,000 tons with a value of $289,000,000 compared with 5,790,000 tons from the 1954 crop valued at $344,175,000.

The department estimated the price of cotton received by farmers at an average of 32.4 cents a pound for the 1955 crop and 33.61 cents for the 1954 crop.

The department estimated the price of cotton received by farmers at an average of 32.4 cents a pound for the 1955 crop and 33.61 cents for the 1954 crop.

The department estimated the price of cotton received by farmers at an average of 32.4 cents a pound for the 1955 crop and 33.61 cents for the 1954 crop.

IS THE STILL NOW BACK IN SERVICE?

GASTONIA — It was quite a rust on recently when Sheriff Dwight Beaman and his men covered one of the largest stills in the state.

The still wasn't dynamited as carried back to the Gaston County Courthouse and stored behind the jail.

But now there isn't any evidence left at all.

Over the weekend someone had been in and carried off barrels, copper tubing, wiring and all.

Over the weekend someone had been in and carried off barrels, copper tubing, wiring and all.

Over the weekend someone had been in and carried off barrels, copper tubing, wiring and all.

Over the weekend someone had been in and carried off barrels, copper tubing, wiring and all.

Duke Coeds Call For Desegregated Schools

DURHAM (AP) — Students of the Woman's College of Duke University last night went on record as believing "in the principles of human equality expressed in the Supreme Court decisions concerning public education, and we believe that these principles should be incorporated into the admissions policy of all institutions of higher education, public and private, and specifically in the admission policy of Duke University." The vote was 465 to 192.

The coeds in the resolution affirmed their "belief in the right of all peoples to equal opportunities for education" and their "belief that these opportunities should not be restricted by consideration of race or religion."

The resolution adopted last night was proposed at a similar meeting April 8 but was tabled.

What's Inside

- Business ..... 12A, 7B
- Classified ..... 9-11B
- Comics ..... 4B
- Editorials ..... 4B
- Features ..... 4B
- Improve Your Memory ..... 6A
- Obituaries ..... 9B
- Radio-TV ..... 3B
- Series ..... 12B
- Soap Box Derby Notes ..... 4A
- Sports ..... 4-5B
- Theaters ..... 9B
- Women ..... 9-11A

Select FOREMOST Milk Products at your favorite store.—Ady.

Mama Objects To Marriage Course Of True Love Has Rough Spots

By STAN SWINTON
ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A 21-year-old Ohio girl and a handsome Greek fishmonger who fell in love by mail came out of hiding today and said they would marry over the protests of the girl's mother.

Mrs. George Milton of Dayton, Ohio, had gone to the police, charging her chestnut-haired daughter Elaine disappeared last Saturday with John Siders, 31, while his parents planned Mrs. Milton so she could not stop them.

DAUGHTER DEFIANT — "I love John and we are going to be married," Elaine said after she and her fiancé voluntarily turned up at the police station. "I was not kidnaped. That is untrue. If my family

Freedom Of The Press

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation held a seminar for the Columbia Police Department on civil rights, including constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press.

The press was barred from the closed meeting.

The press was barred from the closed meeting.

The press was barred from the closed meeting.

The press was barred from the closed meeting.

The press was barred from the closed meeting.

The press was barred from the closed meeting.

Our Weather

Partly cloudy and cool today. Fair and cool tonight. Wednesday fair and continued cool. Low this morning ..... 56
Low tomorrow morning ..... 48
High yesterday ..... 83
High today ..... 74
High tomorrow ..... 75
Sunrise 5:36 a.m.; sunset 7:14 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2-A.