Traffic Safety School Will Work If...

BY ALL means, let's have a safety school for traffic law violators. The proposal advanced yesterday by Carolina Motor Club is fundamentally sound... There are pitfalls to be avoided, however.

judge can do more to undermine efficient enforcement of traffic laws than any other individual or group of individuals... Some motorists have to be dealt with in roughly the same manner that one hushes a puppy.

Jimmy's Rocket Needs A Parachute

JIMMY BLACKMON'S rocket may never rocket. It may just sit there in the basement at 1815 Club Rd. for years or be moved up to an attic where youthful things are preserved in dust while people grow old downwards.

He deals with combustion chambers, dry ice cooling systems and launching platforms. He also bestirs the ponderous Penton and the Civil Aeronautics Administration. He gets more attention than the Wright Brothers.

Parris Island: Trial Or Opinion Poll?

IS THE showy inquisition at Parris Island really necessary? The jury of Marine officers trying Sgt. Matthew McKoon now have before them the personal verdict of Marine Corps Commandant Randolph McC. Pate.

to see that Sgt. McKoon was "tried and punished to the fullest extent" of the law. The punishment he now proposes would fit all sorts of indiscretions but no crime.

Stassen And Piety On The Potomac

POOR Harold Stassen! For suggesting the Republican convention shop around for a better bargain than Richard Nixon, he has been hatched by GOP Chairman Leonard Hall, hoisted at by amused Democrats and joshed unceasingly by Washington reporters.

home after fighting the good fight for Ike's program in the Senate? Or the transfer of Douglas McKay, under the right banner, to a fierce senatorial contest with Wayne Morse out in Oregon?

WATCH DREAMS

A BATTERY-POWERED watch will be on the market before long, a Lancaster (Pa.) manufacturer was telling congressmen recently; a watch that will run for a year before its battery, the size of an aspirin tablet, runs down.

it during your shower, it would run down and stop. But no, electricity on the wrist is doubtless best. That little battery could be put to all sorts of convenient uses.

Confused? Here Are The Keys To The School Issue

By JULIAN SCHEER

News Staff Writer

IN THE world of adolescents, Junior is supposed to be mixed up. However, since last week's special session of the General Assembly, it appears that Junior's parents are even more mixed up.

an "intolerable" situation may exist in the minds of some. Therefore, these people may petition for an election. If 15 per cent of the people in the school district ask for a public vote, an election will be held.

Under the plan the state will pay a flat sum toward their tuition in a "private, nonsectarian school." The public's role in setting this program in operation has been confused.

The Spotlight On Teenagers

Route 11, Charlotte Editor, The News. WE, THE girls of Derita, read about the dummy that was put out by some of our boys. We really don't blame them, although it could have been prevented.

Boys Of Derita Can Do Something Useful

Editors, The News: BOYS OF Derita, you say, "There is not one thing in the way of constructive entertainment in Derita." And yet you must have a very nice little town that certainly could be made beautiful with the cooperation of boys like the 20 or 30 boys who congregate around Roy's Grill.

Drew Pearson's Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON ESTES Kefauver's decision to draw in favor of Adlai Stevenson came only after much soul-searching and a hot all-day session with his cohorts who came to Washington from all over the U.S.

'Boy Wonder' Stassen Gets Full Treatment From Press

WASHINGTON THESE television press conferences with hot shots, like Harold Stassen, are weak and wishy-washy things compared to the genuine article. Everybody's too polite and considerate on the air.

Throwing In The Towel

It is a man never defeat when he goes down fighting, concluded the fiery labor leader from Los Angeles, "and I came here to fight, not to bury Kefauver." Despite this plea, a heavy majority of Kefauver advisers at the closed door session agreed that he withdraw in favor of Stevenson for the sake of Democratic harmony. He concurred in their advice.
