LaMarca Remains Silent On Kidnaping Accomplices

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Police resumed grilling Angelo John LaMarca today in hope of solving the mystery of what happened to little Peter Weinberger in the last hours of his life. Authorities say LaMarca has confessed kidnaping the 32-day-old baby from his Westbury, N.Y. home last July 4 and abandoning him in a roadside honeysuckle patch. LaMarca, a swarthy 31-year-old cab driver, was arrested Thursday. The infant's decomposed body was found the next day. Police said LaMarca told them he took the baby to Brooklyn after the kidnaping and left him overnight with a friend. LaMarca has remained tight-lipped about what happened between the time he seized the baby and then abandoned him. The prisoner has refused to name any "friends" who might have been involved in the kidnaping. A psychiatrist examined LaMarca Saturday. Police said the doctor reported that LaMarca was "apparently sane at the time of the kidnaping." LaMarca is charged with kidnaping, which could bring the death penalty under New York state law. The victim of the kidnaping was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger. The father is a prosperous drug salesman. The kidnaper left a note demanding $2,000 ransom. FBI agents tracked down LaMarca by comparing the handwriting on the ransom note with hundreds of thousands of signatures on public records. His signature had the same quirks as the writing on the note, they said. LaMarca's wife, Donna, was allowed to visit him Saturday.

Suez Reply By Egypt Awaited

By WILTON WYNN
CAIRO (AP)—Egypt will reply tomorrow to the request for talks on the Suez Canal crisis, an official Egyptian source said today. President Nasser is expected to agree to meet with Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies' five-nation committee selected last week by the London Suez conference to present an 18-month plan for international control. Usually reliable sources said they understood Nasser will agree to meet the committee in Cairo with the proviso that Egypt is not obligated to accept the plan. Menzies stood by in London, awaiting the reply, a message had been expected today, since sources in Cairo said it was transmitted to the Egyptian Embassy in London yesterday. Egypt's reply was framed after Nasser had a special meeting with his Cabinet yesterday. Menzies was appointed by the London Suez conference last week to head a five-nation committee to present to Nasser the plan for an international authority to operate the canal. The plan, proposed by the United States, was endorsed by 17 of the other 21 nations at the conference. ENTIRE PROBLEMS The latest Nasser said Nasser would receive Menzies and his committee in Cairo, but would insist that the entire Suez problem be discussed, not just the majority plan. India at the conference proposed that an international body be empowered only to advise Egypt in running the canal. Earlier reports said Nasser would propose a series of individual collective treaties between Egypt and the nations using the canal guaranteeing traffic through the waterway from interference. In the face of steady pressure by Britain and France for military action if negotiations fail to produce a peaceful solution, Nasser appeared to be bending his efforts to hanging onto the 100-mile waterway. NOT BELIEFING? There was a growing feeling among Egyptian officials and the public that Britain and France were not insisting about the possible use of force. A London report said roads leading to the embarkment port of Southampton were closed with convoys of military vehicles painted a desert yellow. Four freighters at the port were being loaded with ammunition and military equipment. Experienced diplomats in Moscow, however, said they believed the Soviet government's feeling is little chance the West will start a shooting war over the Suez. By a 10-1 margin, France gave a charge that Sasser's lone-handed. See NASSER on page 4-A

Governor Blisters Ike, and GOP

COLUMBIA (AP)—Gov. George B. Timmerman Jr. today blistered President Eisenhower and the Republicans and told the South Carolina Democratic convention he was sickening with the national Democratic party. His remarks came in the face of proposals to withhold the state's eight electoral votes from Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver if the Democrats should win the state in November, as they generally do in national elections. The state convention was recessed last March to give state Democrats an opportunity to size up the results of the national convention before plotting a course for the November elections. UNPLEASANT There was a big but unsuccessful pro-Eisenhower movement among South Carolina Democrats in 1952, and in 1955 they supported the States Rights candidate, Strom Thurmond, then governor of South Carolina. Timmerman told the convention he felt state Democrats were "legally and morally obligated to see that the nominees and electors for the national Democratic party are placed on the general election ballot in South Carolina." He added, however, he opposed "any gag rule that would deny to the people of our state the opportunity to express themselves." This statement apparently left open the way for adoption of a resolution embodying the sentiment of the 1952 convention, which gave Democrats permission to vote for nominees other than those of the party without jeopardizing their standing in the state organization. NOT TO RADICALS The governor qualified the statement by declaring he was "not prepared to turn the state Democratic party over to any radical element or other irresponsible group who might sell out our state and its people for a few political crumbs at a future national Democratic convention." Lighting into the Eisenhower administration, he said. "Three years and eight months of Republican administration have spawned an old breed of political philosophers well-known to the South—plutocratic parasites who prey on the minds and emotions of minorities and who get politically fat on division and controversy." "We have gone far down that road toward the destruction of our Constitutional government with Mr. Eisenhower at the wheel," said Chief Justice Warren in the back seat and Richard Milhous Nixon took the horn. Timmerman declared that Eisenhower had ordered "racial mixing" in the schools of the District of Columbia and on federal reservations "in defiance of the racial mixing of helpless war veterans in government hospitals" and issued "similar orders for the military." As Timmerman spoke, party leaders were lining up to hail a drive for "independence" from the national party by several dissatisfied county delegations at the reconvened convention. N. C. Swimmer Covers 20 Miles NIAGARA—ON THE Lake, Ont.—(Marathon swimmer Jim Woods of Candler, N.C., jumped into the Ontario lake at 8 a.m. (EDT) today in an attempt to swim to Toronto. At 10 a.m. he was reported to be 12 miles from Toronto after covering 20 miles of the 32 between here and the Toronto waterfront. It is his third attempt of the summer to beat the lake. Woods, disheartened because he was selected by the newly formed Lake Ontario marathon swim committee to take part in a cross-lake race scheduled to begin today, had said he would make his attempt alone. "I'm going and nobody's going to stop me. I can swim a long way for this," he said. Plan Raps Integrated Va. Schools

By JOHN F. DAFFRON
RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Gov. Thomas B. Stanley today handed the Virginia General Assembly his plan to prevent a breakthrough in the school segregation line by cutting off state money from any locality that may seek to buck the system. With two Virginia localities—Charlottesville and Arlington—already under U. S. District court orders to begin desegregation this coming term and next, Stanley called for adoption of a program aimed at giving counties, cities and towns the choice of continued racial separatism in the schools or state-supported public schools at all. "There should be no reason to leave any school in Virginia under this legislation," Stanley told the opening joint House and Senate meeting of the special school session. "If any school is closed, it will be because a person or persons, of one race seeks to force his way into a school in which the opposite race is taught." "BONUS" PLAN Thus, Stanley called for adoption of a plan that could mean "voluntary segregation" with state school money as a sort of "bonus" for volunteers. The Stanley plan, approved 19-12 by the House and 19-12 by the Senate, divided on whether the state money award is the best artillery to defend the administration's stand on policy on segregation, were called to their task by these words of the governor. "The people of Virginia and their elected representatives are confronted with the gravest prob-

Texas Election Result Uncertain

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—U.S. Sen. Price Daniel led by a hair's breadth today and Ralph Yarborough's backers promised a fight for every ballot in tomorrow's official canvass of Saturday's Texas Democratic gubernatorial primary election. The latest tabulation gave Daniel 637,732 votes and Yarborough 685,209, or a lead of 2,523. That was a lead of 0.8 per cent of the votes reported to the Texas Election Bureau, unofficial vote-counting agency set up by news media. Daniel led by about 165,000 votes, but failed to gain a majority. In Saturday's runoff, Yarborough gained support from many counties which went to Daniel in July. He also found a great deal of support in counties which supported the third place man in the first primary, former U.S. Sen. and Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel. The Democratic nomination usually is equivalent to election in Texas. If Daniel wins the nomination, Texas could end up with a Republican governor. Daniel has said he will resign from the Senate in time for a special election if he wins the gubernatorial nomination. No majority is needed in such an election. A lone Republican facing several Democrats, who would split the vote, would have a strong advantage. Daniel's term has two years to run. The nominee for governor normally selects the powerful state executive committee. A Yarborough victory would be expected to lead to a committee strongly loyal to the national party. A pro-Daniel executive committee could leave national party leaders uncertain as to the state's solid support.

W. E., Union Okay Terms

NEW YORK (AP)—Western Electric Co. announced today agreement on a new one-year contract covering 18,000 telephone equipment installers throughout the nation. It was learned later at negotiation headquarters that the union, the Communications Workers of America, joined in the announcement. A company spokesman said the new pact provides for a general wage increase of 8 to 12 cents an hour plus fringe benefits. He added that the agreement, although not reached until this morning, was dated yesterday for the purpose of retroactivity. Other provisions of the contract include: Additional holidays in some regions, bringing most of the company's installers to seven holidays a year; two additional wage boosts through reclassification of some regions into higher-paid regions; and a slight narrowing of the gap between the top automatic progressive wage rate and the top merit wage rate. The union contract expired eight days ago and intensive negotiations have been taking place since a walkout by the installers. The installers handle equipment in central exchanges of the Bell Telephone System, of which Western Electric is the manufacturing and equipment arm. (Western Electric employs here, who walked off their jobs last week, returned to their posts today. Over a hundred workers in Charlotte and surrounding towns were involved.)

Adlai, Estes Open Grass-Roots Tour

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver start moving today on the first stage of what they predict will be the greatest grass-roots campaign of all time. The aim is to upset the political pollsters and overthrow the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket with person-to-person appeals to the voters in day-and-night stumping tours, primarily by automobile. Santa Fe, N.M., is the first stop on a grueling flying trip they are making this week to lay the groundwork for their intensive campaigning. They will be seeking Thursday and into Chicago, Friday. In Chicago, the Democratic presidential nominee will hold his first scheduled post-convention 90-days-barred news conference after the meeting there Friday. Stevenson and Sen. Kefauver, his vice presidential running mate, take off from Midway Airport in nearby Chicago on a flight expected to put them in Santa Fe at 11:30 a.m. MST for a conference with leaders of seven states. New Mexico Gov. John Stinson will preside over the meeting of Democrats from New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Wyoming, Arkansas and Arizona. The candidates took their political experts along on the chart-topping flight which included more than a score of newsmen. DIRECT STRATEGY The top strategists are James E. Finnegan of Philadelphia, Stevenson's campaign director, and Ivy Bakkin, Chicago lawyer, his chief deputy. Others in the party are F. Joseph Donohue, Wash-

Youths Stage Mammoth Riot

OXNARD, Calif. (AP)—A large group of teen-agers, angered over the arrest of one of their stage-mammoth riot in the Colonia district last night. It took nearly 50 officers an hour and a half to quell the outbreak. A 16-year-old girl was hospitalized with head injuries received in the fighting. A number of officers were struck by beer cans and the windows of several police cars were smashed. The riot was touched off, police reported, when an attempt was made to arrest a drunken youth at an outdoor festival. When the protests of his friends proved of no avail, the officers said, someone threw a beer bottle and the melee began. The officers said they fought their way out of the mob and summoned help. When additional officers failed to cope with the situation, off-duty reinforcements were dispatched from the sheriff's office, the California Highway Patrol, Ventura and Port Hueneme police departments and the Navy Shore Patrol. Finally, the officers said, tear gas was successful in dispersing the crowd. No arrests were made, but tonight an additional 23 policemen were called to the scene to help round up juveniles violating the curfew.

Mixed School Opens Quietly

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—Clinton High School today began the first state-supported secondary school in Tennessee to admit Negroes. A handful of Negro boys and girls reported for classes along with about 750 whites. Principal J. B. Jarrard said there was "no trouble." "There were a few people congregated outside the building but they made no effort to prevent anyone from entering," Jarrard said. The principal said the exact number of Negroes on hand was uncertain. "We enrolled 15, but I don't know what all of them reported this morning," he added. "The Negroes were admitted to the school in compliance with a court order issued last winter by U. S. District Judge Robert L. Taylor at Knoxville. The local police called John Kasper, of Washington, D.C., who offered $5,000 bond on charges of inciting to riot and vagrancy. Police said Kasper had distributed inflammatory literature, had conducted a door-to-door canvassing urging parents to picket the school and had conducted a "mass meeting" urging students to boycott classes. About 25 or 30 persons were reported to have attended the meeting. Mayor W. E. Lewallen said he expected no trouble but has ordered all police on duty.
